Sociology of Death and the American Indian Gerry R. Cox, 2022-07-07 Sociology of Death and the American Indian examines dying death disposal and bereavement practices and applies those concepts to select American Indian tribes historically and currently supplemented with oral histories The focus is that learning about other cultures can enhance the understanding of one's own culture by comparing traditional and modern societies Gerry R Cox addresses the centuries of injustices committed against American Indians that led to a neglect of learning about American Indian cultures and attempts to fill the gaps in knowledge of American Indian practices The Biosecurity Individual Frederike Offizier, 2023-12-04 Discoveries in biomedicine and biotechnology especially in diagnostics have made prevention and self surveillance increasingly important in the context of health practices Frederike Offizier offers a cultural critique of the intersection between health security and identity and explores how the focus on risk and security changes our understanding of health and transforms our relationship to our bodies Analyzing a wide variety of texts from life writing to fiction she offers a critical intervention on how this shift in the medical gaze produces new paradigms of difference and new biomedically facilitated identities biosecurity individuals CANCER CURE AND MYSTRIES AND YOGA Dr. NITIN UNKULE, 2010-08-01 In this book I have described significant patterns in the life histories and emotional responses of cancer patients which suggested to me the notion of a Cancer Personality and then I came to know where the real Cancer in our society is There should be a certain resonance between therapist and patient as a decisive factor in psychotherapy which triggers the natural healing process Thus my basic interest is in paranormal phenomena while dealing with cancer and heart patients simply because evolution in Biology is outdated now the talk is about evolution of consciousness Changing the patient's belief system about cancer and the belief systems of the patient and the physician are crucial to the success of the therapy and can be used effectively to support the patient's potential for selfhealing 180 Masterpieces You Should Read Before You Die (Vol.1) Walt Whitman, George Eliot, Herman Hesse, Kahlil Gibran, Anton Chekhov, Herman Melville, Oscar Wilde, Fyodor Dostoevsky, William Shakespeare, Mark Twain, Marcus Aurelius, Nikolai Gogol, James Joyce, Henry David Thoreau, T. Should You Die? Augusto T. S. Cruz, Living healthily for centuries is no longer a sci-fi prospect. It is very likely that the first person to live to 200 years in good health is already alive. Scientific and technological advances of today are starting to produce medicines and treatments which tackle aging directly. The true debate is no longer about whether we can extend our lives and fight death; it is about whether we should. If advances in medicine and engineering protect you and others from aging, diseases, injuries, and accidents, allowing you to live as a healthy 25-year-old for as long as you wanted, where death could only visit you if and when you wished, should you say yes to this future? And what happens if enough people say yes? Will overpopulation be inevitable? Will we lose our identity as humans by relinquishing mortality? Will humanity be challenging the natural and divine order? Will we grow lazy and complacent? Will the divide between the rich and poor grow? Or is overcoming aging and disease a mandate of medicine and a moral imperative to aim for? Perhaps even our destiny as humans. In the same way, push back on hunger, pestilence, and violence; should we end the cycle of suffering and death which aging brings to us all? In Should You Die, Augusto T. S. Cruz weighs in on these questions. The author methodically picks apart arguments supporting each side of the debate, highlighting their strengths and weaknesses, making the book an excellent primer for those interested in the discussion and a helpful guide for those already involved.
