European Judicial Systems ,2018 Goals of Civil Justice and Civil Procedure in Contemporary Judicial Systems Alan Uzelac,2014-01-11 This book is a collection of papers that address a fundamental question What is the role of civil justice and civil procedure in the various national traditions in the contemporary world The book presents striking differences among a range of countries and legal traditions but also points to common trends and open issues It brings together prominent experts professionals and scholars from both civil and common law jurisdictions It represents all main legal traditions ranging from Europe Germanic and Romanic countries Scandinavia ex Socialist countries and Russia to the Americas North and South and China Mainland and Hong Kong While addressing the main issue the goals of civil justice the book discusses the most topical concerns regarding the functioning and efficiency of national systems of civil justice These include concerns such as finding the appropriate balance between accurate fact finding and the right to a fair trial within a reasonable time the processing of hard cases and the function of civil justice as a specific public service In the mosaic of contrasts and oppositions special place is devoted to the continuing battle between the individualistic liberal approach and the collectivist paternalistic approach the battle in which seemingly paternalistic tendencies regain momentum in a number of contemporary justice systems

Online Arbitration Faye Fangfei Wang,2017-08-14 Innovative initiatives for online arbitration are needed to aid in resolving cross border commercial and consumer disputes in the EU UK US and China This book provides a comparative study of online dispute resolution ODR systems and a model of best practices taking into consideration the features and characteristics of various practical experiences examples of ODR services and technological development for ODR systems and platforms The book begins with a theoretical approach looking into the challenges in the use of online arbitration in commercial transactions and analysing the potential adoption of technology assisted arbitration e.g. Basic ODR systems and Intelligent Advanced ODR systems in resolving certain types of international commercial and consumer disputes. It then investigates the legal obstacles to adopting ODR by examining the compatibility of technology with current legislation and regulatory development. Finally, it suggests appropriate legal and technological measures to promote the recognition of ODR in particular online arbitration for cross-border commercial and consumer disputes. By exploring both the theoretical framework and the practical considerations of online arbitration, this book will be a vital reference for lawyers, policy makers, government officials, industry professionals, and academics who are involved with online arbitration.

Yearbook of the European Convention on Human Rights/Annuaire de la convention européenne des droits de l'homme, Volume 59 (2016) Council of Europe/Conseil de l'Europe, 2017-12-06. The Yearbook of the European Convention on Human Rights, edited by the Directorate General of Human Rights and Legal Affairs, is an indispensable record of the development and impact of the world's oldest binding international human rights treaty. It reviews the implementation of the Convention both by the European Court of Human Rights and by the Council of Europe's Committee of Ministers responsible for supervising the application of the Court's judgments in the member states. The Yearbook includes the full text of any new protocols to the Convention as they are opened for signature, together with the state of signatures and ratifications. Full listing of Court judgments, judgments broken down by subject matter, and extensive summaries of key judgments handed down by the Court during the year. Selected human rights DH resolutions adopted as part of the Committee of Ministers' work supervising the execution of the Court's judgments. Enquiries by the Secretary General carried out under Article 52 of the Convention. Other work of the Council of Europe connected with the European Convention on Human Rights carried out by the Committee of Ministers, the Parliamentary Assembly, and the Directorate General of Human Rights and Legal Affairs. Bibliographic information from the library of the European Court of Human Rights. The Yearbook is published in an English-French bilingual edition.

Civil Procedure and EU Law Eva Storskrubb, 2008. Examining a burgeoning policy area of the EU, the regulation of cross-border civil and commercial litigation, this title analyses the EU's specific legislative measures and assesses their impact on litigation procedure, particularly due process rights.

European Integration and Transformation in the Western Balkans Arola Elbasani, 2013-09-02. The book investigates the scope and limitations of the transformative power of EU enlargement in the Western Balkans. The extension of EU enlargement policy to the region has generated high expectations that enlargement will regulate democratic institution building and foster reform much as it did in Central and Eastern Europe. However, there is very little research on whether and how unfavourable domestic conditions might mitigate the transformative power of the EU. This volume investigates the role of domestic factors, identifying stateness as the missing link between the assumed transformative power of the EU and the actual capacity to adopt EU rules across the region. Including chapters on Croatia, Serbia, Macedonia, Albania, Kosovo, and Bosnia Herzegovina, leading scholars in the field offer up-to-date comparative analysis of key areas of institutional and policy reform including state bureaucracy rule of law electoral management environmental governance cooperation with the International Court of Justice economic liberalization and foreign policy Looking to the future and the implications for policy change European Integration and Transformation in the Western Balkans provides a new theoretical and empirical focus on this little understood area The book will be of interest to scholars and students of EU politics comparative democratisation post communist transitions and Balkan area studies Jacobs, White and Ovey Bernadette Rainey, Pamela

McCormick, Clare Ovey, Elizabeth Wicks, 2021 Explores the key principles underpinning the decisions made by the European Court of Human Rights and provides a guide to the pivotal cases in each area Coping with Overloaded Criminal

Justice Systems Jörg-Martin Jehle, Marianne Wade, 2006-11-22 Heightened crime rates across Europe have led to increased workloads for police prosecution and courts systems and resources have not risen in line Each country has coped with this mismatch of workload and resources in its own way and in most cases the practices and powers of each of the agencies involved have needed to be changed as a reaction to this This book describes the results of a six nation study of how criminal justice agencies in England and Wales France Germany Netherlands Poland and Sweden have reacted to high crime rates and punitiveness It shows how various solutions have been found involving diversion of cases from courts increases in financial penalties imposed by police or prosecutors without full court hearings and the introduction in some countries of administrative offences The book reveals the fast moving and far reaching changes that are now in process involving wide scale changes to the way justice is being delivered throughout the EU Jacobs, White & Ovey: The European

Convention on Human Rights Robin C A White, Clare Ovey, 2010-03-18 The highly experienced and respected authors select the most important case law and give a highly authoritative concise account of the European Convention on Human Rights Focuses on the European Convention itself rather than its implementation in any one member state and so is essential reading for human rights students across Europe Examines each Convention right in turn with a newly revised structure to map even more closely to human rights courses As a lecturer and a practitioner the authors are perfectly placed to provide up to date coverage of Strasbourg case law and explain it in a lively straightforward manner From publisher's website

The Oxford Handbook of Empirical Legal Research Peter Cane, Herbert Kritzer, 2012-05-17 The empirical study of law legal systems and legal institutions is widely viewed as one of the most exciting and important intellectual developments in the modern history of legal research Motivated by a conviction that legal phenomena can and should be understood not only in normative terms but also as social practices of political economic and ethical significance empirical legal researchers have used quantitative and qualitative methods to illuminate many aspects of law's meaning operation and impact In the 43 chapters of The Oxford Handbook of Empirical Legal Research leading scholars provide accessible and original discussions of the history aims and methods of empirical research about law as well as its achievements and potential The Handbook has three parts The first deals with the development and institutional context of empirical legal research The second and largest part consists of critical accounts of empirical research on many aspects of the legal world on criminal law civil law public law regulatory law and international law on lawyers judicial institutions legal procedures and evidence and on legal pluralism and the public understanding of law The third part introduces readers to the methods of empirical research and its place in the law school curriculum

The European Union and Human Rights Jan Wouters, Manfred Nowak, Anna-Luise Chané, Nicolas Hachez, 2020-12-17 With the adoption of the Lisbon Treaty the profile of human rights issues has greatly risen in relation to EU policies whether internal or external The EU has thereby made the commitment to ensure that all its actions are compliant with human rights and seek to promote them Yet the EU's commitment has come under scrutiny not only for its ground breaking character but also because recent events have put it to the test This volume has been designed to take stock of these developments to comprehensively discuss the conceptualization and operationalization of the EU's commitment to human rights throughout the EU's relationships policies actions and legislative activity and to critically assess its outcome This title is divided into four parts Framework presents the issues related to human rights promotion by the EU Actors delves into the relationships that play a part at home or abroad in regards to human rights policies and judgements Policies takes a case study approach and systematically reviews a range of EU internal and external policies to assess their human rights impact and implementation and finally Strategies provides an integrated assessment of the design and implementation of the EU's commitment to human rights This book brings together essays from around the world each discussing different aspects of EU commitment and evaluating the extent to which the EU is delivering on it Each chapter provides an introduction to the state of affairs discusses opportunities and challenges and provides recommendations As such it is an essential reference book on human rights policies throughout the EU and their impact throughout the world

The European Convention on Human Rights and Private Law Mateja Durovic, Cristina Poncibò, 2024-11-14 In this book a team of expert contributors address challenging issues concerning the relationship between private law and the rule of law and human rights with specific focus on case studies from South Eastern Europe The book examines the broadening application of human rights to the private law fields and the resulting effects Contributors offer a truly interdisciplinary perspective drawn from comparative law civil law procedural law and public law By so doing for the first time they offer insights into the fascinating questions the region poses for private law and human rights
