Food Tales:

Manufacturing Tales Gary Alan Fine, 1992 The mouse in the Coke bottle the promiscuous cheerleader the exploding Pop Rocks candy the Kentucky Fried Rat If the ballad and the fairy tale were the archetypal folklore forms of an earlier age such contemporary legends constitute the preferred narrative genre of the late twentieth century In Manufacturing Tales award winning folklorist Gary Alan Fine presents a major new theory of the creation and diffusion of contemporary legends in modern society While ballad and fairy tale arose in folk communities and spread through trade and migration contemporary legends thrive in societies crosscut by varied communication channels and relatively open networks By looking at the social structural background the performance context the personality of the teller and the content of the text we gain insight into the formation dissemination and disappearance of these modern legends Fine identifies sex and money as key themes in contemporary legends reflecting the public's disguised attempts to deal with major contemporary preoccupations From the AIDS crisis to fears of food contamination in restaurants popular anxieties are reflected in folklore As dramatic moving comic and involving texts contemporary legends build relationships among acquaintances and strangers as depictions of the world that we face every day they provide perspective on potential challenges and as shared information they elaborate a consensual understanding of reality

Welsh Food Stories Carwyn Graves, 2022-05-26 Welsh Food Stories explores more than two thousand years of history to discover the rich but forgotten heritage of Welsh foods from oysters to cider salted butter to salt marsh lamb Despite centuries of industry ancient traditions have survived in pockets across the country among farmers bakers fisherfolk brewers and growers who are taking Welsh food back to its roots and trailblazing truly sustainable foods as they do so In this important book author Carwyn Graves travels Wales to uncover the country's traditional foods and meet the people making them today There are the owners of a local Carmarthenshire chip shop who never forget a customer the couple behind Anglesey's world renowned salt company Halen Môn and everyone else in between all of them have unique and compelling stories to tell about how they contribute to the past present and future of Welsh food This is an evocative and insightful exploration of an often overlooked national cuisine shining a spotlight on the importance environmentally and socially of keeping local food production alive

Table Talk Janet A. Flammang, 2016-06-15 The civic virtues of a seat at the table Etiquette books insist that we never discuss politics during a meal In Table Talk Janet A Flammang offers a polite rebuttal presenting vivid firsthand accounts of people s lives at the table to show how mealtimes can teach us the conversational give and take foundational to democracy Delving into the ground rules about listening sharing and respect that we obey when we break bread Flammang shows how conversations and table activities represent occasions for developing our civil selves If there are cultural differences over practices who should speak what behavior is acceptable what topics are off limits how to resolve conflict our exposure to the making enforcement and breaking of these rules offers a daily dose of political awareness and growth Political table talk provides a forum to practice the conversational skills upon which civil society depends It also ignites the feelings of respect trust and empathy that undergird the idea of a common good that is fundamental to the democratic process

The Child, the State and the Victorian Novel Laura C. Berry, The Child the State and the Victorian Novel traces the the story of victimized childhood to its origins in nineteenth century Britain Almost as soon as childhood became a distinct category Laura C Berry contends stories of children in danger were circulated as part of larger debates about child welfare and the role of the family in society Berry examines the nineteenth century fascination with victimized children to show how novels and reform writings reorganize ideas of self and society as narratives of childhood distress Focusing on classic childhood stories such as Oliver Twist and novels that are not conventionally associated with particular social problems such as Dickens s Dombey and Son the Bront sisters Wuthering Heights and The Tenant of Wildfell Hall and George Eliot s Adam Bede Berry shows the ways in which fiction that purports to deal with private life particularly the domain of the family nevertheless intervenes in public and social debates At the same time she examines medical legal charitable and social relief writings to show how these documents provide crucial sources in the development of social welfare and modern representations of the family Hungry Roots Ashli Quesinberry Stokes,Wendy

Atkins-Sayre,2024-04-25 2025 North Carolina Humanities North Carolina Reads pick A journey through Southern Appalachia to explore the complex messages food communicates about the region Depictions of Appalachian food culture and practices often romanticize people in the region as good simple and often white These stereotypes are harmful to the actual people they are meant to describe as well as to those they exclude In Hungry Roots How Food Communicates Appalachia s Search for Resilience Ashli Quesinberry Stokes and Wendy Atkins Sayre tell a more complicated story The authors embark on a cultural tour through food and drinking establishments to investigate regional resilience in and through the plurality of traditions and communities that form the foodways of Southern Appalachia Ladybird Stories for Four Year Olds increases the folktale acquires greater significance for students and teachers of literature The material is massive and scattered thus few students or teachers have accessibility to other than small segments or singular tales or material they find buried in archives Stith Thompson has divided his book into four sections which permit both the novice and the teacher to examine oral tradition and its manifestation in folklore The introductory section discusses the nature and forms of the folktale A comprehensive second part traces the folktale geographically from Ireland to India giving culturally diverse examples of the forms presented in the first part The examples are followed by the analysis of several themes in such tales from North American Indian cultures The concluding section treats theories of the folktale the collection and classification of folk narrative and then analyzes the living folklore process This work will appeal to students of the sociology of literature professors of comparative literature and general readers interested in folklore Out of the Northwoods Michael

Edmonds,2010-09-24 Out of the Northwoods presents the culture of nineteenth century lumberjacks in their own words It includes eyewitness accounts of how the first Bunyan stories were shared on frigid winter nights around logging camp stoves in the Wisconsin pinery It describes where the tales began how they moved out of the forest and into print and why publication changed them forever An appendix includes more than 100 original Bunyan tales Eating as I Go Doris

Friedensohn,2006-07-21 In an engaging series of memoir essays the author traverses countries and friendships examining the relationship between culture and food Library Journal What do we learn from eating About ourselves Others In this unique memoir of a life shaped by the pleasures of the table Doris Friedensohn uses eating as an occasion for inquiry Munching on quesadillas and kimchi in her suburban New Jersey neighborhood she reflects on her exploration of food over fifty years and across four continents Relishing couscous in Tunisia and khachapuri in the Republic of Georgia she explores the ways strangers come together and maintain their differences through food As a young woman Friedensohn was determined not to be a provincial American Chinese French Mexican and Mediterranean cuisines beckoned to her like mysterious suitors and each rendezvous with an unfamiliar food was a celebration of cosmopolitan living Friedensohn's memories range from Thanksgiving at a Middle Eastern restaurant to the taste of fried grasshoppers in Oaxaca Her wry dramas of the dining room restaurant market and kitchen ripple with tensions political religious psychological and spiritual Eating as I Go is one woman's distinctive mélange of memoir traveler's tale and cultural commentary How to Win

Folktales of Newfoundland (RLE Folklore) Herbert Halpert,J.D.A. Widdowson,2015-02-20 This collection of Newfoundland folk narratives first published in 1996 grew out of extensive fieldwork in folk culture in the province The intention was to collect as broad a spectrum of traditional material as possible and Folktales of Newfoundland is notable not only for the number and quality of its narratives but also for the format in which they are presented A special transcription system conveys to the reader the accents and rhythms of each performance and the endnote to each tale features an analysis of the narrator's language In addition Newfoundland has preserved many aspects of English and Irish folk tradition some of which are no longer active in the countries of their origin Working from the premise that traditions virtually unknown in England might still survive in active form in Newfoundland the researchers set out to discover if this was in fact the case

The Hungry Table Fatima Saib,2024-09-01 Food and memory are inextricably linked flavours and dishes evoke emotion rooted in nostalgia or specific experiences The Hungry Table embodies this idea For Fatima Saib food exists as a backdrop to her childhood memories intertwined with her precious relationship with her late father Rooted in this culinary inspiration the book expertly weaves story and memory through a journey of over 90 contemporary recipes most with a nod to the author's South African Indian heritage With this in mind the book is divided into five chapters each one tapping into a feeling The Basics offers an array of chutneys sauces pickles and flavour enhancers to round off any dish Togetherness is an ode to food that is best shared among friends and family like hot honey fried chicken and fragrantly layered biryanis Comfort covers those recipes that warm the body and soul from the inside out like dhal and rasmalai From Fast expect deliciously quick and easy dishes like chilli crunch toasted cheese or yoghurt and cardamom potato curry And for those slower days when time is best used to explore and enjoy look to Relaxed for dishes like parathas sticky BBQ lamb ribs or creamy cabbage and corn bake The Hungry Table ignites the senses telling a story of time and place reminding readers to slow down and enjoy food and the way it makes us feel It is an invitation into the kitchen to enjoy the catharsis of cooking and the dishes that result and perhaps most importantly to be nourished by the memories created in the process
