The Role of Opinion Leaders in the Diffusion of New Knowledge Gershon Feder, Sara Savastano, 2006 The paper reviews the literature on the characteristics and impact of opinion leaders on the diffusion of new knowledge concluding that there is no clear evidence on whether opinion leaders are more effective if they are similar in socioeconomic attributes to the other farmers rather than superior to would be followers A multivariate analysis of the changes in integrated pest management knowledge in Indonesia among follower farmers over the period 1991-98 indicates that opinion leaders who are superior to followers but not excessively so are more effective in transmitting knowledge Excessive socioeconomic distance is shown to reduce the effectiveness of diffusion The paper then derives operational implications of the empirical results Producer organisations and market chains Giel Ton, Jos Bijman, Joost Oorthuizen, 2023-08-28 The role of producer organizations in market chains has received increasing attention in recent years both from governments and donors In order to lower transaction costs markets demand that smallholder farmers operate in an organized manner However though the policy openings for support seem promising smallholder market access through farmer led economic organisations is not easy This book presents various approaches to support producer organisations in terms of providing economic services to their members with a focus on developing countries Markets are increasingly fragmented in value chains that link farmers with specific processors retailers and consumer segments Several contributions in this book analyse these dynamics in specific value chains such as the fair trade and organic agriculture and their potential to provide market outlets for smallholder farmers This book is the result of a Dutch partnership between policy makers researchers and practitioners designed to confront ideas with realities Organized in a platform called Agri ProFocus members aim to provide more and better support to producer organisations in the South Through so called expert meetings staff from donor organisations and knowledge centres government officials and business representatives share their experiences and lessons learned The experiences presented in this book are not recipes for instant success but instead highlight that support processes are often more fragile and slower moving than policy makers realise This book is essential reading for scholars practitioners and researchers interested in supporting and facilitating trajectories of change led by producer organisations in developing countries
