Food States And Peasants Analyses Of The Agrarian Question In The Middle East:

Food, States, And Peasants Alan Richards, 2021-11-28 One of the most serious problems facing the Middle East and North Africa is the region's growing inability to feed its expanding population. Rapidly escalating demand has made the region highly dependent on food imports and policy initiatives intended to increase domestic production have met with mixed success at best. The contributors to this volume examine the historical origins of state policies toward agriculture, recent policy changes and their effects on domestic supply and the social and political implications of these shifts. Focusing on the region's largest agricultural economies, contributors analyze Turkey's strong performance as well as Egypt's weak response to its agricultural problems. Pricing, investment strategies, irrigation policies and the impact of large-scale labor migration on agricultural sectors are discussed and a common theme of the interplay between politics and economics runs throughout.

A History of Social Justice and Political Power in the Middle East Linda T. Darling, 2013-05-02 From ancient Mesopotamia into the 20th century, the Circle of Justice as a concept has pervaded Middle Eastern political thought and underpinned the exercise of power in the Middle East. The Circle of Justice depicts graphically how a government's justice toward the population generates political power, military strength, prosperity and good administration. This book traces this set of relationships from its earliest appearance in the political writings of the Sumerians through four millennia of Middle Eastern culture. It explores how people conceptualized and acted upon this powerful insight, how they portrayed it in symbol, painting and story, and how they transmitted it from one regime to the next. Moving towards the modern day, the author shows how, although the Circle of Justice was largely dropped from political discourse, it did not disappear from people's political culture and expectations of government. The book demonstrates the Circle's relevance to the Iranian Revolution and the rise of Islamist movements all over the Middle East and suggests how the concept remains relevant in an age of capitalism. A must read for students, policymakers and ordinary citizens, this book will be an important contribution to the areas of political history, political theory, Middle East studies and Orientalism.

Economic Crisis And The Politics Of Reform In Egypt Ray Bush, 2019-04-10 This book examines the character and consequences of Egypt's economic reform and structural adjustment programme of 1991 along with the second stage of reforms in 1996. It contributes to the debates underpinning the political economy of economic reform and agricultural reform.

Global food policy report 2025: Food policy: Lessons and priorities for a changing world Swinnen, Johan, Barrett, Christopher B., 2025-05-27 Over the past 50 years, the world's food systems have evolved tremendously amid major economic, environmental and social changes. Throughout this period, policy research has played a critical role in providing evidence and analysis to inform decision-making that supports agricultural growth, better livelihoods and improved food security, nutrition and well-being for all. As a special edition marking the Institute's 50th anniversary, the 2025 Global Food Policy Report examines the evolution and impact of food policy research and assesses how it can better equip policymakers to meet future challenges and opportunities. The report's thematic and regional chapters written by leading IFPRI researchers and colleagues explore the broad range of issues and showcase research related to food systems from tenure and agriculture extension to social protection gender and nutrition to conflict political economy and agricultural innovation and more As we approach 2050 policy research and analysis will be essential to help end poverty and malnutrition by building sustainable healthy food systems Asian and African Studies

The State of World Rural Poverty Idriss Jazairy, Mohiuddin Alamgir, Theresa Panuccio, 1992 Despite almost four decades and billions of dollars in development activities we are barely in a position to track the changing dynamics of poverty or to define with conviction the processes that entrap the poor in their misery Accounting for about 90% of global poverty rural poverty through transmigration is also a main contributor to urban poverty It is in the rural areas of the world where poverty is most severe in human terms where the hunger hopelessness hardship and despair commonly associated with entrenched poverty are most pronounced where basic health services sanitation educational opportunities and other common amenities are most lacking The alleviation of rural poverty is therefore tantamount to the alleviation of global poverty in its entirety The State of World Rural Poverty offers the first comprehensive look at the economic conditions and prospects of the world's rural poor

The Cambridge History of Egypt M. W. Daly, Carl F. Petry, 1998-12-10 The Cambridge History of Egypt offers the first comprehensive English language treatment of Egyptian history through thirteen centuries from the Arab conquest to the present day The two volume survey considers the political socio economic and cultural history of the world's oldest state summarizing the debates and providing insight into current controversies As today's Egypt reclaims a leading role in the Islamic Arab and Afro Asian worlds the project stands as testimony to its complex and vibrant past Volume 2 traces Egypt's modern history from the Ottoman conquest to the end of the twentieth century A wide range of scholars from the humanities and social sciences have been brought together to explore the history of the period Their conclusions reflect the work of traditional scholarship and also indicate present trends and future directions in historical writing in Egypt States of Cultivation Elizabeth R. Williams, 2023-08-22 The final decades of the Ottoman Empire and the period of the French mandate in Syria and Lebanon coincided with a critical period of transformation in agricultural technologies and administration Chemical fertilizers and mechanized equipment inspired model farms while government officials and technocratic elites pursued new land tenure credit lending and tax collection policies to maximize revenue These policies transformed rural communities and environments and were central to projects of reform and colonial control as well as to resistance of that control States of Cultivation examines the processes and effects of agrarian transformation over more than a century as Ottoman Syrian Lebanese and French officials grappled with these new technologies albeit with different end goals Elizabeth Williams investigates the increasingly fragmented natures produced by these contrasting priorities and the results of their intersection with regional environmental limits Not only did post World War I policies realign the economic space of the mandate states but they shaped an agricultural legacy that continued to impact Syria and Lebanon post independence With this book Williams offers the first comprehensive account of the shared technocratic ideals that animated these policies and the divergent imperial goals that not only reshaped the region's agrarian institutions but produced representations of the region with repercussions well beyond the mandate's end

From Universal Food Subsidies to a Self-targeted Program Laura Tuck, Kathy Lindert, 1996-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 336 Discusses the influence of targeted credited intervention programs among participants and non participants living in program areas and compares them with poverty situations of households in non program areas The data are randomly drawn from 1 800 households in Bangladesh from both areas The analysis shows that it takes about five years for participants to rise above the poverty line and eight years to graduate from program eligibility

Nomads, Migrants and Cotton in the Eastern Mediterranean Meltem Toksöz, 2010-09-10 This book discusses the transformation of southeast Anatolia during the 19th century The analysis which revolves around cotton production in the Adana Plain enriches our knowledge of how people from different backgrounds came together to build a new social milieu in the late Ottoman period Through the analysis of the dynamics between the multi layered processes of sedentarization Egypt's experience with cotton cultivation the extension of the cultivated area via large scale landholding patterns and the establishment of the brand new port city of Mersin this book shows how former nomads and settlers many of whom had arrived there only recently created a commercially viable region almost from scratch in an age of changing state society relations

Labor and Rainfed Agriculture in West Asia and North Africa Dennis Tully, 2012-12-06 The basic objective of agricultural research at ICARDA is to enhance producer and consumer welfare through increasing the productivity stability and profitability of agriculture Improved practices must be technically ec onomically and socially suitable to farmer conditions The rainfed areas of West Asia and North Africa have highly variable environmental conditions as well as complex social and economic structures In recent years the region has been experiencing major changes in the relative availabilities and costs of the classical factors of production land labor and capital These changes have important implications for the design of new agricultural technology On the one hand the availability of labor may be an important factor determining the acceptability of new technology On the other it is important to consider the impact that technology can have on rural employment To develop a better awareness of these issues and their relevance to technology development ICARD A initiated a project on Agricultural Labor and Tech nological Change The first stage of the project is published here it is a review of available literature on selected issues of regional importance com bined with more detailed analyses of the situations of eight countries with important rainfed agricultural sectors ICARDA greatly appreciates the financial assistance of the Ford Foun dation which allowed us to support the execution of the study and publi cation of its findings We also appreciate the great efforts of the authors in the face of often limited data and facilities

Mandated Landscape Roza El-Eini, 2004-11-23 In this ground breaking authoritative study a highly documented and incisive analysis is made of the galvanising changes wrought to the people and landscape of British Mandated Palestine 1929 1948 Using a comprehensive and interdisciplinary approach the book s award winning author examines how the British imposed their rule dominated by the clashing dualities of their Mandate obligations towards the Arabs and the Jews and their own interests The rulers Empire wide conceptions of the White man s burden and preconceptions of the Holy Land were potent forces of change influencing their policies Lucidly written Mandated Landscape is also a rich source of information supported by numerous maps tables and illustrations and has 66 appendices a considerable bibliography and extensive index With a theoretical and historical backdrop the ramifications of British rule are highlighted in their impact on town planning agriculture forestry land the partition plans and a case study presenting discussions on such issues as development ecological shock law and the controversial division of village lands as the British operated in a politically turbulent climate often within their own administration This book is a major contribution to research on British Palestine and will interest those in Middle East history geography development and colonial postcolonial studies
