Eus Enlargement And Mediterranean Strategies A Comparative Analysis:

The EUs Enlargement and Mediterranean Strategies M. Maresceau,E. Lannon,2001-03-01 This book analyses and compares the preferential relations between the EU and the countries on its eastern and southern peripheries It presents a comprehensive study of the emerging pan Euro Mediterranean regional integration and analyses the economic political and social strategies adopted by the EU and will be an indispensable reference work for those working on issues related to EU enlargement and integration

The EU's Enlargement and Mediterranean Strategies Marc Maresceau,Erwan Lannon,2001-05-18 This book is one of the rare studies embracing through a comparative and prospective approach the emerging pan Euro Mediterranean regional integration The main purpose of this study is to make an analysis and a systematic comparison of the preferential relations between the EU and its eastern and southern peripheries and to stimulate further reflection on this topic The respective frameworks for these relations share considerable similarities but also many differences

The Interface Between EU and International Law Inge Govaere,Sacha Garben,2019-05-16 Despite their many obvious interconnections EU and international law are all too often studied and practised in different spheres While it is natural for each to insist on its own unique characteristics and in particular for the EU to emphasise its sui generis nature important insights might be lost because of this exclusionary approach This book aims to break through some of those barriers and to show how more interaction between the two spheres might be encouraged In so doing it offers a constitutional dimension but also a substantive one identifying policy areas where EU and international law and their respective actors work alongside each other Offering a 360 degree view on both EU and international institutional and substantive law this collection presents a refreshing perspective on a longstanding issue

The Will of Change Eva-Maria Maggi,2015-10-13 In this book Eva Maria Maggi argues that the European Union EU had an impact on institutional reform processes in North Africa in cases where major domestic actors agreed She analyzes how political actors in Morocco used EU neighborhood policies to shape economic and environmental policy between 1995 and 2008 Maggi argues that it was not the design of the EU s neighborhood policies but rather the will of change of domestic actors in Morocco that determined the pace direction of reform and the extent to which the EU continues to play a role in them While Moroccan politics were indeed europeanized Maggi highlights the role of domestic actors who so effectively managed to put forth their own policy priorities and essentially moroconized the ENP

The European Union at the United Nations K. Laatikainen,K. Smith,2006-04-13 This is the first book to examine in depth the EU s relationship with the UN and to analyze critically the EU s contribution to effective multilateralism The contributors show that the EU most often fails to make the UN as effective as it should be in addressing global challenges

Palgrave Advances in European Union Studies A. Bourne,M. Cini,2005-10-31 Palgrave Advances in European Union Studies breaks new ground in offering advanced readers an insight into the state of the discipline in EU studies It comprises theoretical and empirical essays which deal with how the European Union has been and continues to be studied providing an invaluable tool for academics post graduate students and advanced undergraduates who are keen to understand this increasingly diverse field of study European Union Policy towards the Arab-Israeli Peace Process C. Musu,2010-02-12 What are the achievements the limits and the failures of the EU s involvement in the Arab Israeli conflict This book sets out to answer this question by analysing the development of European policy towards the conflict over the last forty years Comparative Economic Studies in Europe Wladimir Andreff,2020-11-16 This book is written in honor of Horst Brezinski and explores a wide and diverse range of topics related to comparative economic studies Containing contributions from a number of former Presidents of the European Association for Comparative Economic Studies the chapters discuss the hard budget constraint economic transformation in Central Eastern Europe illiberal democracy sovereign wealth fund higher education the euro the shadow economy multinational companies and economic power Additional attention is given to new areas of study such as the digital economy and sports economics This book aims to examine comparative economies across a wide range of geographical areas including China Hungary the United Kingdom Poland and the United States and will be relevant to those interested in emerging and transition economies the political economy economic policy and international relations The European Union and North Africa Adel Abdel Ghafar,2019-04-23 How Europe can hit the reset button after years of failed responses to North African turmoil The ongoing upheaval in North Africa has presented many challenges to Europe which previously had been comfortable with the status quo of authoritarian leadership in much of the region Now in its ninth year the turmoil has forced European leaders to rethink their approaches to the region based on the now obvious reality that the brief hopes of early 2011 for the spread of democracy and economic progress will not be fulfilled anytime soon In this book experts from Europe the United States and the Middle East discuss what has happened since the so called Arab Spring emerged and how those often bewildering events have affected both North Africa and the European states across the Mediterranean The book is based on papers presented at a March 2018 conference sponsored by the South Mediterranean Regional Program of the Konrad Adenauer Stiftung Chapters focus on events in Algeria Egypt Libya Morocco and Tunisia and offer ideas for how the European Union can adopt fresh approaches to the region moving beyond its frequently uncertain and shifting responses of recent years Labor, Employment, and Social Policies in the EU Enlargement Process Lodovico Pizzati,Bernard Funck,2002 The process of transition to a market economy and integration into the EU has strained the labour markets of central and eastern European countries and these developments pose a number of challenges to their social policies This volume presents the contributions given at an international labour conference held in Austria in June 2001 to investigate these issues It provides the latest labour trends in EU accession countries and compares them to previous experiences of European integration It reviews existing labour market policies and social protection mechanisms and discusses alternative strategies for employment creation in the region Comparative Perspectives on the Substance of EU Democracy

Promotion Anne Wetzel, Jan Orbie, Fabienne Bossuyt, 2017-10-02 This book examines the substance of European Union EU democracy promotion by comparing it with norms of governance that other international actors promote among them the United Nations the United States the Central and East European EU member states Russia China and non governmental organizations It aims is to gain a better understanding of the EU s democracy promotion agenda and to learn more about the in distinctiveness of the norms diffused by the EU Building on a common conceptual chapter the contributions follow different theoretical approaches and research designs and focus on a diversity of case studies The book concludes that in comparison with other international actors the EU s conceptual approach to democracy promotion is diffuse which in turn makes the EU a particularly flexible but also technical democracy promoter when it comes to implementation At the same time there are limits to flexibility at the level of concepts and frames This indicates a distinct character of the substance of EU democracy promotion which can be linked to the nature of the EU polity This book was published as a special issue of the Cambridge Review of International Affairs Energy Research Abstracts ,1993 Global Change, Clonal Growth, and Biological Invasions by Plants Fei-Hai Yu, Sergio R. Roiloa, Peter Alpert, 2016-11-29 There are few more active frontiers in plant science than helping understand and predict the ecological consequences of on going global changes in climate land use and cover nutrient cycling and acidity This collection of research papers and reviews focuses on how these changes are likely to interact with two important factors clonal growth in plants and the introduction of species into new regions by humans to reshape the ecology of our world Clonal growth is vegetative reproduction in which offspring remain attached to the parent at least until establishment Clonal growth is associated with the invasiveness of introduced species their tendency to spread after introduction and negatively affect other species Will changes in climate land cover or nutrients further increase biological invasions by introduced clonal plants The articles in this book seek to address this question with new research and theory on clonal growth and its interactions with invasiveness and other components of global change PAIS

European Strategy for Jobs and Growth Great Britain: Parliament: House of Lords: European Union Committee, 2006-03-16 This report by the European Union Committee examines the progress of the European Union in initiating a strategy for jobs and growth across the Community as a whole The background to this report stems from the Spring European Council meeting in 2000 in Lisbon and the launch of an economic reform agenda The Committee observes that since the Lisbon Agenda little progress has been made and the performance of many of the larger European economies has been poor The Committee has noted that certain worrying signs of protectionist behaviour have developed especially regarding barriers of cross border mergers The EU has recognized this weak performance and the Agenda was relaunched in 2005 with a greater focus on the key economic priorities of more growth and jobs Also all Member States are now required to produce an annual National Action Plan highlighting the policies being pursued to improve economic growth and increase employment The Committee sets out a number of recommendations to further push forward the priorities of growth and jobs including that the Commission should seek to complete the progress towards an internal market that Member States should influence one another in the development of good practice through statistical comparison of their economic progress and agree on quantifiable targets that the format of the National Action Plans should include not only the successes but where countries are underperforming that the Agenda be given a higher public profile Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis
