Women Leaders of Europe and the Western Hemisphere Guida M. Jackson, 2009-08-11 Women Leaders of Europe and the Western Hemisphere offers short biographical entries on women both famous and obscure holding the reins of power from ancient times up to the present day on three continents In addition to these alphabetically and regionally arranged entries two essays present often astonishing anecdotes concerning many of these forgotten women bringing them to life and imbuing their stories with all the flamboyance and drama of an epic movie Its companion book covers women leaders from Africa the Middle East Asia and the Pacific European History in a World Perspective, 1975 The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern European History, 1350-1750 Hamish Scott, 2015-07-23 This Handbook re examines the concept of early modern history in a European and global context The term early modern has been familiar especially in Anglophone scholarship for four decades and is securely established in teaching research and scholarly publishing More recently however the unity implied in the notion has fragmented while the usefulness and even the validity of the term and the historical periodisation which it incorporates have been questioned The Oxford Handbook of Early Modern European History 1350 1750 provides an account of the development of the subject during the past half century but primarily offers an integrated and comprehensive survey of present knowledge together with some suggestions as to how the field is developing. It aims both to interrogate the notion of early modernity itself and to survey early modern Europe as an established field of study. The overriding aim will be to establish that early modern is not simply a chronological label but possesses a substantive integrity. Volume I examines Peoples and Place assessing structural factors such as climate printing and the revolution in information social and economic developments and religion including chapters on Orthodoxy Judaism and Islam. The Lost Decade? The 1950s in European History, Politics, Society and Culture Heiko Feldner, Claire Gorrara, Kevin Passmore, 2010-10-12 This volume of essays explores the social political and cultural legacies of a decade which has until relatively recently received scant scholarly attention. Sandwiched uncomfortably between the traumatic events of the Second World War and the dramatic changes of the 1960s the 1950s appeared as seemingly transitional years while they were in fact an astonishingly fecund period of reassessment and experimentation when traditional models were re-evaluated and new models were road tested to be either developed or rejected. An important intervention in the dynamic scholarly re-examination of the 1950s this volume analyzes these years in relation to three broadly defined areas: historiography politics and society and culture. What emerges from all three parts of the volume is a vision of the 1950s as a decade which was to have a profound impact on post-war European identities in two key respects: as a time of accelerated European intellectual exchange and as a time of fertile receptivity to the new variously formulated and contested across and within national borders. Written by experts in the field the contributions to this volume represent some of the most exciting work on the 1950s currently being undertaken in Europe and the US. They combine high intellectual standards with accessibility and will appeal to academics students and the general reader alike. Anti-Fascism in a Global Perspective Kasper Braskén, Nigel Copsey, David J Featherstone, 2020-09-20 This book initiates a critical discussion on the varieties of global anti-fascism and explores the cultural political and practical articulations of anti-fascism around the world. This volume brings together a group of leading scholars on the history of anti-fascism to provide a comprehensive analysis of anti-fascism from a transnational and global perspective and to reveal the abundance and complexity of anti-fascist ideas movements and practices. Through a number of interlinked case studies they examine how different forms of global anti-fascisms were embedded in various national and local contexts during the interwar period and investigate the interrelations between local articulations and the global movement. Contributions also explore the actions and impact of African Asian Latin American Caribbean and Middle Eastern anti-fascist voices that have often been ignored or rendered peripheral in international histories of anti-fascism. Aimed at a postgraduate student audience this book will be useful for modules on the extreme right political history political thought political ideologies political parties social movements political regimes global politics world history and sociology. Development Centre Studies The World Economy Volume 1: A Millennial Perspective and Volume 2: Historical Statistics Maddison Angus, 2006-09-18 The World Economy brings together two reference works by Angus Maddison The World Economy A Millennial Perspective 2001 and The World Economy Historical Statistics 2003 This new edition contains

Statlinks so that readers can access the underlying data in Excel format The Undivided Past David Cannadine, 2014-01-14 From one of our most acclaimed historians a wise and provocative call to re-examine the way we look at the past not merely as the story of incessant conflict between groups but also of human solidarity throughout the ages Investigating the six most salient categories of human identity difference and confrontation religion nation class gender race and civilization David Cannadine questions just how determinative each of them has really been For while each has motivated people dramatically at particular moments they have rarely been as pervasive as divisive or as important as is suggested by such simplified polarities as us versus them black versus white or the clash of civilizations For most of recorded time these identities have been more fluid and these differences less unbridgeable than political leaders media commentators and some historians would have us believe Throughout history in fact fruitful conversations have continually taken place across these allegedly impermeable boundaries of identity the world as Cannadine shows has never been simply and starkly divided between any two adversarial solidarities but always an interplay of overlapping constituencies Yet our public discourse is polarized more than ever around the same simplistic divisions and Manichean narrative has become the default mode to explain everything that is happening in the world today With wide-ranging erudition David Cannadine compellingly argues against the pervasive and pernicious idea that conflict is the inevitable state of human affairs The Undivided Past is an urgently needed work of history one that is also about the present and the future The World is Out of Joint Immanuel Wallerstein, 2015-11-17 The dominant view in social science has been that the modern world shows a pattern of linear development in which all positive social trends rise albeit at an uncertain speed toward a relatively homogenized world In the post 1945 period some analysts contested this linear model arguing that the modern world was rather one of escalating polarization Their view was strengthened by the separate emergence within the natural sciences of complexity studies which suggested that natural systems inevitably moved away from equilibrium and at a certain point bifurcated radically This book based on a truly collaborative international research project evaluates the empirical evidence in this debate in order to 1 give an adequate portrayal of the historical realities of the world system 2 draw a nuanced assessment about this debate and 3 provide the basis on which we can not only envisage probable future trends but also draw conclusions about the policy and or political implications of past and future research The work of ten research clusters based on crucial topics of overlapping nodes of social activity provides a vantage point with which to assess the basic issue a clear picture emerges of world historical interpretations of continuing polarizations

General History of the Caribbean UNESCO Vol 2 NA

NA,2019-06-12 Volume 2 of the General History of the Caribbean covers the evolution of Caribbean societies between 1492 and 1650 through the intrusion of Europeans and Africans This volume examines the early mining and planting in Hispaniola privateers and contraband traders plantation societies extinction of indigenous populations and the beginning of the slave trade The Oxford Handbook of European History, 1914-1945 Nicholas Doumanis,2016-05-05 The period spanning the two World Wars was unquestionably the most catastrophic in Europe's history Despite such undeniably progressive developments as the radical expansion of women's suffrage and rising health standards the era was dominated by political violence and chronic instability Its symbols were Verdun Guernica and Auschwitz By the end of this dark period tens of millions of Europeans had been killed and more still had been displaced and permanently traumatized If the nineteenth century gave Europeans cause to regard the future with a sense of optimism the early twentieth century had them anticipating the destruction of civilization The fact that so many revolutions regime changes dictatorships mass killings and civil wars took place within such a compressed time frame suggests that Europe experienced a general crisis The Oxford Handbook of European History 1914-1945 reconsiders the most significant features of this calamitous age from a transnational perspective It demonstrates the degree to which national experiences were intertwined with those of other nations and how each crisis was implicated in wider regional continental and global developments Readers will find innovative and stimulating chapters on various political social and economic subjects by some of the leading scholars working on modern European history today Leaflet ,1924 Publications ,1922 Historical Association Leaflet ,1924 The American Historical Association George Walter Prothero,1912
