Carson, 2015-06-29 This Handbook provides insights to the ways in which globalisation is affecting the whole agri food system from farms to the consumer It covers themes including the physical basis of agriculture the influence of trade policies the nature of globalis Globalisation, Agriculture and Development Matthew Tonts, Muhammed Abu B. Siddique, 2011-01-01 This book explores the links between globalization agriculture and development in a number of contemporary Asia Pacific nations It highlights the complex and diversified nature of agricultural change in these contexts and the ways in which this shapes patterns of economic and social development Globalisation Agriculture and Development shows that while agriculture continues to play an important role in local regional and national development both the industry and the communities it supports are facing an increasing number of economic social and environmental challenges Establishing Food Security and Alternatives to International Trade in Emerging Economies Erokhin, Vasily, 2017-07-13 The process of food production and distribution has grown into a global corporate system in recent years This has caused significant impacts on sustainability on an international scale particularly for developing nations Establishing Food Security and Alternatives to International Trade in Emerging Economies is a pivotal reference source for the latest scholarly research on agricultural trade relations and trade liberalization in the context of developing countries Highlighting a range of pertinent topics such as crop productivity rural development and value added agriculture this book is ideally designed for academics researchers graduate students and practitioners interested in the current state of global food markets Unravelling desertification M. Juntti, 2023-08-28 This book analyses processes of desertification from a social science perspective and unravels the policy related to drivers of desertification Desertification is addressed both as a concept surrounded by a multitude of different discourses and as a tangible unsustainable process that is connected to a complex set of policies and changing land management practices The focus is on Southern Europe where desertification has been a long standing problem in many areas and where in some places the loss of productive capacity has worsened considerably over the last few decades By focusing on four specific case study areas in Portugal Spain Italy and Greece the scope of the book will cover the human dimension of desertification exploring in particular how the framework of existing policies has affected land management decisions and desertification processes The emphasis will be on how policies may have contributed to desertification alleviation and mitigation as well as to a worsening of desertification processes By using an actor network approach the book specifically investigates the importance of networks of actors that shape the nature and direction of policies that affect desertification processes In this sense this book aims at providing a first glance into the complex policy economic and socio cultural networks that operate at the local regional and national levels in areas of Southern Europe affected by desertification and to analyse how these networks hinder or promote the implementation of policies aimed at alleviating the threat of desertification With its broad remit this exciting book will appeal to many different audiences not only including academics and students of various disciplines but also practitioners at the local regional Mediterranean and international e g EU spatial levels in a variety of fields such as environmental and agricultural policy making agricultural extension services farming organisations environmental NGOs media representatives and many other environmental stakeholder groups

Sustainable Rural Systems Guy

Robinson,2016-04-01 In a neo liberal era where society in the Developed World is reliant on mass produced cheap foods and living standards are based on high consumption of non renewable energy and materials this book investigates the growing significance of sustainable systems in rural areas Drawing on a wide range of topical case studies primarily in the UK it provides an in depth analysis of the progress made towards sustainability within rural systems focusing specifically upon sustainable agriculture and sustainable rural communities The authors provide an overview of the various systems of sustainability currently being applied in the Developed World They highlight key environmental economic and social issues including post productivism alternative food networks organic farming GM foods conservation rural development programmes sustainable tourism local training schemes and community participation The various studies provide important lessons in the ongoing search for greater sustainability and suggest positive directions for future policy practice

Greening Cities Puay Yok Tan,Chi Yung Jim,2017-03-29 This book offers an overview of recent scientific and professional literature on urban greening and urban ecology focusing on diverse disciplines such as landscape architecture geography urban ecology urban climatology biodiversity conservation urban governance architecture and urban hydrology It includes contributions in which academics public policy experts and practitioners share their considerable knowledge on the multi faceted aspects of greening cities The greening of cities has witnessed a global resurgence over the past two decades and has made a significant contribution to urban liveability and sustainability as well as increasing resilience As urban greening efforts continue to expand it is useful to promote recent advances in our understanding of various aspects of planning design and management of urban greenery but at the same time it is also important to realize that there are important gaps in our knowledge and that further research is needed The book is organized in three main parts concepts functions and forms of urban greening The first part examines the historical roots of greening cities and how the burgeoning field of urban ecology can contribute useful principles and strategies to guide the planning design and management of urban greening The second part shifts the focus to the diverse range of services the functions provided by urban greening such as those related to urban climate urban biodiversity human health and community building The final part explores conventional often neglected but important forms of urban greenery such as urban woodlands and urban farms as well as relatively recent forms of urban greenery like those integrated with buildings and waterways It offers a ready reference resource for researchers practitioners and policy makers to grasp the critical issues and trigger further studies and applications in the quest for high performance green cities

Multiple Capitals Approach for Upland Agricultural Systems Lois Mansfield,2025-06-05 This book focuses on upland agricultural systems and applies a multiple capitals approach to explain what they can provide at a time when many are struggling to survive Marginal upland agricultural systems have been distorted and derailed by modern economics politics and the drive to intensification This book argues for the application of a multiple capitals approach to resource management challenges for marginal upland agricultural communities Instead of considering what upland agricultural systems lack the book showcases how a multiple capitals framework can demonstrate the importance interrelationships and relevance of the suite of capitals natural human social cultural and financial to achieve better outcomes for upland communities broader ecosystem services and wider society more generally It is designed to connect theory to practice to provide underpinning knowledge and guidance to help upland agricultural communities thrive Drawing on case studies from the UK and Japan as well as making comparisons with Central and South American countries the book recommends tools for monitoring different forms of capital and suggests a management process driven by multiple capitals to create resilience in upland agricultural systems This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of agriculture natural resource management ecosystem services rural development and those interested in applying a multiple capitals approach more widely within policy and landscape management contexts      Handbook Global History of Work Karin Hofmeester,Marcel van der Linden,2017-11-20 Coffee from East Africa wine from California chocolate from the Ivory Coast all those every day products are based on labour often produced under appalling conditions but always involving the combination of various work processes we are often not aware of What is the day to day reality for workers in various parts of the world and how was it in the past How do they work today and how did they work in the past These and many other questions comprise the field of the global history of work a young discipline that is introduced with this handbook In 8 thematic chapters this book discusses these aspects of work in a global and long term perspective paying attention to several kinds of work Convict labour slave and wage labour labour migration and workers of the textile industry but also workers organisation strikes and motivations for work are part of this first handbook of global labour history written by the most renowned scholars of the profession      Making Sense of Place Amanda Bingley,Andrew Ramsey,2014-03-20 Essays dealing with the question of how sense of place is constructed in a variety of locations and media The term sense of place is an important multidisciplinary concept used to understand the complex processes through which individuals and groups define themselves and their relationship to their natural and cultural environments and which over the last twenty years or so has been increasingly defined, theorized and used across diverse disciplines in different ways. Sense of place mediates our relationship with the world and with each other; it provides a profoundly important foundation for individual and community identity. It can be an intimate, deeply personal experience yet also something which we share with others. It is at once recognizable but never constant; rather, it is embodied in the flux between familiarity and difference. Research in this area requires culturally and geographically nuanced analyses, approaches that are sensitive to difference and specificity, event and locale. The essays collected here, drawn from a variety of disciplines including but not limited to sociology, history, geography, outdoor education, museum and heritage studies, health and English literature, offer an international perspective on the relationship between people and place via five interlinked sections: Histories, Landscapes and Identities, Rural Sense of Place, Urban Sense of Place, Cultural Landscapes, Conservation, Biodiversity and Tourism. Ian Convery is Reader in Conservation and Forestry, National School of Forestry, University of Cumbria. Gerard Corsane is Senior Lecturer in Heritage, Museum and Gallery Studies, International Centre for Cultural and Heritage Studies, Newcastle University. Peter Davis is Professor of Museology, International Centre for Cultural and Heritage Studies, Newcastle University. Contributors: Doreen Massey, Ian Convery, Gerard Corsane, Peter Davis, David Storey, Mark Haywood, Penny Bradshaw, Vincent O'Brien, Michael Woods, Jesse Heley, Carol Richards, Suzie Watkin, Lois Mansfield, Kenesh Džusipov, Tamara Kudaibergenova, Jennifer Rogers, Eunice Simmons, Andrew Weatherall, Amanda Bingley, Michael Clark, Rhiannon Mason, Chris Whitehead, Helen Graham, Christopher Hartworth, Joanne Hartworth, Ian Thompson, Paul Cammack, Philippe Dubois, Josie Baxter, Maggie Roe, Lyn Leader Elliott, John Studley, Stephanie K. Academically complex and challenging to apply, development and planning are increasingly relevant to the growing tourism industry. This collection contains critical studies on tourism development and planning and calls for proactive, holistic and responsible thinking. It addresses conceptual and contemporary issues in development and planning research, including political trust, innovation networks, sustainability, moral encounters, enclavisation and evolutionary economics. It argues that recognition of the contextual and historical dimensions around tourism development and planning is essential to help both researchers and practitioners better understand destination and place-based decision making. In addition, it will lead to improvements in stakeholder relations and explains how tourism best works with localities and localities with tourism. This book was originally published as a special issue of Tourism Geographies. Foodscapes, Olaf Kühne, Julia Deborah Fischer, Timo Sedelmeier, Volker Hochschild, Barbara Staniscia, Cesare Manetti, Liliana Dumitrache, Ana-Maria Talos, Angel Menéndez Rexach, Ana de Marcos Fernández, 2023-08-01. Since the mid 1990s the term foodscapes has been used Its reference to landscape opens it up to a wide theoretical variety and numerous methodological approaches Through the large semantic yard of the concept of landscape it becomes clear that the approach of foodscapes aims less at the description or pure positivistic analysis of the production distribution and consumption of food but is rather open to aesthetic approaches normative questions aspects of the connection of food and space with meaning In this respect research on foodscapes is not simply a part of food geography but reaches beyond it With this anthology we contribute to the development of the research field on foodscapes and combine diverse perspectives from different disciplines locations and theoretical as well as methodological backgrounds on the diversity of what foodscapes can be Our anthology Foodscapes Theory History and Current European Examples is the result of the collaboration of lecturers and students from the universities of Bucharest Madrid Rome and Tbingen

Dynamics of Gender Borders Sylvie Fogiel-Bijaoui, Rachel Sharaby, 2017-06-26 Resting on the multifaceted and multicultural voices of women secular and religious old timers and newcomers at the center or on the periphery of their communities it brings into sharper focus rarely raised issues related to gender borders and to the private and public spheres Beyond the specific society they treat these essays contribute to our understanding of the social mechanisms that re produce gender inequality in modernity in its socialist capitalist or postindustrial versions They also provide additional evidence for the limits of any attempt to achieve gender equality by focusing on the transformation of women without challenging hegemonic masculinities

Neoliberalism, Civil Society and Security in Africa P. Carmody, 2007-10-17 Free market policies have been in operation across Africa for the past 25 years yet they have failed to reverse deepening poverty This book explores with case studies why such policies continue to be implemented and the ways in which they have been reinvented by socialization depoliticization regionalization and securitization

The Rural Richard Munton, 2017-05-15 The rural has long been regarded as an important site of geographical inquiry even if our understanding of it has not always been treated as conceptually different from the urban That said rural research has pursued a number of distinct empirical agendas ranging from the operation and impacts of agribusiness to local resistance to global food supply chains to differing representations of the rural In doing so rural geographers have critically examined the relevance and significance of ideas drawn from numerous traditions including political economy ecological modernization and cultural theory amending them as appropriate in their search to understand the nature and trajectory of rural areas Up until the 1980s attention remained largely focused upon agriculture as the primary land use but increasingly new forms of rural consumption housing recreation nature conservation have taken centre stage as the primacy of local agricultures has been undermined by reduced state protection and new rural populations which have migrated out from the city More recently research has been dominated by the cultural turn with particular emphases upon society nature relations interpretations of landscape marginalised others and analyses of the relations between representation and practice In the last decade a more holistic view of the rural bringing together different aspects of the two previous themes has emerged through more politically oriented studies of rural governance concerned with the functioning of interest groups participation protest and the allocation and management of resources The volume is thus structured into three sections concerned with agriculture and food the rural and rural governance The great majority of the selected papers combine both empirical material often highly informative case studies and important conceptual arguments about change in the rural condition that can be linked to ideas being employed elsewhere in Geography and the Social Sciences more generally These critical reflections have been drawn very largely from research conducted in advanced economies which at least provide some commonality of experience allowing the transfer of ideas between what otherwise might be seen as very differing geographical contexts
