Art Book News Annual, volume 4: 2008Art Book News Annual, volume 4: 2008 , Raman Spectroscopy in Cultural Heritage Preservation Howell G. M. Edwards,Peter Vandenabeele,Philippe Colomban,2022-10-13 This book addresses the application of Raman spectroscopic techniques to a range of diverse problems which arise in the study conservation and restoration of artefacts and sites closely related to our cultural heritage as well as in authentication These themes are naturally wider than what at first might be considered as artworks and archaeological artefacts and the topics include pigments paintings ceramics glass sculpture and patination corrosion textiles industrial archaeology the degradation and preservation of biomaterials mummies and human skeletal remains An interesting feature is the inclusion of modern case studies which describe specific problems and approaches to the Raman spectral analysis of items important to our cultural heritage The text is prefaced with an introduction to the important parameters used in nondestructive Raman measurements and also highlights some future applications based upon novel miniaturised instrumentation for in field studies and potential screening work which will identify specimens which would repay further studies in the laboratory An attempt is made to give a snapshot of the state of the art evolution since the beginning of the technique 1970s and to point out potential further development The book is co edited by three international experts with many years experience in the application of Raman spectroscopy to artworks archaeological artefacts and in the investigation of materials and sites for cultural heritage preservation and each editor has undertaken to write individual chapters and different topics personally The adopted approach is designed to convey the sort of information which has become available from the adoption of analytical Raman spectroscopy to different problems in the field of cultural heritage preservation through the spectral interrogation of artefacts and how the interpretation of the spectral data can assist museum curators archaeologists and cultural heritage historians in the preservation and conservation of ancient materials and sites a particular advantage in this respect is the ability of Raman spectroscopy to determine generally in a strictly noninvasive procedure at the laboratory or on site with mobile instruments the presence of both organic and inorganic components in a particular specimen together nondestructively without any chemical and mechanical pretreatment being undertaken which is an essential requirement for rare and valuable samples An important aside from this work is the means of spectral identification of ongoing biodeterioration and biological colonisation in specimens in storage and the effects of environmental deterioration such as humidity and temperature upon their integrity The Directory of Museums & Living Displays

Monumentality in Etruscan and Early Roman Architecture Michael L. Thomas, Gretchen E. Meyers, 2012-11-01 Every society builds and many if not all utilize architectural structures as markers to define place patron or experience Often we consider these architectural markers as monuments or monumental buildings Ancient Rome in particular is a society recognized for the monumentality of its buildings While few would deny that the term monumental is appropriate for ancient Roman architecture the nature of this characterization and its development in pre Roman Italy is rarely considered carefully What is monumental about Etruscan and early Roman architecture Delving into the crucial period before the zenith of Imperial Roman building Monumentality in Etruscan and Early Roman Architecture addresses such questions as What factors drove the emergence of scale as a defining element of ancient Italian architecture and How did monumentality arise as a key feature of Roman architecture Contributors Elizabeth Colantoni Anthony Tuck Nancy A Winter P Gregory Warden John N Hopkins Penelope J E Davies and Ingrid Edlund Berry reflect on the ways in which ancient Etruscans and Romans utilized the concepts of commemoration durability and visibility to achieve monumentality The editors preface and introduction underscore the notion of architectural evolution toward monumentality as being connected to the changing social and political strategies of the ruling elites By also considering technical components this collection emphasizes the development and the ideological significance of Etruscan and early Roman monumentality from a variety of viewpoints and disciplines The result is a broad range of interpretations celebrating both ancient and modern perspectives Image Encounters Lisa

Trever,2022-01-11 Moche murals of northern Peru represent one of the great yet still largely unknown artistic traditions of the ancient Americas Created in an era without written scripts these murals are key to understandings of Moche history society and culture In this first comprehensive study on the subject Lisa Trever develops an interdisciplinary methodology of archaeo art history to examine how ancient histories of art can be written without texts boldly inverting the typical relationship of art to archaeology Trever argues that early coastal artistic traditions cannot be reduced uncritically to interpretations based in much later Inca histories of the Andean highlands Instead the author seeks the origins of Moche mural art and its emphasis on figuration in the deep past of the Pacific coast of South America Image Encounters shows how formal transformations in Moche mural art before and after the seventh century were part of broader changes to the work that images were made to perform at Huacas de Moche El Brujo Pa amarca and elsewhere in an increasingly complex social and political world In doing so this book reveals alternative evidentiary foundations for histories of art and visual experience

Big Tradition and Chinese Mythological Studies Jiansheng Hu,2020-08-11 This book focuses on reinterpreting mythical China from the perspective of the cultural theory of big tradition It is divided into two parts the first explains the theoretical development and features of the Chinese version of big tradition identifying the differences between the Eastern and Western cultural traditions big tradition and great tradition The second part then reinterprets the core values and mythical ideas of Chinese civilization and traditional culture from the perspective of big tradition Moving beyond the small tradition of text centrism and using new methods and materials the book reveals the original meaning and the cultural coding function of big tradition during the preliterate period Drawing on integrated evidence from literature handed down from ancient times oral and intangible cultural heritage tangible culture cross cultures image culture and unearthed documents the book interprets Chinese cultural traditions and spiritual values from local archaeological experiential and survival perspectives to help readers better understand the mythical codes and genes of early Chinese culture
