Fabrication Of Social Order A Critical Theory Of Police Power:

A Critical Theory of Police Power Mark Neocleous, 2021-01-12 Putting police power into the centre of the picture of capitalism The ubiquitous nature and political attraction of the concept of order has to be understood in conjunction with the idea of police Since its first publication this book has been one of the most powerful and wide ranging critiques of the police power Neocleous argues for an expanded concept of police able to account for the range of institutions through which policing takes place These institutions are concerned not just with the maintenance and reproduction of order but with its very fabrication especially the fabrication of a social order founded on wage labour By situating the police power in relation to both capital and the state and at the heart of the politics of security the book opens up into an understanding of the ways in which the state administers civil society and fabricates order through law and the ideology of crime The discretionary violence of the police on the street is thereby connected to the wider administrative powers of the state and the thud of the truncheon to the dull compulsion of economic relations A Critical Theory of Police Power Mark Neocleous, 2021

The Fabrication of Social Order Mark Neocleous, 2000-06-20 Anyone who considers questions of power cannot help but be struck by the ubiquitous nature emotional force and political pull of the concept of order The Fabrication of Social Order examines the role of policing in the fabrication of order After an initial exploration of the original relationship between police state power and the question of order Neocleous focuses on the ways in which eighteenth century liberalism refined and narrowed the concept of the police a process which masked the power of capital and broader issues of social control In doing so he challenges the way liberalism came to define policing solely in terms of the question of crime and the rule of law This liberal definition created a limited and fundamentally misleading understanding of policing which remains in use today In contrast Neocleous argues for an expanded concept of police adequate to the expansive set of institutions through which policing takes place These institutions are concerned not just with the maintenance or reproduction of order but with its fabrication especially the fabrication of a social order based on wage labour This project he argues should be understood as the project of social security Grasping this point allows a fuller understanding of the ways in which the state polices and secures civil society and how order is fabricated through law and administration Southern and Postcolonial Perspectives on Policing, Security and Social Order Roxana Pessoa Cavalcanti, Peter Squires, Zoha Waseem, 2024-11-12 Postcolonial legacies continue to impact upon the Global South and this edited collection examines their influence on systems of policing security management and social ordering Expanding the Southern Criminology agenda the book critically examines social harms violence and war crimes human rights abuses environmental degradation and the criminalization of protest The book asks how current states of policing came about their consequences and whose interests they continue to serve through vivid international case studies including prison struggles in Latin America and the misuse of military force Challenging current criminological thinking on the Global South the book considers how police and state overreach can undermine security and perpetuate racism and social conflict Insecure Guardians Zoha Waseem, 2022-08-19 The police force is one of the most distrusted institutions in Pakistan notorious for its corruption and brutality In both colonial and postcolonial contexts directives to confront security threats have empowered law enforcement agents while the lack of adequate reform has upheld institutional weaknesses This exploration of policing in Karachi Pakistan's largest city and financial capital reveals many colonial continuities Both civilian and military regimes continue to ensure the suppression of the policed via this institution itself established to militarily subjugate and exploit in the interests of the ruling class However contemporary policing practice is not a simple product of its colonial heritage it has also evolved to confront new challenges and political realities Based on extensive fieldwork and around 200 interviews this ethnographic study reveals a distinctly postcolonial condition of policing Mutually reinforcing phenomena of militarisation and informality have been exacerbated by an insecure state that routinely conflates combatting crime maintaining public order and ensuring national security This is evident not only in spectacular displays of violence and malpractice but also in police officers routine work Caught in the middle of the country's armed conflicts their encounters with both state and society are a story of insecurity and uncertainty Routledge

Deflem, 2022-05-12 This volume explores the theoretical and methodological maturity and diversity in reflexive accounts of criminology and criminal justice in a number of areas such as and teaching and research in criminology queer criminology the intersections of race and gender indigeneity and decolonization domestic violence and human rights Science, Culture, and Modern State Formation Patrick Carroll,2006-10-02 This highly original groundbreaking study explores the profound relationship between science and government to present a new understanding of modern state formation Beginning with the experimental science of Robert Boyle in seventeenth century England Patrick Carroll develops the concept of engine science to capture the centrality of engineering practices and technologies in the emerging mechanical philosophy He traces the introduction of engine science into colonial Ireland showing how that country subsequently became a laboratory for experiments in statecraft Carroll s wide ranging study spanning institutions political philosophy and policy implementation demonstrates that a number of new technological developments from cartography statistics and natural history to geology public health and sanitary engineering reveal how modern science came to engineer land people and the built environment into a material political state in an unprecedented way creating the modern state Shedding new light on sociology the history of science and technology and on the history of British colonial projects in Ireland from the seventeenth to the nineteenth centuries his study has implications for understanding postcolonial occupations and nation building ventures today and on contemporary dilemmas such as the role of science and government in environmental sustainability This highly original groundbreaking study explores the profound relationship between science and government to present a new understanding of modern state formation Beginning with the experimental science of Robert Boyle in seventeenth century England

Rethinking the Colonial State Søren Rud,Søren Ivarsson,2017-09-06 This volume addresses the analytical challenges of the colonial state from a variety of theoretical and thematic angles and across a range of empirical cases that stretch over a vast span historically and geographically to provide a new approach to analyzing the colonial state and its governmental practices Pacifying the Homeland Brendan McQuade,2019-08-06 The United States has poured over a billion dollars into a network of interagency intelligence centers called fusion centers These centers were ostensibly set up to prevent terrorism but politicians the press and policy advocates have criticized them for failing on this account So why do these security systems persist Pacifying the Homeland travels inside the secret world of intelligence fusion looks beyond the apparent failure of fusion centers and reveals a broader shift away from mass incarceration and toward a more surveillance and police intensive system of social regulation Provided with unprecedented access to domestic intelligence centers Brendan McQuade uncovers how the institutionalization of intelligence fusion enables decarceration without fully addressing the underlying social problems at the root of mass incarceration The result is a startling analysis that contributes to the debates on surveillance mass incarceration and policing and challenges readers to see surveillance policing mass incarceration and the security state in an entirely new light The New Blackwell Companion to The City Gary Bridge,Sophie Watson,2011-02-23 This book considers the state of the city and contemporary urbanisation from a range of intellectual and international perspectives The most interdisciplinary collection of its kind Provides a contemporary update on urban thinking that builds on well established debates in the field Uses the city to explore economic social cultural environmental and political issues more broadly Includes contributions from non Western perspectives and cities Law Books in Action Angela Fernandez,Markus Dubber,2012-04-02 Law Books in Action Essays on the Anglo American Legal Treatise explores the history of the legal treatise in the common law world Rather than looking at treatises as shortcuts from law in books to law in action the essays in this collection ask what treatises can tell us about what troubled legal professionals at a given time what motivated them to write what they did and what they hoped to achieve This book then is the first study of the legal treatise as a law book in action an active text produced by individuals with ideas about what they wanted the law to be not a mere stepping stone to codes and other forms of legal writing but a multifaceted genre of legal literature in its own right practical and fanciful dogmatic and ornamental in turn This book will be of interest to legal scholars lawyers and judges as well as to anyone else with a scholarly interest in law in general and legal history in particular Resisting the Rule of Law in Nineteenth-Century Ceylon James S. Duncan,2020-06-09 This book offers in depth insights on the struggles implementing the rule of law in nineteenth century Ceylon introduced into the colonies by the British as their greatest gift The book argues that resistance can be understood as a form of negotiation to lessen oppressive colonial conditions and that the cumulative impact caused continual adjustments to the criminal justice system weighing it down and distorting it The tactical use of rule of law is explored within the three bureaucracies the police the courts and the prisons Policing was often governed at a distance due to fiscal constraints and economic priorities and the enforcement of law was often delegated to underpaid Ceylonese Spaces of resistance opened up as Ceylon was largely left to manage its own affairs Villagers minor officials as well as senior British government officials alternately used or subverted the rule of law to achieve their own goals In the courts the imported system lacked political legitimacy and consequently the Ceylonese undermined it by embracing it with false cases and information in the interests of achieving justice as they saw it In the prisons administrators developed numerous biopolitical techniques and medical experiments in order to punish prisoners bodies to their absolute lawful limit This limit was one which prison officials prisoners and doctors negotiated continuously over the decades The book argues that the struggles around rule of law can best be understood not in terms of a dualism of bureaucrats versus the public but rather as a set of shifting alliances across permeable bureaucratic boundaries It offers innovative perspectives comparing the Ceylonese experiences to those of Britain and India and where appropriate to other European colonies This book will appeal to those interested in law history postcolonial studies cultural studies cultural and political geography Putting the State on Trial Margaret E. Beare,Nathalie Des Rosiers,Abigail C. Deshman,2015-04-01 Canada is often lauded as a model democracy that values the constitutional rights of its citizens So when over a thousand people most of whom were peaceful protesters or hapless bystanders were violently arrested and then detained without charge during the G20 Summit in Toronto in 2010 many Canadians felt shock and outrage Putting the State on Trial The Policing of Protest during the G20

Summit examines the political social and economic conditions that allowed the policing of the summit to culminate in human and civil rights violations Written by a multi disciplinary group of scholars and legal practitioners this book contextualizes events before during and after the summit from a range of perspectives Although the G20 protests serve as a point of departure in every chapter the contributing authors engage with larger questions about the control of dissent the impact of the securitization and internationalization of Canadian politics the implications of legal uncertainty and the accountability vacuum

Policing Non-Citizens Leanne Weber,2013-09-11 Criminologists are increasingly turning their attention to the many points of intersection between immigration and crime control This book discusses the detection of unlawful non citizens as a distinct form of policing which is impacting on a growing range of agencies and sections of society It constitutes an important contribution not only to the literature on policing but also to the field of border control studies within criminology Drawing on the work of Clifford Shearing Ian Loader and P A J Waddington it offers new theoretical approaches to the study of police powers and practice

Police and State Crime in the Americas Daniel Gascón,Sebastián Sclofsky,Xavier Perez,Jhon Sanabria,Analicia Mejia Mesinas,2024-02-24 This book advances a much needed postcolonial framework in analyzing the police It seeks to deepen our understanding of the police role in maintaining Western global domination throughout the American region despite the violent end of colonial rule Building on Chevigny s 1995 classic study this book seeks to draw renewed attention to the role of police in perpetrating state violence and serving as the tip of the spear of state power It seeks to understand the construction of marginality and the multiple and intersecting structures of colonial domination before shining a light directly on the crimes of the state in an attempt to hold criminal state organizations to account It draws on interdisciplinary perspectives and methodologies that center marginalized and colonized experiences and allows for the development of countercolonial knowledge It speaks to academics and students in criminology sociology political science and law as well as to ethnic and area studies programs such as Chicano Latino and Latin American Studies and to police administrators and policymakers

Resisting Racial Capitalism Ida Danewid,2023-11-30 Excavates a global archive of refusal and ungovernability which challenges the statist political imagination of our time

Turkey's New State in the Making Pinar Bedirhanoglu,Çaglar Dölek,Funda Hülügü,Özlem Kaygusuz,2020-08-20 Since the Gezi uprisings in June 2013 and AKP s temporary loss of parliamentary supremacy after the June 2015 general elections sharp political clashes ascending police operations extra judicial executions suppression of the media and political opposition systematic violation of the constitution and fundamental human rights and the one man rule of President Erdogan have become the identifying characteristics of Turkish politics The failed coup attempt on 15th July 2016 further impaired the situation as the government declared emergency rule at the end of which a political regime defined as the Presidential Government System was established in July 2018 Turkey s New State in the Making examines the historical specificities of the ongoing AKP led radical state transformation in Turkey within a global legal financial ideological and coercive neoliberal context Arguing that rather than being an exception the new Turkish state has the potential to be a model for political transformations elsewhere problematizing how specific policies the AKP adapted to refract social dispositions have been radically redefining the republican democratic and secular features of the modern Turkish state Dystopia and Dispossession in the Hollywood Science Fiction Film, 1979-2017 Harry Warwick,2023-02-15 Offering a survey of Hollywood science fiction cinema from 1979 to 2017 from Ridley Scott s Alien to Denis Villeneuve s Blade Runner 2049 Dystopia and Dispossession in the Hollywood Science Fiction Film argues that the trajectory of Hollywood s dystopianism in that period is inextricable from the phenomenon of the new enclosures the new dispossessions and privatisations sweeping across the United States since the 1970s More precisely it contends that the critiques of such dispossessions elaborated before the turn of the century consider the satire of private policing in RoboCop 1987 the portrayal of commodified air in Total Recall 1990 and the nightmarish extrapolations of postmodern urbanism in Blade Runner 1982 and The Truman Show 1998 begin to disappear in films such as The Matrix 1999 The Island 2005 District 9 2009 Repo Men 2010 and The Purge 2013 the further commodification of land forest reservoir ideas even the human genome having diminished the contrast between capitalist and non capitalist spaces on which the earlier critiques depended Bringing close readings of blockbuster films into dialogue with historical and theoretical scholarship on dispossession Dystopia and Dispossession in the Hollywood Science Fiction Film proposes a new understanding of the politics of science fiction in particular and utopian thought in general Student as Producer Mike Neary,2020-07-31 Student as Producer is set between the student protests and urban riots that erupted in England in 2010 2011 and the 2017 General Election during which students and young people played a significant role by protesting the politics of austerity and by supporting the politics of Corbynism This revolutionary curriculum is framed around unlearning the law of labor and the institutions through which the law of labor is enforced including the capitalist university which seeks growth and expansion for the sake of growth neglecting the needs of students in favor of the needs of the capitalist state Through thought experiments and reference to the work of the Soviet legal theorist Evgeny Pashukanis Student as Producer searches for solutions to how cooperatives might be brought about by a sense of common purpose and social defense Mike Neary grounds his answers in a version of Marx s social theory known as a new reading of Marx as advanced by authors such as Werner Bonefeld and Moishe Postone The theory is applied to various aspects of pedagogy criminology and political sociology to create a curricula for revolutionary teaching that will aid activists who are seeking ways in which to engage critically with higher education
