Opening Hearts by Opening Minds

Connie Wineland, 2007-06-01 This book is for Christian readers of fiction who might experience difficulty trying to make an informed choice beyond what is being published by evangelical presses Marketed to a specific target audience evangelical fiction oftentimes leaves a reader with a strong emotional response but lacks the literary depth or the breadth of subject that could inspire life changing spiritual growth With this premise at the heart of her book Connie Wineland includes her own story of conversion to Christianity by way of reading fiction During her late twenties and early thirties particularly while in graduate school Wineland became immersed in literary and rhetorical studies while also practicing an Eastern form of religion as well as Native American spirituality However despite all her training in literary theory her readings in Romantic Victorian modern and postmodern literature which she explains as well as her personal interest in mythology and world religions kept her questioning the existence of God and the possible nature of God Then as a relatively new convert to Christianity she faced several challenges at a small Christian college where she taught literature and writing courses Eventually wanting to reach beyond the academic community Wineland began a local Christian readers group which she ran for four years She includes in this book resources and materials such as sample syllabi and study guide questions useful Web addresses and plenty of how to information for starting and running your own book club Also included is an extensive list of annotated titles of recommended reading to get anyone started

Practicing Discernment with Youth David F.

White,2018-09-13 Throughout history youth have been at the center of their communities energy and creativity including their efforts to seek faith and justice However today s adolescents have been relegated as passive learners and consumers lacking full adult power for longer than any age cohort in history This book traces the modern domestication of adolescence from its ancient roots through several key moments of its descent into passivity Empowering youth as agents of Christian faith in the world is not only a social need but is theologically warranted The church and the broken world need the gifts of youth This book elaborates four pedagogical movements listening understanding remembering dreaming and acting as key for noticing and nurturing the faith commitments of youth Too much of contemporary youth ministry represents an attempt to pump energy into our youth to get them excited about what we have to offer This approach attends to energies already present in the lived experiences and hidden commitments of youth and connects them to God s mission in the world practitioner is said to attain spiritual insight by developing meditative visualizations that bring the experience of awakening directly into one's present life without having to wait for later spiritual fulfillment. Vajra Wisdom presents the commentaries of two great nineteenth century Nyingma masters Kunkyen Tenpe Nyima and Shechen Gyalsap IV which guide practitioners engaged in development stage practice through a series of straightforward instructions. The rarity of this kind of material in English makes it indispensable for practitioners and scholars alike. The goal of the development stage of meditation in the Tibetan Buddhist tradition is to realize the inseparability of phenomena and great emptiness. Using the methods of deity visualization, mantra recitation and meditative absorption, the practitioner arrives at this nonconceptual view.
