Evaluating Large Scale Voluntary Transfers Of Local Authority Housing Housing Research Report:

Evaluating Large Scale Voluntary Transfers of Local Authority Housing David Mullins, Pat Niner, Moyra Riseborough, 1995-01-01 Large Scale Voluntary Transfer LSVT has become the main mechanism for transferring tenanted housing from local authorities to housing associations This is the final report of a five year programme of research commissioned by the Department of the Environment it focuses on the effects of LSVT in terms of organizational changes management performance and tenant satisfaction based on case studies of some of the earliest transfers The first part of the report provides an update on issues discussed in greater depth in the interim report published by HMSO in 1992 ISBN 0 11 7526991 The second part presents material illustrating the effects of transfer whilst the final part of the report evaluates the experience of transfer to date After Council Housing Hal Pawson, David Mullins, Tony Gilmour, 2010-06-03 Few single policies have had a more profound impact on the modern British housing system than the wholesale transfer of public housing to new social landlords primarily Housing Associations This important new text provides a comprehensive account of the causes processes and consequences of stock transfer Housing, Markets and Policy Peter Malpass, Rob Rowlands, 2009-09-10 This book of specially commissioned essays by distinguished housing scholars addresses the big issues in contemporary debates about housing and housing policy in the UK Setting out a distinctive and coherent analysis it steers a course between those accounts that rely on economic theory and analysis and those that emphasize policy It is informed by the idea that the 1970s was a pivotal decade in the second half of the twentieth century and that since that time there has been a profound transformation in the housing system and housing policy in the UK The contributors describe analyze and explain aspects of that transformation as a basis for understanding the present and thinking about the future The analysis of housing is set within an understanding of the wider changes affecting the economy and the welfare state since the crises of the mid 1970s Housing Policy in the UK David Mullins, Alan Murie, 2017-09-16 Housing Policy in the UK is a major new textbook that traces the emergence of a new comprehensive housing policy in the wake of the Communities Plan and regionalisation Grounded in cutting edge research and analysis it provides a clear account of the evolution and current dimensions and tensions at the heart of this policy Housing Policy Paul Balchin, Maureen Rhoden, 2019-01-09 Now in its fourth edition this textbook has been completely revised to examine the current state of housing policy in the UK Exploring developments in housing policy made since Labour's 1997 electoral victory the book addresses current issues including the brownfield versus greenfield debate the phasing out of renovation grants the transfer of local authority housing to registered social landlords boom slump and boom in the owner occupied sector Other topics addressed range from regional policy and housing across the UK to social exclusion community care and homelessness Housing Policy In The United States Jean Conway, 2003-08-27 Housing Policy An Introduction has been completely revised for its fourth edition Describing and explaining policies as well as analysing recent changes this book provides an accessible introduction to housing policy

Housing Policy In The United States Paul Balchin, Maureen Rhoden, 2020-10-28 Housing Policy in the United States is an essential guidebook to and textbook for housing policy it is written for students practitioners government officials real estate developers and policy analysts It discusses the most important issues in the field introduces key concepts and institutions and examines the most important programs Written as an introductory text it explains all concepts trends and programs without jargon and includes empirical data concerning program evaluations government documents and studies carried out by the author and other scholars The first chapters present the context surrounding US housing policy including basic trends and problems the housing finance system and the role of the federal tax system in subsidizing homeowner and rental housing The middle chapters focus on individual subsidy programs The closing chapters discuss issues and programs that do not necessarily involve subsidies including homeownership mixed income housing and governmental efforts to improve access to housing by reducing discriminatory barriers in the housing and mortgage markets The concluding chapter also offers reflections on future directions of US housing policy Understanding Affordability Geoffrey Meen, Christine

Whitehead, 2020-07-08 For many younger and lower income people housing affordability continues to worsen Based on the academic research of two distinguished housing economists and stimulated by working with governments across the world this wide ranging book sets out clear theoretical and empirical frameworks to tackle one of today s most important socio economic issues Housing unaffordability arises from complex forces and a prerequisite to effective policy is understanding the causes of rising house prices and rents and the interactions between housing housing finance and the macroeconomy The authors challenge many of the conventional wisdoms in housing policy and offer innovative recommendations to improve affordability Neighbourhood Renewal and Housing Markets Harris Beider, 2008-04-15 The academic and policy interest in the development of cities the renewal of residential and older industrial neighbourhoods in cities and issues to do with race polarisation and inequality in cities has remained at the forefront of policy and academic debate across Europe and North America This book provides an important new contribution to these debates and highlights specific issues and developments which are crucial to an understanding of debates about residence renewal and community empowerment engages with the urban regeneration development and housing aspects of real estate places debates on polarisation inequality and race in a city based structure provides up to date account of policy developments Young People,

Housing and Social Policy Julie Rugg, 2002-01-22 Presenting up to date empirical research on the subject of young people housing and social policy in contemporary Britain this book considers the issue of young people s early housing histories in the context of a range of government policy initiatives aimed at the group It offers a critique of aspects of social policy that specifically address the housing of young people Topics covered include young people leaving care young people in the parental home youth homelessness housing services for young people students in the private rented sector young owner occupiers housing benefit for the under 25s young single parent families young people and housing in rural areas social housing British Reports, Translations and Theses British Library. Document Supply Centre,1995 The Tenants' Movement Quintin Bradley,2014-05-09 The Tenants Movement is both a history of tenant organization and mobilization and a guide to understanding how the struggles of tenant organizers have come to shape housing policy today Charting the history of tenant mobilization and the rise of consumer movements in housing it is one of the first cross cultural historical analyses of tenants organizations roles in housing policy The Tenants Movement shows both the past and future of tenant mobilization The book s approach applies social movement theory to housing studies and bridges gaps between research in urban sociology urban studies and the built environment and provides a challenging study of the ability of contemporary social movements community campaigns and urban struggles to shape the debate around public services and engage with the unfinished project of welfare reform Evaluating Large Scale Voluntary Transfers of Local Authority Housing Great Britain. Department of the Environment,1992 HMSO Annual Catalogue Great Britain. Her Majesty's Stationery Office,1995 Tenants' Complaints and the Reform of Housing Management Valerie Ann Karn,Rachel Lickiss,David Hughes,1997 There has been widespread criticism of social housing services both those of local authorities and housing associations This text is concerned with ways in which tenants can respond to and influence the housing service they receive Regulating Social Housing David Cowan,Morag McDermont,2021-04-29 Drawing upon Foucauldian analyzes of governmentality the authors contend that social housing must be understood according to a range of political rationalities that saturate current practice and policy They critically address the practice of dividing social from private tenure situating subjects such as the purpose and financing of social housing the regulation of its providers and occupiers and its relationship to changing perceptions of private renting and owner occupation within the context of an argument that all housing tenures form part of an understanding of social housing They also take up the ways in which social housing is regulated through the invocation and manipulation of obscure notions of housing need and affordability and finally they consider how social housing has provided a focus for debates about sustainable communities and for concerns about anti social behaviour Regulating Social Housing provides a rich and insightful analysis that will be of value to legal scholars criminologists and other social scientists with interests in housing urban studies and contemporary forms of regulation Evaluating Large Scale Voluntary Transfers of Local Authority Housing David Mullins,Pat Niner,Moyra Riseborough,1992 Research & Publications Report ,1988 Catalogue of British Official Publications Not Published by HMSO. ,2001 Urban Abstracts ,1993
