Reimagining Peace through Process Philosophy Juliet Bennett, 2025-03-07 This book explores the ways in which process philosophers extend and strengthen peace scholars outlines of a paradigm of for peace It then illustrates the value of such a peace paradigm through the example of the climate breakdown showing how process thinking and process metaphysics intervene at the roots of a global systemic crisis In doing so it articulates a new inroad to process philosophy and illuminates an integrative intervention in the systemic crises of climate change and global inequality The static process framework developed in this book makes the philosophy of Alfred North Whitehead and the fields he has inspired easier to grasp and offers a tool to assist in the application of process thought to a multitude of issues This framework depicts tensions between two modes of thought static and process thinking according to five basic orientations abstract context closed open isolating relational passive generative one multi dimensional This pattern is mapped across the domains of metaphysics economics politics and as the basis for a new mode of living and organising across multiple layers of society Pluralism

Comes of Age Charles H. Lippy, 2015-05-20 This acclaimed work surveys the varied course of religious life in modern America Beginning with the close of the Victorian Age it moves through the shifting power of Protestantism and American Catholicism and into the intense period of immigration and pluralism that has characterized our nation's religious experience

The Land of Prehistory Alice Beck Kehoe, 2015-12-22 First published in 1998 The Land of Prehistory reveals the powerful ideological function American archaeology has naively served from the discipline's construction in Victorian societal reform movements to the present Alice Beck Kehoe chronicles major movements and influences such as the support of racist Spencerian evolutionism and Manifest Destiny ideologies and the 1960s New Archaeology pandering to Big Science money She concludes with a discussion of the recent revolutionary shift to multicultural voices within the field New Essays in Metaphysics Robert C. Neville, 1987-01-01 This volume displays fifteen of the many lively options in the field of metaphysics

The authors having finished their formal education in the 1960s or later belong to the generation of philosophers whose rebellion was against those who thought they saw metaphysics in the grand sense to be passe or impossible The authors also share a commitment to the importance of metaphysics for the social and cultural life of our time Despite the diversity of argued opinions on the fundamental array of metaphysical topics these essays display the zest of a reborn enterprise at once appropriating a rich and honorable past and moving into new areas only recently thought illegitimate for philosophy

Hegel and Whitehead George R. Lucas,1986-01-01 Hegel and Whitehead presents a careful exploration of the similarities between these two formidable representatives of systematic philosophy Some of the most distinguished scholars in European and American philosophy converge herein to explore the similarities in Hegel's and Whitehead's contemporary influence as well as in the content of their respective systems and in their philosophical styles This volume begins with important critical comparative and historical assessments of the contemporary problems in metaphysics philosophy of science philosophy of mind ethics social thought and philosophy of religion of history and of culture against the background of the important contributions made to these discussions by both Hegel and Whitehead The result is a collection of vigorous new essays in systematic philosophy that reflect the enduring contributions of these two philosophers to the contemporary philosophical climate on two continents

Anthropologists in Arms George R. Lucas Jr.,2009-10-15 Anthropologists in Arms looks at the moral and ethical debates surrounding the recent development of military anthropology particularly the practice of embedding anthropologists with combat troops in Iraq and Afghanistan Lucas traces the troubled history of social scientists collaborating with national military security and intelligence organizations and shows how these complex and frequently misunderstood historical concerns contribute to the contemporary moral controversy He gives special attention to the Human Terrain Systems project developed by the U S Army under the direction of General David Petraeus Although this project has been criticized as unethical by academic anthropologists in the U S and the U K Lucas shows that the moral status of that program is much more ambiguous than these blanket criticisms would suggest Anthropologists in Arms concludes with a call for a thorough review of HTS itself and suggests alternative strategies for providing anthropological knowledge to military forces engaged in irregular warfare knowledge that might in turn help military forces to ameliorate the suffering imposed on noncombatants while respecting the privacy security and human rights of indigenous populations

Eternity and Time's Flow Robert Cummings Neville,1993-07-01 Neville returns eternity to the center of consideration by analyzing the obsessive culture that attempts to get along denying it and he analyzes the nature of time's flow itself the nature of divine eternity and the subtle problems of personal immortality He argues that time and eternity constitute one topic and that therefore time itself is beyond understanding beyond personal grasp and beyond civilized orientation without a proper comprehension of eternity

From Suffering to God Santiago Sia,1994-09-13 A splendid book The authors give a moving account of a tragic aspect of our present human world It is a scholarly learned account Charles Hartshorne Professor

Emeritus of Philosophy University of Texas at Austin Does the reality of suffering disclose anything about God's nature The authors address this fundamental question by reflecting on some theistic responses to the challenge of suffering Taking seriously the persistence of theistic belief despite widespread suffering they focus on the practical ways some believers deal with suffering by suffering with those in affliction and working for the liberation of those who are opposed They then investigate the possibility of describing God as co sufferer and liberator In their exploration they turn to literature theology and philosophy and offer an interesting interpretation of the relationship between these disciplines Part I contains literary and descriptive reflections on the experiences of certain theists faced with the reality of suffering The authors present and analyse the concerns fears and hopes expressed in the book of Job and selected poems by Hopkins Vaughan Donne and Herbert They then try to show that an important challenge that needs to be investigated and met given the presence of so much suffering in the world is discovering the kind of God in whom we can credibly continue to believe This question is developed theologically and philosophically in Part II In developing some answers the authors turn to Latin American liberation theology and Charles Hartshorne's process philosophy and offer a new synthesis of these two schools of thought Their exploration is an interesting illustration of how literature theology and philosophy can throw some light on an area of common concern Baptist Successionism James Edward McGoldrick, 1999-11-17 an important contribution it is difficult to see how the historical argument could be any better presented than has been done by James McGoldrick

Ordering of Time Lucas George Lucas, 2020-09-25 What is the history of philosophy What exactly is this the history of and how is that history to be understood in relationship to philosophy itself Can philosophy's history on any of a number of diverse descriptions ever be said in its own right to constitute a unique and genuine source of philosophical wisdom or insight George Lucas sweeps aside the constraints of traditional methodological and cultural boundaries to reflect broadly on a variety of answers to these questions as posed by many of the major philosophical figures of the past century Inviting a reconsideration of the work of scholars as diverse as Alasdair MacIntyre Leo Strauss Jacques Derrida Michel Foucault Richard Rorty Hans Georg Gadamer Bertrand Russell Arthur Danto Martha Nussbaum Paul Ricoeur Charles Taylor Keith Lehrer and Jerome Schneewind Lucas ranges widely over the history of philosophy itself in search of original probing answers to these profound and perennial issues Hermann Sasse Ronald R. Feuerhahn, 1995 Provides a complete list of Dr Sasse's writings including unpublished essays and works about him All introductory sections are in English and German explanatory sections are likewise bilingual Indexes The Wilderness, the Nation, and the Electronic Era Elmer J.
