Four Centuries of Special Geography O.F.G. Sitwell, 2011-11-01
Geography as an academic discipline dates back to the last few decades of the nineteenth century. However, during the preceding centuries a large body of English language literature relevant to the field of special geography was published. Four Centuries of Special Geography lists all the works published before 1888 and includes descriptions of each entry and notes on later editions. Francis Sitwell has written an extensive introduction in which he provides a detailed guide to the organization and contents of the bibliography. He also evaluates special geography as a genre which contributed to scholarly discourse from the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries. In addition, he examines the genre as a whole and discusses its relation to the evolving world of ideas during the same time period. The result of several years of data gathering, this book will be a valuable research tool for anyone seeking to examine aspects of the development of the field of geography in the years before it was defined as a distinct academic discipline. It will also be useful to those whose research focuses on the acquisition and transmission of geographical knowledge prior to the twentieth century, in particular on the place of geography in educational curricula.

American Geographers, 1784-1812 Ben A. Smith, James W. Vining, 2003-07-30
The first major work to identify the original generation of American geographers: teachers, writers, surveyors, cartographers, engravers, and others who made significant contributions to the field of geography during the early years of the republic. As such, it represents a powerful research tool for scholars interested in learning about this group and the products of their labors. A comprehensive and inclusive reference work, this book depicts the individuals who engaged in the establishment and description of the United States. It includes information on people who were involved in activities that led to a remarkable body of information, maps, and literature of a geographic nature about the country.

Ferris Wheels Norman D. Anderson, 1992
Anderson, North Carolina State University, is clearly obsessed with the Ferris Wheel. He describes the conception and construction of the first example at the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago, 1893. Imitators and variations are described and illustrated with period photos and patent drawings. An appendix contains 115 pages of patent drawings. A charming, unique book that will win no graphics awards. Paper edition, unseen 29/95. Annotation copyright by Book
