Geographic Perspectives on Soviet Central Asia Robert A. Lewis, 1992 Geographic Perspectives on Soviet Central Asia Robert Lewis, 2003-10-04 In a unique survey based on new census data this book highlights the region's geographic economic and ecological problems since 1945 The Resurgence of Central Asia Ahmed Rashid, 2017-08-29 A seminal introduction to the rise of Central Asia following the collapse of Tsarist Russia this book has been out of print for two decades and is now more relevant than ever The Resurgence of Central Asia is Ahmed Rashid's seminal study of the states that emerged in the aftermath of the breakup of the Soviet Union Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan All have Muslim majorities and ancient histories but are otherwise very different Rashid's book now with a new introduction by the author examining some of the crucial political developments since its first publication in 1994 provides entrance to this little known but geopolitically important region Rashid gives a history of each country including its incorporation into Tsarist Russia to the present day provides basic socioeconomic information and explains the diverse political situations He focuses primarily on the underlying issues confronting these societies the legacy of Soviet rule ethnic tensions the position of women the future of Islam the question of nuclear proliferation and the fundamental choices over economic strategy political system and external orientation that lie ahead Central Asia Tom Everett-Heath, 2003-12-08 The five central Asian States of Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan stand at the crossroads of world civilization Influenced by South Asia Iran China and Russia this region which has recently burst onto the world stage once again guards a distinct identity This collection by established experts on the area covers the dramatic Soviet interventions of the early twentieth century and details the role of ethnicity and the contribution made by Islamic impulses in the process of building the modern nation states Coerced Liberation Zamira Abman, 2024-05-01 In 1924 the Bolshevik regime began an unprecedented campaign to forcibly emancipate the Muslim women of Tajikistan The emancipatory reforms included unveiling women passing progressive family code laws and educating women By the 1950s the Soviet regime largely succeeded in putting an end to veiling child marriage polygamy and bride payments Yet today there is a resurgence in these practices the Bolsheviks claimed to have eliminated Coerced Liberation reveals that the Soviet regime transformed the lives of urban women within a single generation but without lasting effect Drawing on unique primary sources the book examines why this occurred It addresses questions that are pertinent to ongoing debates in the international arena What happens when an outside force attempts to modernize a society deeply rooted in centuries of patriarchal norms and values In what ways can a devout religious rural community respond to survive and adapt to such interventions And how does a state centred top down approach towards women's emancipation work Coerced Liberation presents critical insights for readers interested in gender dynamics within Muslim communities the roles of women in Islam the resurgence of Islam in former colonial territories the effectiveness of a top down approach towards women's movements and more Food Security and Political Stability in Tajikistan Raj Kumar Sharma, 2018-10-01 There are links between food security and political stability as was evident during the world food crisis of 2007-08. Food riots were witnessed in a number of countries contributing to political instability. There are a number of dimensions to the problem of food insecurity in Tajikistan. This book is an attempt to fill the academic void on Tajikistan especially pertaining to its food security. This work traces the history of agriculture and food production in Tajikistan from mid 19th century when it came under Russian rule. From its inception Tajikistan has been facing the geographic handicap as it is a mountainous country and only 7 percent of the total land is arable which limits its food production. This book is a detailed study of how Soviet economic geography introduced intensive cotton cultivation in Tajikistan at the expense of food crops. Soviet economic planners felt that a region with hot climate and large water resources should not attempt to grow grains but cotton. In the contemporary context this book focuses on how the state and international actors have responded to the food insecurity in Tajikistan. Most importantly the book also analyses the relationship between food security and political stability in Tajikistan. The International Politics of Eurasia: v. 2: The Influence of National Identity S. Frederick Starr, Karen Dawisha, 2016-09-16 First Published in 1995 This ambitious ten volume series develops a comprehensive analysis of the evolving world role of the post Soviet successor states. Each volume considers a different factor influencing the relationship between internal politics and international relations in Russia and in the western and southern tiers of newly independent states. The contributors were chosen not only for their recognized expertise but also to ensure a stimulating diversity of perspectives and a dynamic mix of approaches. This is Volume 2 on National Identity and Ethnicity in Russia and the New States of Eurasia edited by Roman Szporluk. Control and Subversion Colette Harris, 2004-03-20 Control and Subversion investigates the relationship of gender to the inner workings of social control such as exposing ways in which post Soviet Tajikistan society threatens men's masculinity thereby bringing them to force family members into conformity irrespective of the suffering this may cause. Told through ethnographically collected life histories the book examines how masculine and feminine gender characteristics influence personal relationships and explores gender relations at their most intimate from the secret musings of adolescent girls through the painful experiences of young men to the trauma of sexual initiation. Although largely concentrating on contemporary life the book also discusses historical materials and Soviet influence on Tajik society. Control and Subversion is essential reading for anyone interested in Central Asia. Muslim societies the lives of Muslim women or gender in a Muslim context. The American Bibliography of Slavic and East European Studies Pat Leonard, Rebecca Routh, 2020-02-27 This bibliography first published in 1957 provides citations to North American academic literature on Europe Central Europe the Balkans the Baltic States and the former Soviet Union. J. Van Den Bosch,2021-10-19 This handbook is the first collection of comprehensive teaching materials for teachers and students of Central Asian Studies CAS with a strong pedagogic dimension It presents 22 chapters clustered around five themes with contributions from more than 19 scholars all leading experts in the field of CAS and Eurasian Studies This collection is not only a reference work for scholars branching out to different disciplines of CAS but also for scholars from other disciplines broadening their scope to CAS It addresses post colonial frameworks and also untangles topics from their Soviet reference frame It aims to de exoticize the region and draws parallels to European or to historically European occupied territories In each chapter the handbook provides a concise but nuanced overview of the topics covered in which way these have been approached by the mainstream literature and points out pitfalls myths and new insights providing background knowledge about Central Asia to readers and intertwine this with an advanced level of insight to leave the readers equipped with a strong foundation to approach more specialized sources either in classroom settings or by self study In addition the book offers a comprehensive glossary list of used abbreviations overview of intended learning outcomes and a smart index distinguishing between names locations concepts and events A list of recorded lectures to be found on YouTube will accompany the handbook either as instruction materials for teachers or visual aids for students Since the authors themselves recorded the lectures related to their own chapters this provides the opportunity to engage in a more personalized way with the authors This project is being developed in the framework of the EISCAS project www.eiscas.eu co funded by the Erasmus Program of the European Union

Towards the Control of Oil Resources in the Caspian Region Mehdi Parvizi Amineh, 1999 This book provides an introduction to the current struggle for control of the energy reserves in the Caspian region Russia Iran Turkmenistan Kazakhstan and Azerbaijan An intense competition has arisen between the following various actors for control of these energy reserves the advanced industrialised countries especially the United States and Europe and their backed Transnational Corporations on the one hand and the main regional powers Russia Turkey Iran and also China and Pakistan on the other This struggle is a characteristic of the post Cold War competition for the control and security of the most needed natural resources oil and gas which are concentrated in only a few regions in the world This makes the Caspian region to one of the most important geo political areas in the post Cold War era The question of the routes for exporting oil and gas from this land locked area is central to the export of the Caspian energy resources It evolves around various conflicts between the different forces involved in the Central Asian and the Caucasian regions For example ethnic conflicts such as the war in Nagorno Karabakh in Chechnya the PKK issue in Turkey or the Taliban rule in Afghanistan At the same time however other problems such as lack of infrastructure and technology and finding a solution for the Caspian s legal regime could be obstacles for the possible construction of pipelines Further the United States does not want Iran to become a dominant power in the region and therefore would reject any route passing through this country Turkey would like any outlets to run through its own country The pipeline through Russia up until now is the only existing pipeline structure for the transportation of energy resources from the Caspian region Therefore Russia has a strong interest in and influence over any alternative route being discussed At the same time the United States want to prevent Russia from regaining domination over the former southern republics of Central Asia and Caucasus once ruled by the Soviet Union By analysing these and other important aspects this book helps us understand how they contribute to the problematic of conflict and co operation around the energy resources in the Caspian region This introductory book is written to meet the needs of undergraduate students interested in post Soviet politics in Central Asia and Caucasus and is suitable for the general public interested in the contemporary politics of this area

Kazakhstan in the Making Marlene Laruelle, 2016-11-21 Kazakhstan is one of the best known success stories of Central Asia perhaps even of the entire Eurasian space It boasts a fast growing economy at least until the 2014 crisis a strategic location between Russia China and the rest of Central Asia and a regime with far reaching branding strategies But the country also faces weak institutionalization patronage authoritarianism and regional gaps in socioeconomic standards that challenge the stability and prosperity narrative advanced by the aging President Nursultan Nazarbayev This policy oriented analysis does not tell us a lot about the Kazakhstani society itself and its transformations This edited volume returns Kazakhstan to the scholarly spotlight offering new multidisciplinary insights into the country s recent evolution drawing from political science anthropology and sociology It looks at the regime s sophisticated legitimacy mechanisms and ongoing quest for popular support It analyzes the country s fast changing national identity and the delicate balance between the Kazakh majority and the Russian speaking minorities It explores how the society negotiates deep social transformations and generates new hybrid local and global cultural references

Central Asia Adeeb Khalid, 2022-11-29 A major history of Central Asia and how it has been shaped by modern world events Central Asia is often seen as a remote and inaccessible land on the peripheries of modern history Encompassing Uzbekistan Tajikistan Turkmenistan Kyrgyzstan Kazakhstan and the Xinjiang province of China it in fact stands at the crossroads of world events Adeeb Khalid provides the first comprehensive history of Central Asia from the mid eighteenth century to today shedding light on the historical forces that have shaped the region under imperial and Communist rule Predominantly Muslim with both nomadic and settled populations the peoples of Central Asia came under Russian and Chinese rule after the 1700s Khalid shows how foreign conquest knit Central Asians into global exchanges of goods and ideas and forged greater connections to the wider world He explores how the Qing and Tsarist empires dealt with ethnic heterogeneity and compares Soviet and Chinese Communist attempts at managing national and cultural difference He highlights the deep interconnections between the Russian and Chinese parts of Central Asia that endure to this day and demonstrates how Xinjiang remains an integral part of Central Asia despite its fraught and traumatic relationship with contemporary China The essential history of one of the most diverse and culturally vibrant regions on the planet this panoramic book reveals how Central Asia has been profoundly shaped by the forces of modernity from colonialism and social revolution to nationalism state led modernization and social engineering

Conflict and the Environment N.P. Gleditsch, 2013-04-17 Nils Petter Gleditsch International Peace Research Institute Oslo PRIO Department of Sociology and Political Science Norwegian University of Science and Technology Trondheim This book could hardly have happened but for the end of the Cold War The decline of the East West conflict has opened up the arena for increased attention to other lines of conflict in Europe and at the global level Environmental disruption not a new phenomenon by any means is a chief beneficiary of the shift in priorities in the public debate The Scientific and Environmental Affairs Division of NATO has moved with the times and has defined environmental security as one of its priority areas for cooperation with Central and Eastern Europe and countries of the former Soviet Union This book is the main output of an Advanced Research Workshop ARW held in Bolkesjø in Norway 12-16 June 1996 I would like to acknowledge the personal support of L Veiga da Cunha Director of the Priority Area on Environmental Security Research on these issues is now very much a collaborative effort
