A Student's Introduction to Geographical Thought Pauline Couper, 2014-12-01 This is a busting text is an enormously accessible account of the key philosophical and theoretical ideas that have informed geographical research. It makes abstract ideas explicit and clearly connects it with real practices of geographical research and knowledge. Written with flair and passion. A Student's Introduction to Geographical Thought Explains the key ideas: scientific realism, anti-realism and idealism, positivism, critical rationalism, Marxism and critical realism, social constructionism and feminism, phenomenology and post-phenomenology, postmodernism and post-structuralism, complexity, moral philosophy. Uses examples that address both physical geography and human geography. Use a familiar and real world example: the beach as an entry point to basic questions of philosophy, returning to this to illustrate and to explain the links between philosophy, theory and methodology. All chapters end with summaries and sources of further reading, a glossary explaining key terms, exercises with commentaries and web resources of key articles from the journals Progress in Human Geography and Progress in Physical Geography. A Student's Introduction to Geographical Thought is a completely accessible student A-Z of theory and practice for both human and physical geography.

The Map Reader Martin Dodge, Rob Kitchin, Chris Perkins, 2011-05-09 WINNER OF THE CANTEMIR PRIZE 2012 awarded by the Berendel Foundation. The Map Reader brings together for the first time classic and hard to find articles on mapping. This book provides a wide ranging and coherent edited compendium of key scholarly writing about the changing nature of cartography over the last half century. The editorial selection of fifty-four theoretical and thought provoking texts demonstrates how cartography works as a powerful representational form and explores how different mapping practices have been conceptualised in particular scholarly contexts. Themes covered include: paradigms, politics, people, aesthetics and technology. Original interpretative essays set the literature into intellectual context within these themes. Excerpts are drawn from leading scholars and researchers in a range of cognate fields including Cartography, Geography, Anthropology, Architecture, Engineering, Computer Science and Graphic Design. The Map Reader provides a new unique single source reference to the essential literature in the cartographic field: more than fifty specially edited excerpts from key classic articles and monographs; critical introductions by experienced experts in the field; focused coverage of key mapping practices, techniques and ideas; a valuable resource suited to a broad spectrum of researchers and students working in cartography and GIScience; geography, the social sciences, media studies and visual arts; full page colour illustrations of significant maps as provocative visual think pieces; fully indexed, clearly structured and accessible ways into a fast changing field of cartographic research.
