Evaluating A Course:

Evaluating a Course Ian Forsyth, Alan Jolliffe, David Stevens, 1999 Clearly structured and illustrated with tables charts and figures to help educators come to terms with how best to evaluate a course this text provides tips intended to make course evaluation easy clearly demonstrating the place of different types of assessment in education Evaluating Online Teaching Thomas J. Tobin, B. Jean Mandernach, Ann H. Taylor, 2015-06-02 Create a more effective system for evaluating online faculty Evaluating Online Teaching is the first comprehensive book to outline strategies for effectively measuring the quality of online teaching providing the tools and guidance that faculty members and administrators need The authors address challenges that colleges and universities face in creating effective online teacher evaluations including organizational structure institutional governance faculty and administrator attitudes and possible budget constraints Through the integration of case studies and theory the text provides practical solutions geared to address challenges and foster effective efficient evaluations of online teaching Readers gain access to rubrics forms and worksheets that they can customize to fit the needs of their unique institutions Evaluation methods designed for face to face classrooms from student surveys to administrative observations are often applied to the online teaching environment leaving reviewers and instructors with an ill fitted and incomplete analysis Evaluating Online Teaching shows how strategies for evaluating online teaching differ from those used in traditional classrooms and vary as a function of the nature purpose and focus of the evaluation This book guides faculty members and administrators in crafting an evaluation process specifically suited to online teaching and learning for more accurate feedback and better results Readers will Learn how to evaluate online teaching performance Examine best practices for student ratings of online teaching Discover methods and tools for gathering informal feedback Understand the online teaching evaluation life cycle The book concludes with an examination of strategies for fostering change across campus as well as structures for creating a climate of assessment that includes online teaching as a component Evaluating Online Teaching helps institutions rethink the evaluation process for online teaching with the end goal of improving teaching and learning student success and institutional results Evaluating a Course Ian Forsyth, 2017-06-28 This practical guide demonstrates the place of different types of assessment in education There are tables charts figures and practical tips to help make course evaluation easier This edition includes information on using the Internet as part of a course Evaluating Medical School Courses Neal Whitman, 1984 Evaluating Medical School Courses Neal Whitman, Thomas W. Cockayne, 1999 Evaluating Business and Industry Training Leslie Steven May, Carol Ann Moore, Stephen J. Zammit, 2012-12-06 In the abstract training is seen as valuable by most people in business and industry However in the rush of providing training programs on time and within budget evaluation of training is frequently left behind as a nice to have addition if practical In addition the training function itself is left with the dilemma of proving its worth to management without a substantive history of evaluation This book is designed to provide managers educators and trainers alike the opportunity to explore the issues and benefits of evaluating business and industry training The purpose is to motivate more effective decisions for training investments based on information about the value of training in attaining business goals Without evaluation the value of specific training efforts cannot be adequately measured the value of training investments overall cannot be fully assessed and the contributions of the training function to the corporation s goals cannot be duly recognized Articles are grouped into three sections although many themes appear across sections The first section establishes the context of training evaluation in a business organization The second section emphasizes evaluation of training products and services and the third section discusses costs and benefits of evaluation and communication and use of evaluation results in decision making In Section I the context of training evaluation is established from a variety of perspectives First training and training evaluation are discussed in the context of corporate strategic goals Criminal Justice Evaluation Course, 1981 Evaluating Second Language Courses Dale Griffie, Greta Gorsuch, 2016-07-01 Typically books on evaluation in the second and foreign language field deal with large programs and often result from large scale studies done by the authors The challenge for ordinary second and foreign language classroom teachers is that they must extrapolate techniques or strategies for evaluation from a very large scale to a much smaller scale that of the course At the same time classroom teachers are responsible for outcomes of their courses and need to do evaluation on a scale and for needs of their choosing Evaluating Second Language Courses is designed for classroom teachers who are dealing with a single course and who wish to understand and improve some aspect of their course Criminal justice evaluation course United States. Assessing media education is a formidable task because both assessment and media education are complex and controversial concepts Assessment which can take place at the individual student class sequence program department or unit and university levels is questioned in terms of reliability validity relevance and cost Media education which has been challenged at a number of schools finds faculty and administrators in the midst of soul searching about how to clearly articulate its missions and purposes to a broader audience Departments are under increasing national state and institutional pressure to get assessment procedures carried out quickly but there is an obvious danger in rushing to implement assessment strategies before establishing what is essential in media education In communication education in general the what of assessment is often discussed in terms of skills attitudes affect values and knowledge People assess students to determine what they know think feel value and can do Here it is suggested that one of the places to start defining what students should learn from their media education is by identifying outcomes Outcomes can be assessed in a variety of ways but first they need to be developed and clearly articulated
