Healing Of Nations The Promise And Limits Of Political Forgiveness:

The Healing of Nations Mark R. Amstutz, 2005 How does one forgive an international political transgression as deep as genocide or apartheid Forgiveness is often conceived of as an element of personal morality and even at that it is difficult This book argues that it is also an essential part of political ethics especially when dealing with collective wrongdoing by political regimes In the past a retributive justice demanding prosecution and punishment of all past offenses has kept the international community away from moving on to the next step in regime change Here Mark R Amstutz takes a restorative justice approach calling for nations to account for crimes through truth commissions public apology and repentance reparations and ultimately forgiveness and the lifting of deserved penalties The distinctive feature of forgiveness is the balance it strikes between backward looking accountability and forward looking reconciliation The Healing of Nations combines a theory of the role of forgiveness in public life with four key case studies that test this ethic Argentina Chile Northern Ireland and South Africa Amstutz uses the hard cases to illustrate the promise and limits of forgiving without forgetting

Envisioning Landscape Dan Hicks, Laura McAtackney, Graham Fairclough, 2016-06-03 The contributors to this volume take advantage of the diversity of landscape archaeology to examine the link to heritage the impact on our understanding of temporality and the situated theory that arises out of landscape studies using examples from New York to Northern Ireland Africa to the Argolid

Truth Commissions and Transitional Societies Eric Wiebelhaus-Brahm, 2010-01-05 This book uses a multi method approach to examine the impact of truth commissions on subsequent human rights protection and democratic practice and features cross national case studies on South Africa El Salvador Chile and Uganda

Reimagining Human Rights William R. O'Neill, 2021-01-07 In Reimagining Human Rights William O'Neill presents an interpretation of human rights from below showing how victims of atrocity can embrace the rhetoric of human rights to dismantle old narratives of power and advance new ones Topics covered include race and mass incarceration immigration and refugee policy and ecological responsibility

Pathways of Reconciliation Aimée Craft, Paulette Regan, 2020-05-29 Since the Truth and Reconciliation Commission released its Calls to Action in June 2015 governments churches non profit professional and community organizations corporations schools and universities clubs and individuals have asked How can I we participate in reconciliation Recognizing that reconciliation is not only an ultimate goal but a decolonizing process of journeying in ways that embody everyday acts of resistance resurgence and solidarity coupled with renewed commitments to justice dialogue and relationship building Pathways of Reconciliation helps readers find their way forward The essays in Pathways of Reconciliation address the themes of reframing learning and healing researching and living They engage with different approaches to reconciliation within a variety of reconciliation frameworks either explicit or implicit and illustrate the complexities of the reconciliation process itself They canvass multiple and varied pathways of reconciliation from Indigenous and non Indigenous perspectives reflecting a diversity of approaches to the mandate given to all Canadians by the TRC with its Calls to Action Together the authors academics practitioners students and ordinary citizens demonstrate the importance of trying and learning from new and creative approaches to thinking about and practicing reconciliation and reflect on what they have learned from their attempts both successful and less successful in the process

Witnessing Australian Stories Kelly Jean Butler, 2017-07-28 This book is about how Australians have responded to stories about suffering and injustice in Australia presented in a range of public media including literature history films and television Those who have responded are both ordinary and prominent Australians politicians writers and scholars All have sought to come to terms with Australia's history by responding empathetically to stories of its marginalized citizens Drawing upon international scholarship on collective memory public history testimony and witnessing this book represents a cultural history of contemporary Australia It examines the forms of witnessing that dominated Australian public culture at the turn of the millennium Since the late 1980s witnessing has developed in Australia in response to the increasingly audible voices of indigenous peoples migrants and more recently asylum seekers As these voices became public they posed a challenge not only to scholars and politicians but also most importantly to ordinary citizens When former Prime Minister Kevin Rudd delivered his historic apology to Australia's indigenous peoples in February 2008 he performed an act of collective witnessing that affirmed the testimony and experiences of Aboriginal Australians The phenomenon of witnessing became crucial not only to the recognition and reparation of past injustices but to efforts to create a more cosmopolitan Australia in the present This is a vital addition to Transaction's critically acclaimed Memory and Narrative series

The Palgrave Handbook of State-Sponsored History After 1945 Berber Bevernage, Nico Wouters, 2018-02-03 This handbook provides the first systematic integrated analysis of the role that states or state actors play in the construction of history and public memory after 1945 The book focuses on many different forms of state sponsored history including memory laws monuments and memorials state archives science policies history in schools truth commissions historical expert commissions the use of history in courts and tribunals etc The handbook contributes to the study of history and public memory by combining elements of state focused research in separate fields of study By looking at the state's memorialising capacities the book introduces an analytical perspective that is not often found in classical studies of the state The handbook has a broad geographical focus and analyses cases from different regions around the world The volume mainly tackles democratic contexts although dictatorial regimes are not excluded

Church, State, and Citizen Sandra F. Joireman, 2009-06-04 Christians are often portrayed as sharing the same political opinions and the same theological foundations for their actions Yet from the time of the early church believers have held a variety of perspectives on the relationship between church and state and what constitutes legitimate political behavior for Christian citizens Thoroughly Christian political beliefs run the gamut from disavowal of any political responsibility to a complete endorsement of government policies and the belief that the state has been divinely appointed In Church State and Citizen Sandra F. Joireman has gathered political scientists to examine the relationship between religion and politics as seen from within seven Christian traditions Catholic Lutheran Reformed Anabaptist Anglican Evangelical and Pentecostal In each chapter the historical and theological foundations of the tradition are described along with the beliefs regarding the appropriate role of the state and citizen While all Christian traditions share certain beliefs about faith e g human sin salvation Christ s atonement and political life e g limited government human rights the incompleteness and partiality of all political action there are also profound differences The authors discuss the contemporary implications of these beliefs both in the United States and in other areas of the world where Christianity is showing increasing vigor Breaking Intergenerational Cycles of Repetition Donna Orange,2016-01-18 The authors in this volume explore the interconnected issues of intergenerational trauma and traumatic memory in societies with a history of collective violence across the globe Each chapter s discussion offers a critical reflection on historical trauma and its repercussions and how memory can be used as a basis for dialogue and transformation The perspectives include among others the healing journey of three generations of a family of Holocaust survivors and their dialogue with third generation German students over time traumatic memories of the British concentration camps in South Africa reparations and reconciliation in the context of the historical trauma of Aboriginal Australians and the use of the arts as a strategy of dialogue and transformation U.S. Foreign Policy and the Politics of Apology Loramy Gerstbauer,2016-10-14 Acts of contrition and transitional justice admission of wrong apology and reparations have become fashionable in the discourse of international affairs Using a case study approach that inspires student discussion of concrete examples this text addresses important questions about the politics of apology in relation to some of the most controversial cases of US foreign policy over the past fifty years Vietnam Nicaragua and the most recent war in Iraq Loramy Gerstbauer offers an original transdisciplinary and accessible argument for the practical value of contrition forgiveness and reconciliation in international relations while examining why the United States has been a less than contrite nation and offering a prescription for how to change this state of affairs Assessing the Impact of Transitional Justice Hugo Van der Merwe,Victoria Baxter,Audrey R. Chapman,2009 In Assessing the Impact of Transitional Justice fourteen leading researchers study seventy countries that have suffered from autocratic rule genocide and protracted internal conflict Identity, Reconciliation and Transitional Justice Nevin Aiken,2013-04-15 Building upon an interdisciplinary synthesis of recent literature from the fields of transitional justice and conflict transformation this book introduces a groundbreaking theoretical framework that highlights the critical importance of identity in the relationship between transitional justice and reconciliation in deeply divided societies Using this framework Aiken argues that transitional justice interventions will be successful in promoting reconciliation and sustainable peace to the extent that they can help to catalyze those crucial processes of social learning needed to transform the antagonistic relationships and identifications that divide post conflict societies even after the signing of formal peace agreements Combining original field research and an extensive series of expert interviews Aiken applies this social learning model in a comprehensive examination of both the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the uniquely decentralized approach to transitional justice that has emerged in Northern Ireland By offering new insight into the experiences of these countries Aiken provides compelling firsthand evidence to suggest that transitional justice interventions can best contribute to post conflict reconciliation if they not only provide truth and justice for past human rights abuses but also help to promote contact dialogue and the amelioration of structural and material inequalities between former antagonists Identity Reconciliation and Transitional Justice makes a timely contribution to debates about how to best understand and address past human rights violations in post conflict societies and it offers a valuable resource to students scholars practitioners and policymakers dealing with these difficult issues

Negotiating Reconciliation in Peacemaking Valerie Rosoux, Mark Anstey, 2017-11-01 This book offers a unique approach to reconciliation as a matter for negotiation bringing together two bodies of theory in order to offer insights into resolving conflicts and achieving lasting peace It argues that reconciliation should not be simply accepted as an agreed upon norm within peacemaking processes but should receive serious attention from belligerents and peace brokers seeking to end violent conflicts through negotiation The book explores different meanings the term reconciliation might hold for parties in conflict the end of overt hostilities a transformation in the quality of relations between warring groups a vehicle of accountability and punishment of human rights abusers or the means through which they might somehow acquire amnesty and as a means of atonement and to material reparation It considers what gives energy to the idea of reconciliation in a conflict situation why do belligerents become interested in settling their differences and changing their attitudes to one another Using a range of case studies and thematic discussion chapters in this book seek to tackle these tough questions from a multidisciplinary perspective Contributions to the book reveal some of the complexities of national and international reconciliation projects but particularly diverse understandings of reconciliation and how to achieve it All conflicts reflect unique dynamics aspirations and power realities It is precisely because parties in conflict differ in expectations of reconciliation outcomes that its processes should be negotiated This book is a valuable resource for both scholars and practitioners engaged in resolving conflicts and transforming fragmented relations in conflict and post conflict situations

Advances in Military Sociology Giuseppe Caforio, 2009-12-01 A selection of the papers presented at RC01 s international conference in Seoul July 2008 It offers an overview of the panorama of social studies on armed forces and conflict resolution in a context of fast moving change It presents studies that move beyond the very concept of globalization

The Development of Institutions of Human Rights L. Barria, S. Roper, 2010-06-07 During the transition to democracy states have used various mechanisms to address previous human rights abuses including trials truth and reconciliation commissions and internationalized tribunals This volume analyzes the transitional justice choices made by four countries Argentina Bosnia Herzegovina BiH Sierra Leone and East Timor

Historical Justice in International Perspective Manfred Berg, Bernd Schaefer, Bernd Schäfer, 2009 This book makes a valuable contribution to debates on redress for historical injustices by offering case studies from nine countries on five continents The contributors examine the problems of material restitution criminal justice apologies recognition memory and reconciliation in national contexts as well as from a comparative perspective Among the topics discussed are the claims for reparations for slavery in the United States West German restitution for the Holocaust the South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission the efforts to prosecute the perpetrators of the Khmer Rouge s mass murders in Cambodia and the struggles of the indigenous people of Australia and New Zealand The book highlights the diversity of the ways societies have tried to right past wrongs as the demand for historical justice has become universal

In Search of the Good Life Fred Dallmayr, 2007-08-31 The great German novelist Thomas Mann implored readers to resist the persistent and growing militarism of the mid twentieth century To whom should we turn for guidance during this current era of global violence political corruption economic inequality and environmental degradation For more than two millennia the world s great thinkers have held that the ethically good life is the highest purpose of human existence Renowned political philosopher Fred Dallmayr traces the development of this notion finding surprising connections among Aristotelian ethics Abrahamic and Eastern religious traditions German idealism and postindustrial social criticism In Search of the Good Life does not offer a blueprint but rather invites readers on a cross cultural quest Along the way the author discusses the teachings of Aristotle Confucius Nicolaus of Cusa Leibniz and Schiller in addition invoking more recent writings of Gadamer and Ricoeur as guideposts and sources of hope during our troubled times Among contemporary themes Dallmayr discusses are the role of the classics in education proper and improper ways of spreading democracy globally the possibility of transnational citizenship the problem of politicized evil and the role of religion in our predominantly secular culture Dallmayr restores the notion of the good life as a hallmark of personal conduct civic virtue and political engagement and as the road map to enduring peace In Search of the Good Life seeks to arouse complacent and dispirited citizens guiding them out of the distractions of shallow amusements and perilous resentments in the direction of mutual learning and civic pedagogy a direction that will enable them to impose accountability on political leaders who stray from fundamental ethical standards

Theorizing Post-Conflict Reconciliation Alexander Hirsch, 2013-06-17 The founding of truth commissions legal tribunals and public confessionals in places like South Africa Australia Yugoslavia and Chile have attempted to heal wounds and bring about reconciliation in societies divided by a history of violence and conflict This volume asks how many of the popular conclusions reached by transitional justice studies fall short or worse unwittingly perpetuate the very injustices they aim to suture Though often well intentioned these approaches generally resolve in an injunction to move on as it were to leave the painful past behind in the name of a conciliatory future Through collective acts of apology and forgiveness so the argument goes reparation and restoration are imparted and the writhing conflict of the past is substituted for by the overlapping consensus of community And yet all too often the authors of this study maintain the work done in assuaging past discord serves to further debase and politically neutralize especially the victims of abuse in need of reconciliation and repair in the first place Drawing on a wide range of case studies from South Africa to Northern Ireland Bosnia Rwanda and Australia the authors argue for an alternative approach to post conflict thought In so doing they find inspiration in the vision of politics rendered by new pluralist new realist and especially agonistic political theory Featuring contributions from both up and coming and well established scholars this work is essential reading for all those with an interest in restorative justice conflict resolution and peace studies Hijacked Justice Jelena Subotić,2011-02-23 What is the appropriate political response to mass atrocity In Hijacked Justice Jelena Subotić traces the design implementation and political outcomes of institutions established to deal with the legacies of violence in the aftermath of the Yugoslav wars She finds that international efforts to establish accountability for war crimes in the former Yugoslavia have been used to pursue very different local political goals Responding to international pressures Serbia Croatia and Bosnia have implemented various mechanisms of transitional justice the systematic addressing of past crimes after conflicts end Transitional justice in the three countries however was guided by ulterior political motives to get rid of domestic political opponents to obtain international financial aid or to gain admission to the European Union Subotić argues that when transitional justice becomes hijacked for such local political strategies it fosters domestic backlash deepens political instability and even creates alternative politicized versions of history That war crimes trials such as those in The Hague and truth commissions as in South Africa are necessary and desirable has become a staple belief among those concerned with reconstructing societies after conflict States are now expected to deal with their violent legacies in an institutional setting rather than through blanket amnesty or victor's justice This new expectation however has produced paradoxical results In order to avoid the pitfalls of hijacked justice Subotić argues the international community should focus on broader and deeper social transformation of postconflict societies instead on emphasizing only arrests of war crimes suspects The Founders David M. Crane,Leila N. Sadat,Michael P. Scharf,2018-03-15 The Balkan Wars the Rwanda genocide and the crimes against humanity in Cambodia and Sierra Leone spurred the creation of international criminal tribunals to bring the perpetrators of unimaginable atrocities to justice When Richard Goldstone David Crane Robert Petit and Luis Moreno Ocampo received the call each set out on a unique quest to build an international criminal tribunal and launch its first prosecutions Never before have the founding International Prosecutors told the behind the scenes stories of their historic journey With no blueprint and little precedent each was a path breaker This book contains the first hand accounts of the challenges they faced the obstacles they overcame and the successes they achieved in obtaining justice for millions of victims
