Hearing Things Angela Leighton, 2018-05-07 Drawing on the writings of critics and philosophers and on the comments of poets and novelists who have pointed to the role of the ear in writing and reading Angela Leighton offers a reconsideration of literature as an exercise in hearing things and renews a call for criticism that is creatively attentive to sound's work in every literary text

Hearing Things Leigh Eric Schmidt, 2000-09-15 Faith cometh by hearing so said Saint Paul and devoted Christians from Augustine to Luther down to the present have placed particular emphasis on spiritual arts of listening In quiet retreats for prayer in the noisy exercises of Protestant revivalism in the mystical pursuit of the voices of angels Christians have listened for a divine call But what happened when the ear tuned to God's voice found itself under the inspection of Enlightenment critics This book takes us into the ensuing debate about hearing things an intense entertaining even spectacular exchange over the auditory immediacy of popular Christian piety The struggle was one of encyclopedic range and Leigh Eric Schmidt conducts us through natural histories of the oracles anatomies of the diseased ear psychologies of the unsound mind acoustic technologies from speaking trumpets to talking machines philosophical regimens for educating the senses and rational recreations elaborated from natural magic notably ventriloquism and speaking statues Hearing Things enters this labyrinth all the new disciplines and pleasures of the modern ear to explore the fate of Christian listening during the Enlightenment and its aftermath In Schmidt's analysis the reimagining of hearing was instrumental in constituting religion itself as an object of study and suspicion The mystic's ear was hardly lost but it was now marked deeply with imposture and illusion

Consciousness Inside and Out: Phenomenology, Neuroscience, and the Nature of Experience Richard Brown, 2013-08-23 This volume is product of the third online consciousness conference held at <http://consciousnessonline.com> in February and March 2011. Chapters range over epistemological issues in the science and philosophy of perception, what neuroscience can do to help us solve philosophical issues in the philosophy of mind, what the true nature of black and white vision, pain, auditory, olfactory, or multi-modal experiences are, to higher order theories of consciousness, synesthesia, among others. Each chapter includes a target article, commentaries, and in most cases a final response from the author. Though wide-ranging, all of the papers aim to understand consciousness both from the inside as we experience it and from the outside as we encounter it in our science. The Online Consciousness Conference, founded and organized by Richard Brown, is dedicated to the rigorous study of consciousness and mind. The goal is to bring philosophers, scientists, and interested lay persons together in an online venue to promote high-level discussion and exchanging of views, ideas, and data related to the scientific and philosophical study of consciousness.
