Fashion A Canadian Perspective:

Fashion Alexandra Palmer, 2004-01-01 Controversial and unconventional this collection examines Canadian identity in terms of the fashion worn and designed over the last three centuries and the internal and external influences of those socio cultural decisions Canadian Fashion Economies Mark Joseph O'Connell, 2025-09-04 A vital re examination of Canadian cultural and commercial history told through key fashion objects from First Nations colonial settlers and contemporary Canadian culture Traditional narratives of fashion tend to ignore sophisticated pre colonial networks First Nation innovations and techniques and their contributions to colonial dress From exquisite Chilkat weavings to the iconic Hudson s Bay Company blanket coat by way of ribbon skirts quilts and a beaver fur top hat this rich study uses Canadian fashion objects as a research tool to illuminate neglected areas in North American fashion history Using vivid object based research O Connell maps out pre colonial economic networks spanning the entire continent global colonial textile and fur trades and the material culture of French and English migrant populations in the New World and equips readers with a framework for more nuanced and inclusive histories of Canadian culture and commerce Unexpected overlooked stories emerge as central to Canada s fashion history from hybrid fashion cultures to re used textiles in settler communities and O Connell highlights contemporary Canadian artists and designers who point to new possibilities to reclaim and preserve this cultural heritage A Cultural History of Dress and Fashion in the Modern Age Alexandra Palmer, 2018-11-01 Over the last century there has been a complete transformation of the fashion system The unitary top down fashion cycle has been replaced by the pulsations of multiple and simultaneous styles while the speed of global production and circulation has become ever faster and more complex Running in tandem the development of artificial fibres has revolutionized the composition of clothing and the increased focus on youth sexuality and the body has radically changed its design From the 1920s flapper dress to debates over the burkini fashion has continued to be deeply involved in society s larger issues Drawing on a wealth of visual textual and object sources and illustrated with 100 images A Cultural History of Dress and Fashion in the Modern Age presents essays on textiles production and distribution the body belief gender and sexuality status ethnicity and visual and literary representations to illustrate the diversity and cultural significance of dress and fashion in the period VIVA M A C Andrea Benoit, 2019-04-18 The first cultural history of the iconic brand M A C Cosmetics VIVA M A C charts the evolution of M A C s revolutionary corporate philanthropy around HIV AIDS awareness Drawing upon exclusive interviews with M A C co founder Frank Toskan key journalists and fashion insiders Andrea Benoit tells the fascinating story of how M A C s unique style of corporate social responsibility emerged from specific cultural practices rather than being part of a strategic marketing plan Benoit delves into the history of the M A C AIDS Fund and its signature VIVA GLAM fundraising lipstick which featured drag performer RuPaul and singer k d lang in its first advertising campaigns This lively chronicle reveals how M A C managed to not only defy the stigma associated with AIDS that alarmed many other corporations but to engage in highly successful AIDS

advocacy while maintaining its creative and fashionable authority

Macromarketing: A Canadian Perspective Donald N. Thompson, Patricia Simmie, Louise Heslop, Stanley J. Shapiro, 2011-10-15

Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History Patrizia Gentile, Jane Nicholas, 2013-12-06 From fur coats to nude paintings and from sports to beauty contests the body has been central to the literal and figurative fashioning of ourselves as individuals and as a nation In this first collection on the history of the body in Canada an interdisciplinary group of scholars explores the multiple ways the body has served as a site of contestation in Canadian history in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Showcasing a variety of methodological approaches Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History includes essays on many themes that engage with the larger historical relationship between the body and nation medicine and health fashion and consumer culture citizenship and work and more The contributors reflect on the intersections of bodies with the concept of nationhood as well as how understandings of the body are historically contingent The volume is capped off with a critical introductory chapter by the editors on the history of bodies and the development of the body as a category of analysis

Fashioning Globalisation Maureen Molloy, Wendy Larner, 2013-06-20 Drastic changes in the career aspirations of women in the developed world have resulted in a new globalised market for off the peg designer clothes created by independent artisans This book reports on a phenomenon that seems to exemplify the twin imperatives of globalisation and female emancipation A major conceptual contribution to the literatures on globalisation fashion and gender analysing the ways in which women's entry into the labour force over the past thirty years in the developed world has underpinned new forms of aestheticised production and consumption as well as the growth of work style businesses A vital contribution to the burgeoning literature on culture and creative industries which often ignores the significant roles taken by women as entrepreneurs and designers rather than mere consumers Introduces fashion scholars and economic geographers to a paradigmatic example of the new designer fashion industries emerging in a range of countries not traditionally associated with fashion Takes a fresh perspective on an industry in which Third World garment workers have been the subject of exhaustive analysis but first world women have been largely ignored The Modern Girl Jane Nicholas, 2015-03-27 With her short skirt bobbed hair and penchant for smoking drinking dancing and jazz the Modern Girl was a fixture of 1920s Canadian consumer culture She appeared in art film fashion and advertising as well as on the streets of towns from coast to coast In The Modern Girl Jane Nicholas argues that this feminine image was central to the creation of what it meant to be modern and female in Canada Using a wide range of visual and textual evidence Nicholas illuminates both the frequent public debates about female appearance and the realities of feminine self presentation She argues that women played an active and thoughtful role in their embrace of modern consumer culture even when it was at the risk of serious social economic and cultural penalties The first book to fully examine the Modern Girl's place in Canadian culture The Modern Girl will be essential reading for all those interested in the history of gender sexuality and the body in the modern world Purchasing Power Donica Belisle, 2020-03-12 Exploring the roots of Canadian consumer culture this book uncovers the meanings that Canadians have historically attached to consumer goods Focusing on white women during the early twentieth century it reveals that for thousands of Canadians between the 1890s and World War II consumption was about not only survival but also civic expression Offering a new perspective on the temperance conservation home economics feminist and co operative movements this book brings white women's consumer interests to the fore Due to their exclusion from formal politics and paid employment many white Canadian women turned their consumer roles into personal and social opportunities They sought solutions in the consumer sphere to isolation upward mobility personal expression and family survival They effectively transformed consumer culture into an arena of political engagement Yet if white Canadian women viewed consumption as a tool of empowerment so did they wield consumption as a tool of exclusion As Purchasing Power reveals Canadian women of privileged race and class status tended to disparage racialized and lower income women's consumer habits In so doing they constructed hierarchical notions of taste that defined who and who did not belong in the modern Canadian nation Parallel Encounters Gillian Roberts, David Stirrup, 2014-03-24 The essays collected in offer close analysis of an array of cultural representations of the Canada US border in both site specificity and in the ways in which they reveal and conceal cultural similarities and differences Contributors focus on a range of regional sites along the border and examine a rich variety of expressive forms including poetry fiction drama visual art television and cinema produced on both sides of the 49th parallel The field of border studies has hitherto neglected the Canada US border as a site of cultural interest tending to examine only its role in transnational policy economic cycles and legal and political frameworks Border studies has long been rooted in the US Mexico divide shifting the locus of that discussion north to the 49th parallel the contributors ask what added complications a site specific analysis of culture at the Canada US border can bring to the conversation In so doing this collection responds to the demands of Hemispheric American Studies to broaden considerations of the significance of American culture to the Americas as a whole bringing Canadian Studies into dialogue with the dominantly US centric critical theory in questions of citizenship globalization Indigenous mobilization hemispheric exchange and transnationalism

Beyond Bylines Barbara M. Freeman, 2012-08-01 Beyond Bylines Media Workers and Women's Rights in Canada explores the ways in which several of Canada's women journalists broadcasters and other media workers reached well beyond the glory of their personal bylines to advocate for the most controversial women's rights of their eras To do so some of them adopted conventional feminine identities while others refused to conform altogether openly and defiantly challenging the gender expectations of their day The book consists of a series of case studies of the women in question as they grappled with the concerns close to their hearts higher education for women healthy dress reforms the vote equal opportunities at work abortion lesbianism and Aboriginal women's rights Their media reflected their respective eras intellectual magazines daily and weekly newspapers radio feminist public relations alternative women's periodicals and documentary film made for television Barbara Freeman takes an interdisciplinary approach combining biography history and communication studies to demonstrate how their use of different media both enabled and limited these women in their ability to be daring advocates for gender equality She shows how a number of these women were linked through the generations by their memberships in activist women's organizations

Retail Nation Donica Belisle, 2011-02-15 The experience of walking down a store aisle replete with displays salespeople and infinite choice is so common we often forget retail has a short history Retail Nation traces Canada's transformation into a modern consumer society back to an era 1890 to 1940 when department stores such as Eaton's ruled the shopping scene and promised to strengthen the nation Department stores emerge as agents of modern nationalism but the nation they helped to define white consumerist middle class was more limited and contested than nostalgic portraits of the early department store suggest

Circular Economy Subramanian Senthilkannan Muthu, 2021-09-27 This book highlights the notion of Circular Economy under the umbrella of Sustainability because of the widespread momentum it is gaining Today the whole world is certainly in emergent need of an alternative system to traditional economy which is linear i.e. make use and dispose to get rid off the waste and very important to ensure continuous use of resources which is possible by the advent of circular economy A circular economy aims to utilize the resources in use for as long as possible extract the maximum value from them during use then recover and regenerate products and materials at the end of each service life vis vis traditional linear model This book discusses circular economy in terms of assessment with various case studies

Sisters or Strangers? Marlene Epp, Franca Iacovetta, 2016-01-01 Spanning more than two hundred years of history from the eighteenth century to the twenty first Sisters or Strangers explores the complex lives of immigrant ethnic and racialized women in Canada Among the themes examined in this new edition are the intersection of race crime and justice the creation of white settler societies letters and oral histories domestic labour the body political activism food studies gender and ethnic identity and trauma violence and memory The second edition of this influential essay collection expands its chronological and conceptual scope with fifteen new essays that reflect the latest cutting edge research in Canadian women's history. Introductions to each thematic section include discussion questions and suggestions for further reading making the book an even more valuable classroom resource than before. "Craft, Community and the Material Culture of Place and Politics, 19th-20th Century" Janice Helland, 2017-07-05

Craft practice has a rich history and remains vibrant sustaining communities while negotiating cultures within local or international contexts. More than two centuries of industrialization have not extinguished handmade goods rather the broader force of industrialization has redefined and continues to define the context of creation, deployment and use of craft objects. With object study at the core, this book brings together a collection of essays that address the past and present of craft production, its use and meaning within a range of community settings from the Huron Wendat of colonial Quebec to the Girls Friendly Society of twentieth century England. The making of handcrafted objects has and continues to flourish despite the powerful juggernaut of global industrialization, whether inspired by a calculated refutation of industrial sameness, an essential means to sustain a cultural community under threat or a rejection of the imposed definitions by a dominant culture. The broader effects of urbanizing, imperial and globalizing projects shape the multiple contexts of interaction and resistance that can define craft ventures through place and time. By attending to the political histories of craft objects and their makers over the last few centuries, these essays reveal the creative persistence of various hand mediums and the material debates they represented.

"Architecture, Design and Craft in Toronto 1900-1940" Alla Myzelev, 2017-07-05

Toronto, the largest and one of the most multicultural cities in Canada, boasts an equally interesting and diverse architectural heritage. Architecture, Design and Craft in Toronto 1900-1940 tells a story of the significant changes in domestic life in the first 40 years of the twentieth century. Adopting a multidisciplinary approach to studies of residential spaces, the author examines how questions of modernity and modern living influenced not only architectural designs but also interior furnishings, modes of transportation and ways to spend leisure time. The book discusses several case studies, some of which are known both locally and internationally, for example Casa Loma, while others such as Guild of All Arts or Sherwood have been virtually unstudied by historians of visual culture. The overall goal of the book is to put Toronto on the map of scholars of urban design and architecture and to uncover previously unknown histories of design, craft and domesticity in Toronto. This study will be of interest not only to the academic community, namely architects, designers, craftspeople and scholars of these disciplines, along with social historians, but also the general public interested in local history and or visual culture.

The History of Modern Fashion Daniel James Cole, Nancy Deihl, 2015-08-24

This exciting book explores fashion not simply from an aesthetic point of view but also as a manifestation of social and cultural change.
