 atmosphere packaging in which a variety of food products are packaged under selective mixtures of atmospheric gases but without the on going maintenance control of the gas mixture Development of packaging systems and films that are selectively permeable to specific gases has been the key element in the commercialization of controlled and modified atmosphere packaging of foods It may not be far from the truth to say that since then there has been an explosion of activities around MAP CAP especially in research and development into various aspects of this technology The application of MAP to some bakery products fresh fruits and salads and fresh meats and meat products has reached a significant level both in Europe and North America The increasing consumer demand for fresh or near fresh products and convenient microwavable foods has added impetus to the growth of MAP CAP technology It is therefore timely that a comprehensive book that provides scientific background and practical applications of the technology should be written      Elementary Food Science Richard
