Department of Agriculture,1915 Agricultural Gazette of Canada Canada. Dept. of Agriculture,1922 Farming in a Global Economy Frans Schryer,2006-06-01 Using a Canadian case study this book demonstrates that Dutch immigrant farmers have a global competitive advantage It also deals with the implications both beneficial and harmful of positive stereotyping in this case the reputation of the Dutch as successful farmers Farming in a Global Economy consists of three parts The first provides an overview of farming and migration in the Netherlands and Ontario Part two deals with Dutch farmers in Ontario from a historical and a sociological perspective telling the story of postwar farm immigrants much of it in their own words The last part covers the Dutch presence in and impact on Ontario agriculture Agricultural Gazette of Canada ,1922 Harvesting Labour Edward Dunsworth,2022-09-15 In recent decades an increasing share of Canada s agricultural workforce has been made up of temporary foreign workers from the Global South These labourers work difficult and dangerous jobs with limited legal protections and are effectively barred from permanent settlement in Canada In Harvesting Labour Edward Dunsworth examines the history of farm work in one of Canada s underrecognized but most important crop sectors Ontario tobacco Dunsworth takes aim at the idea that temporary foreign worker programs emerged in response to labour shortages or the unwillingness of Canadians to work in agriculture To the contrary Ontario s tobacco sector was extremely popular with workers for much of the twentieth century with high wages attracting a diverse workforce and enabling thousands to establish themselves as small farm owners By the end of the century however the sector had become something entirely different a handful of mega farms relying on foreign guest workers to produce their crops Taking readers from the leafy fields of Ontario s tobacco belt to rural Jamaica Barbados and North Carolina and on to the halls of government Dunsworth demonstrates how the ultimate transformation of tobacco and Canadian agriculture writ large was fundamentally a function of the capitalist restructuring of farming Harvesting Labour brings together the fields of labour migration and business history to reinterpret the historical origins of contemporary Canadian agriculture and its workforce
