Extending Themselves User Initiated Transformations Of Government Built Housing In Developing Countries:

Extending Themselves A. Graham Tipple, 2014-05-14 Many countries have large stocks of government built housing which for various reasons are in poor physical conditions and or do not conform to the expectations of occupants The occupants of such housing frequently make unauthorised but quite considerable changes and extensions transformations to their dwellings This book examines user initiated transformations to government built housing in Bangladesh Egypt Ghana and Zimbabwe surveyed in a research programme sponsored by the UK Department for International Development The 1600 dwellings surveyed show how relatively low income households are capable of supplying new rooms and services both to improve their own housing conditions and to supply rental rooms or accommodation for family members living rent free The new construction is often of at least as good quality as the original structures and sometime envelopes the original in a new skin It is clear that transformation adds accommodation and services to existing housing upgrades the housing stock and creates variety out of uniformity The study leads to policy suggestions to encourage transformations for the renewal of government housing These include the provision of loan finance the encouragement of co operation between neighbours especially in multi storey housing and the planned colonisation of open space next to the dwellings where plots are not provided For new housing it is clear that designs for new areas are only the beginning of an on going development process rather than a blueprint for once for all development

Financing Urban Shelter United Nations Human Settlements Programme, 2005 Financing Urban Shelter presents the first global assessment of housing finance systems placing shelter and urban development challenges within the overall context of macroeconomic policies and the Millennium Development Goals target on slums a significant improvement in the lives of at least 100 million slum dwellers by 2020 The report describes and analyses housing finance conditions and trends in all regions of the world including formal housing finance mechanisms microfinance and community funding highlighting their relevance to the upgrading of slums Recent shelter finance policy development is discussed at the international and national levels and directions that could be taken to strengthen shelter finance systems ere examined

Financing Urban Shelter Un-Habitat, 2013-06-17 Achieving the goals set by world leaders in the United Nations Millennium Declaration will be difficult without a significant improvement in the lives of slum dwellers and the lives of slum dwellers cannot be improved without the sound and sustainable economic development that is conducive to the establishment of a strong shelter sector As Financing Urban Shelter Global Report on Human Settlements 2005 emphasizes one of the key challenges in meeting the Millennium Declaration Goal on slums is mobilization of the financial resources necessary for both slum upgrading and slum prevention by supplying new housing affordable to lower income groups on a large scale It is my hope that by highlighting the impacts of current shelter financing systems on low income households and by identifying the types of financing mechanisms that appear to have worked for them this report will contribute to the efforts of the wide range of actors involved in improving the lives of slum dwellers including governments at the central and local levels as well as non governmental and international organizations From the Foreword by KOFI ANNAN Secretary General United Nations Financing Urban Shelter presents the first global assessment of housing finance systems placing shelter and urban development challenges within the overall context of macroeconomic policies The report describes and analyses housing finance conditions and trends in all regions of the world including formal housing finance mechanisms microfinance and community funding highlighting their relevance to the upgrading of slums Recent shelter finance policy development is discussed at the international and national levels and the directions that could be taken to strengthen shelter finance systems are examined The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date assessment of conditions and trends in the world s cities It is an essential tool and reference for researchers academics public authorities and civil society organizations around the world The preceding issues of the Global Report on Human Settlements have addressed such topics as An Urbanizing World Cities in a Globalizing World and The Challenge of Slums Published with UN HABITAT
