Extreme Cuisine:

Extreme Cuisine Jerry Hopkins, 2019-05-28 I could not have written A Cook's Tour without this book. There is so much I would have missed. So dig in. Enjoy. Eat. Eat adventurously. Miss nothing. It's all here in these pages. From the Foreword by Anthony Bourdain: Sit down for a meal with the locals on six continents; what they are eating may surprise you. Extreme Cuisine examines eating habits across the globe, showing once and for all that one man's road kill is another man's delicacy. I've tried to make this book a guide to how the other half dines and why. Over a period of twenty-five years, I've augmented my meat and potatoes upbringing in the United States to try a wide variety of regional specialties: from steamed water beetles, fried grasshoppers, and ants to sparrow bison and crocodile. I've eaten deep-fried bull's testicles in Mexico, live shrimp sushi in Hawaii, mice cooked over an open wood fire in Thailand, pig stomach soup in Singapore, minced water buffalo and yak butter tea in Nepal, stir-fried dog tongue and five penis wine in China. From the introduction by Jerry Hopkins: Dive headfirst into food culture from around the world. Join author Jerry Hopkins on a culinary and cultural tour as he explores foods that may seem bizarre and often off-putting to us. As he says: What is considered repulsive to someone in one part of the world, in another part of the world is simply considered lunch. Part travelogue, part cultural commentary and history, and part cookbook, yes, really, with Extreme Cuisine anyone can become an adventurous eater or at least learn what it's like to be one. Chapters include Mammals, Reptiles, Water Creatures, Birds, Insects, Spiders, Scorpions, Plants, Leftovers. Food Lit Melissa Brackney Stoeger, 2013-01-08 An essential tool for assisting leisure readers interested in topics surrounding food, this unique book contains annotations and read-alikes for hundreds of nonfiction titles about the joys of comestibles and cooking. Food Lit: A Reader's Guide to Epicurean Nonfiction provides a much-needed resource for librarians assisting adult readers interested in the topic of food, a group that is continuing to grow rapidly. Containing annotations of hundreds of nonfiction titles about food that are arranged into genre and subject interest categories for easy reference, the book addresses a diversity of reading experiences by covering everything from foodie memoirs and histories of food to extreme cuisine and food exposés. Author Melissa Stoeger has organized and described hundreds of nonfiction titles centered on the themes of food and eating, including life stories, history, science, and investigative nonfiction. The work emphasizes titles published in the past decade without overlooking significant benchmark and classic titles. It also provides lists of suggested read-alikes for those titles and includes several helpful appendices of fiction titles featuring food, food magazines, and food blogs. Mammal Menu Meish Goldish, 2009-01-01 Dinner's ready, come and get it. Tonight we're serving dishes from all over the world. We'll start you off with a tasty bowl of dog soup. Just make sure you save room for the main course: grilled cow's heart and raw horse meatballs served with a side of fried bat. Now that's a hearty meal. In Mammal Menu, kids will be amazed to learn about the wide variety of mammal dishes that are cooked and eaten by people from different cultures all around the globe. Large eye-popping photos, a colorful map, and fascinating fact boxes on every two-page spread are sure to delight young readers. Word of Mouth

Priscilla Parkhurst Ferguson, 2014-07-07 Today more than ever talking about food improves the eating of it Priscilla Parkhurst Ferguson argues that conversation can even trump consumption Where many works look at the production preparation and consumption of food Word of Mouth captures the language that explains culinary practices Explanation is more than an elaboration here how we talk about food says a great deal about the world around us and our place in it What does it mean Ferguson asks to cook and consume in a globalized culinary world subject to vertiginous change Answers to this question demand a mastery of food talk in all its forms and applications To prove its case Word of Mouth draws on a broad range of cultural documents from interviews cookbooks and novels to comic strips essays and films Although the United States supplies the primary focus of Ferguson's explorations the French connection remains vital American food culture comes of age in dialogue with French cuisine even as it strikes out on its own In the twenty first century culinary modernity sets haute food against haute cuisine creativity against convention and the individual dish over the communal meal Ferguson finds a new level of sophistication in what we thought that we already knew the real pleasure in eating comes through knowing how to talk about it

The Insta-Food Diet Pixie Turner, 2020-08-06 Social media is a major part of modern life Most of us can't imagine not using it and it's unrealistic to assume that's even possible We are obsessed with social media We share pictures of our food and inspect what everyone else is eating compare calories and macros and get involved in wacky and dangerous food challenges We think we're in control but most of us have no idea how much of an impact it has Did you realise that posting pics of your meal can actually make it taste better That clean eating is giving you anxiety That the influencers you follow are actually shaping government policy around food Pixie Turner is here to arm you with everything you need to know to take back control and make social media work for you

Food Security and Food Production C. Sheela Reddy, 2015-09-04 The food security of a nation is largely dependent on its ecological foundation In India competition for water land human and financial resources and the suitability of the existing institutional system in ensuring food security require the attention of both policy makers and planners Food crops have to compete for water and various other needs with commercial crops Water the core requirement for food production is becoming increasingly scarce in many parts of India Land is also crucial in food production especially with regards to soil fertility However lands traditionally used for growing crops are increasingly used instead for various other purposes The balancing of the expectations of farmers in the markets for want of better prices with the national objective of food security is imperative in this climate This necessitates public investment in agriculture including seed supply soil health initiatives and pest control The institutional challenges in ensuring food security in India are currently under explored with more discussion on entitlements and rights in relation to food security but less attention on the public institutions that are likely to play a critical role Public institutions through the use of policies schemes and programmes need to address the issues which impinge on the ecological foundation of food security while the governance architecture related to this has to integrate the public distribution system properly This book addresses these challenges and offers insights into what changes need to be made to ensure food security in India Socioeconomics of Food Daria Loginova,Stefan Mann,2024-11-26 This textbook provides an introduction to the socioeconomics of food Aimed mostly at students of economics and related social sciences it explains how food markets function and what social and cultural factors influence the processes of food production and consumption It also discusses the role of food producers intermediaries and consumers and examines the dynamics of prices trade and externalities The book also highlights cultural and demographic processes and moral behaviors that shape production and consumption practices Furthermore it discusses issues of food quality ethics and politics Readers are also introduced to food databases and methods of data processing Agricultural Commercialization, Gender Equality and the Right to Food Joanna Bourke Martignoni,Christophe Gironde,Christophe Golay,Elisabeth Prügl,Dzodzi Tsikata,2022-09-22 This volume explores agricultural commercialization from a gender equality and right to food perspective Agricultural commercialization involving not only the shift to selling crops and buying inputs but also the commodification of land and labour has always been controversial Strategies for commercialization have often reinforced and exacerbated inequalities been blind to gender differences and given rise to violations of the human rights to food land work and social security While there is a body of evidence to trace these developments globally impacts vary considerably in local contexts This book systematically considers these dynamics in two countries Cambodia and Ghana Profoundly different in terms of their history and location they provide the basis for fruitful comparisons because they both transitioned to democracy in the early 1990s made agricultural development a priority and adopted orthodox policies of commercialization to develop the sector Chapters illustrate how commercialization processes are gendered highlighting distinctive gender ethnic and class dynamics in rural Ghana and Cambodia and the different outcomes these generate They also show the ways in which food cultures are changing and the often problematic impact of these changes on the safety and quality of food Specific policies and legal norms are examined with chapters addressing the development and implementation of frameworks on the right to food and land administration Overall the volume brings into relief multiple dimensions shaping the outcomes of processes of commercialization including gender orders food cultures policy translation national and sub national policies corporate investments and programmes and formal and informal legal norms In doing so it offers insight not only on our case countries but also provides proposals to advance rights based research on food security This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of food security agricultural development and economics gender human rights and sustainable development Food Security Policy, Evaluation and Impact Assessment Sheryl L. Hendriks, 2019-12-06 This book offers an essential comprehensive yet accessible reference of contemporary food security discourse and guides readers through the steps required for food security analysis Food insecurity is a major obstacle to development and achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals It is a complex issue that cuts across traditional sectors in government and disciplines in academia Understanding how multiple elements cause and influence food security is essential for policymakers practitioners and scholars This book demonstrates how evaluation can integrate the four elements of food security availability access nutrition and resilience and offers practical tools for policy and programme impact assessment to support evidence based planning Aimed at researchers postgraduates and those undertaking professional development in food studies agricultural economics rural development nutrition and public health the book is key reading for those seeking to understand evidence based food security analysis
