Assessments 2005-06 Great Britain: National Audit Office, 2006-06-28 Regulatory Impact Assessments RIAs are designed to enable policy makers to assess the need for and impact of new regulations In 2005 Government departments produced around 200 Final RIAs They have been used to assess the likely economic social and environmental impacts of the proposed regulation and the range of options for implementing it They have grown in scope in recent years as additional assessment criteria such as sustainable development have been added Departments have primary responsibility for undertaking RIAs and the Better Regulation Executive BRE which forms part of the Cabinet Office has primary responsibility for taking forward the Government's Better Regulation agenda The National Audit Office focused its examination on four departments Culture Media and Sport DCMS Trade and Industry Home Office and Transport DfT RIAs are often not used in the right way The purpose of RIAs is not always understood there is a lack of clarity in the presentation of the analysis and persistent weaknesses in the assessments RIAs are only occasionally used to challenge the need for regulation and influence policy decisions If used well RIAs can offer an effective tool for assessing different options and identifying regulatory solutions that do not impose unnecessary costs on those being regulated There are three ways the BRE should bolster RIAs Firstly it should re emphasise that economics should lie at the heart of RIAs considering market failure counterfactuals competition and how consumers and organisations behave Secondly RIAs need to be supplemented by a broader toolkit that policy makers can use earlier in the life of a policy Thirdly the BRE could re emphasise the importance of the RIA process in challenging the introduction of new regulations Evaluation as a Tool for Research, Learning and Making Things Better Satu

Evaluation of the Information on Nutrition, Food Security and Resilience for Decision Making (INFORMED) Programme Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,2021-01-28

The INFORMED programme implemented by FAO from 2015 to 2019 was designed to contribute to increasing the resilience of livelihoods to threats and crises and contributing to the reduction of food insecurity and malnutrition The programme s increased focused on Early Warning for Early Action EWEA was very relevant to fill existing gaps with a comparative advantage for FAO in slow onset and food chain crises contexts Promoting the use of pre agreed plans and pre identified anticipatory actions the project effectively improved risk analysis and decision making including through the Global Report on Food Crises and increased access to appropriate financing instruments while the EWEA country toolkit initial positive spinoffs remain to be built on Efforts to support resilience measurement and analyses by applying the resilience index measurement and analysis RIMA methodology are relevant given the significant investments in resilience programming and the continuing methodological gaps However although RIMA provides a basis for creating evidence on resilience investments and FAO has been an important pioneer in resilience measurement a wider system supporting resilience analysis is needed

based on a range of methodologies responding to the information needs of decision makers Also RIMA baseline lacks sufficient detail to allow articulating the feasibility of possible response options and have a practical impact on planning decisions it has not demonstrated its added value over pre existing food security nutrition and risk indicators to help target interventions and is not well adapted as an impact evaluation tool Assessing INFORMED results against its intention to support knowledge production and sharing to promote the replication of good practices and circular learning the evaluation questioned the choice of creating a new knowledge management platform versus adopting a collaborative approach building on similar initiatives strengths Poor strategic choices represented a fundamental constraint to reach intended objectives such as an insufficient understanding of users explaining the difficulty to trace the uptake and use of knowledge products Nevertheless the evaluation recognized the progressive investments in knowledge management and sizeable accomplishments of a relatively small team The evaluation suggests strengthening capacities for the production and dissemination of forecast scenario based early warning as a basis for early action developing a corporate strategy for partnering to strengthen early warning system capacities at various levels promoting the use of a toolkit of approaches and investing in a knowledge management function dedicated to capturing and disseminating lessons on the effectiveness of EWEA and resilience interventions
