Arab-American Women's Writing and Performance Somaya Sami Sabry, 2011-04-30 The public image of Arabs in America has been radically affected by the war on terror But stereotypes of Arabs manifested for instance in Orientalist representations of Sheherazade and the Arabian Nights in Hollywood have prevailed for much longer Here Somaya Sabry argues that the Arab American experience has been powerfully shaped by racial discourse and Orientalism and is further complicated today by hostility towards Arabs in post 9 11 America She shows how Arab American women writers and performers confront and subvert racial stereotypes in this charged context by recasting representations of Sheherazade Shedding new light on Arab

American women's negotiations of identity this book will be indispensable for all those interested in the Arab American world American ethnic studies and race as well as diaspora studies women's studies literature cultural studies and performance studies

The Time Between Places Pauline Kaldas, 2010-11-01 This collection of twenty stories delves into the lives of Egyptian characters from those living in Egypt to those who have immigrated to the United States With subtle and eloquent prose the complexities of these characters are revealed opening a door into their intimate struggles with identity and place We meet people who are tempted by the possibilities of America and others who are tempted by the desire to return home Some are in the throes of re-creating themselves in the new world while others seem to be embedded in the loss of their homeland Many of these characters although physically located in either the United States or Egypt have lives that embrace both cultures A Game of Chance follows the actions of a young man when he wins the immigration lottery and then must decide whether or not to change his life Cumin and Coriander takes us inside a woman's thoughts as she tries to come to terms with the path her life has taken while working as a cook for American expatriates in Egypt The Top enters the mind of a man whose immigration results in a loss of identity and sanity These compelling stories pull us into the lives of many different characters and offer us striking insights into the Arab American experience

Ethnic American Literature Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2015-02-17 Unlike any other book of its kind this volume celebrates published works from a broad range of American ethnic groups not often featured in the typical canon of literature This culturally rich encyclopedia contains 160 alphabetically arranged entries on African American Asian American Latino a and Native American literary traditions among others The book introduces the uniquely American mosaic of multicultural literature by chronicling the achievements of American writers of non-European descent and highlighting the ethnic diversity of works from the colonial era to the present The work features engaging topics like the civil rights movement bilingualism assimilation and border narratives Entries provide historical overviews of literary periods along with profiles of major authors and great works including Toni Morrison Maxine Hong Kingston Maya Angelou Sherman Alexie A Raisin in the Sun American Born Chinese and The House on Mango Street The book also provides concise overviews of genres not often featured in textbooks like the Chinese American novel African American young adult literature Mexican American autobiography and Cuban American poetry

The Rise of the Arab American Left Pamela E. Pennock, 2017-02-07 In this first history of Arab American activism in the 1960s Pamela Pennock brings to the forefront one of the most overlooked minority groups in the history of American social movements Focusing on the ideas and strategies of key Arab American organizations and examining the emerging alliances between Arab American and other anti-imperialist and antiracist movements Pennock sheds new light on the role of Arab Americans in the social change of the era She details how their attempts to mobilize communities in support of Middle Eastern political or humanitarian causes were often met with suspicion by many Americans including heavy surveillance by the Nixon administration Cognizant that they would be unable to influence policy by traditional electoral means Arab

Americans through slow coalition building over the course of decades of activism brought their central policy concerns and causes into the mainstream of activist consciousness With the support of new archival and interview evidence Pennock situates the civil rights struggle of Arab Americans within the story of other political and social change of the 1960s and 1970s By doing so she takes a crucial step forward in the study of American social movements of that era

Shapeshifting Subjects Kelli D. Zaytoun,2022-06-14 Kelli D Zaytoun draws on Gloria Anzald a s thought to present a radically inclusive and expansive approach to selfhood creativity scholarship healing coalition building and activism Zaytoun focuses on Anzald a s naguala shapeshifter a concept of nagualismo This groundbreaking theory of subjectivity details a dynamic relationship between inner work and public acts that strengthens individuals roles in social and transformative justice work Zaytoun s detailed emphasis on la naguala and Nahua metaphysics specifically brings much needed attention to Anzald a s long overlooked contribution to the study of subjectivity The result is a women and queer of color feminist focused work aimed at scholars in many disciplines and intended to overcome barriers separating the academy from everyday life and community An original and moving analysis Shapeshifting Subjects draws on unpublished archival material to apply Anzald a s ideas to new areas of thought and action

Immigrant Narratives Wail S. Hassan, 2014-04 Drawing upon postcolonial translation and minority discourse theory Immigrant Narratives investigates how key Arab American and Arab British writers have described their immigrant experiences and in so doing acted as mediators and interpreters between cultures and how they have forged new identities in their adopted countries

Harbors, Flows, and Migrations Anna De Biasio, Gianna Fusco, 2017-05-11 Poised between the land and the sea enabling the dynamic flow of people and goods while also figuratively representing a safe place of rest and refuge the harbor constitutes a liminal ambivalent space par excellence that has been central to the American imagination and history since the early colonial days From the mythical tales of discovery and foundation to the endless flows of migrants through the dark pages of the slave trade and the imperialistic dream of an ever expanding nation harbors both as a trope and as physical spaces powerfully signify the American experience Today at a time when ideas of border protection and policing gain political prominence in the U S and elsewhere harbors and the constellation of meanings they subsume have become an even more crucial object of critical inquiry In this volume thirty two American Studies scholars from around the world interrogate the manifold significance of ports and of the exchanges they enable or restrain casting a decentered look onto the complex positioning of the United States in its political ideological and cultural relationships with the rest of the world This collection thus offers a cutting edge interdisciplinary investigation of the U S A engaging the most recent trends in American Studies and actively participating in the international and transnational reconfiguration of the field

Scenes of the Apple Tamar Heller, Patricia Moran, 2012-02-01 Focusing on women's writing of the last two centuries Scenes of the Apple traces the intricate relationship between food and body image for women Ranging over a variety of genres including novels culinary memoirs and essays the contributors explore works by a diverse group of writers including Mary Elizabeth Braddon Toni Morrison Tsitsi Dangaremba and Jeanette Winterson as well as such nonliterary documents as discussions of Queen Victoria's appetite and news coverage of suffragettes hunger strikes Moreover in addressing works by Hispanic African African American Jewish and lesbian writers the book explodes the myth that only white privileged and heterosexual women are concerned with body image and shows the many cultural contexts in which food and cooking are important in women's literature. Above all, the essays pay tribute to the rich and multiple meanings of food in women's writing as a symbol for all kinds of delightful and transgressive desires.

Food, Feminisms, Rhetorics Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2017-06-19 Inspired by the need for interpretations and critiques of the varied messages surrounding what and how we eat, Food Feminisms Rhetorics collects eighteen essays that demonstrate the importance of food and food-related practices as sites of scholarly study, particularly from feminist rhetorical perspectives. Contributors analyze messages about food and bodies from what a person watches and reads to where that person shops, taken from sources mundane and literary, personal and cultural. This collection begins with analyses of the historical, cultural, and political implications of cookbooks and recipes, explores definitions of feminist food writing, and ends with a focus on bodies and cultures, both self-representations and representations of others for particular rhetorical purposes. The genres, objects, and practices contributors study are varied, from cookbooks to genre fiction, from blogs to food systems, from product packaging to paintings, but the overall message is the same: food and its associated practices are worthy of scholarly attention.

Talking Visions Ella Shohat, 2001 This multivoiced collection of essays and images presents a relational feminism of diverse communities, affiliations, and practices.

Writing With An Accent Edvige Giunta, 2016-04-30 Mary Cappello, Louise DeSalvo, Sandra M. Gilbert, Maria Mazziotti Gillan, Carole Maso, Agnes Rossi These are some of the best-known Italian American writers today. They are part of a literary tradition with mid-twentieth-century roots that began to develop in earnest in the late 1970s and early 1980s. During those decades, a number of Italian American women, such as Helen Barolini, began to publish books that depicted their perspectives on life through the critical lenses of gender, class, and ethnicity. At the end of the twentieth century, this literature finally blossomed into a fully fledged cultural movement that also took into account issues of sexuality, age, illness, and familial and societal abuse. Writing with an Accent takes a look at this vibrant literary movement by discussing those first writers of the 1970s and 1980s as well as later authors. At the center of Edvige Giunta's Writing with an Accent is the literal notion of accent, the marker of linguistic and cultural difference that separates and identifies recent immigrants to the United States. In this study, an accent symbolically embodies the differences and creative strategies through which contemporary Italian American women writers engage Italian American culture in works of fiction, poetry, and memoir. Giunta also looks at the links between the literature and art, music, film, and video produced by contemporary Italian American women. The literature of the Italian American women in Writing with an Accent is shaped by the complicated connections these authors maintain with their cultural origins, but also, and perhaps more importantly, by their feminist consciousness and politicized sense of ethnic identity. Writing with an Accent celebrates and explores a group of authors who characteristically mix the joy and pain of Italian American life to paint a multifaceted picture of Italian American women and their complex place in U.S. culture.

Imagined Identities Gönül Pultar, 2014-04-14 How are identities being forged during the age of globalization? This collection of essays by scholars from various disciplines and regions of the world discusses both the construction and deconstruction of identity in its engagement with culture ethnicity and nationhood The authors explore the tension resulting from the desire to create a new cultural space for identities that are at once national regional linguistic and religious Among the wide ranging approaches Tanja Stampfl looks at the elusiveness of cultural identity in Khaled Hosseini's The Kite Runner Dawn Morais investigates issues of ethnicity and nationality in Malaysia's tourism advertising and Cathy Waegner explores ethnic identities as globalized market commodities Throughout the volume identity is approached from a variety of sites fiction news analysis film theme parks and field work to contribute new insight and perspective to the well worn debate over what identity signifies in societies where the existence of minorities both indigenous and immigrant challenges the dominant group
