Festival and Event Management in Nordic Countries

Tommy D. Andersson, Donald Getz, Reidar Johan Mykletun, 2014-06-11 This book on events related research marks a watershed in the development of a Nordic School of festival and event research Each of the chapters presents a new and interesting approach to the study of events in terms of methods perspectives or content It is mostly rooted in management theory but also incorporating other perspectives that enhance our understanding of the phenomena Implications for real world applications in tourism hospitality and community development are also at the fore The scholarship is comprehensive not focused on only tourism or economic aspects Management theory including stakeholder management social networks and institutionalization processes is being applied Attention is being given to the multiple roles festivals and events play in society and to evaluation of their worth and impacts Innovative methods are being developed to examine event experiences innovation processes and success factors There is now a critical mass of scholars in the Nordic countries that share a strong interest in event studies and they are engaged in collaborative research making it an appealing and innovative region for other event students and researchers to visit It can be expected that the Nordic school will take an increasingly important place in the development of event studies which is now truly global in terms of scholarship and university degree programs This book was originally published as a special issue of Scandinavian Journal of Hospitality and Tourism Routledge

Handbook of the Tourist Experience Richard Sharpley, 2021-11-17 Routledge Handbook of the Tourist Experience offers a comprehensive synthesis of contemporary research on the tourist experience It draws together multidisciplinary perspectives from leading tourism scholars to explore emergent tourist behaviours and motivations This handbook provides up to date critical discussions of established and emergent themes and issues related to the tourist experience from a primarily socio cultural perspective It opens with a detailed introduction which lays down the framework used to examine the dynamic parameters of the tourist experience Organised into five thematic sections chapters seek to build and enhance knowledge and understanding of the significance and meaning of diverse elements of the tourist experience Section 1 conceptualises and understands the tourist experience through an exploration of conventional themes such as tourism as authentic and spiritual experience as well as emerging themes such as tourism as an embodied experience Section 2 investigates the new developing tourist demands and motivations and a growing interest in the travel career Section 3 considers the significance motives practices and experiences of different types of tourists and their roles such as the tourist as photographer Section 4 discusses the relevance of place to the tourist experience by exploring the relationship between tourism and place The last section Section 5 scrutinises the role of the tourist in creating their experiences through themes such as transformations in the tourist role from passive receiver of experiences to co creator of experiences and external mediators in creating tourist experiences This handbook is the first to fill a notable gap in the tourism literature and collate within a single volume critical insights into the diverse elements of the tourist experience today It will be of key interest to academics and students across the fields of tourism hospitality management geography marketing and consumer behaviour Event Communication

Lorentzen,Karin Topsø Larsen,Lise Schrøder,2015-05-22 This book explores the dynamics of place location and territories from the perspective of an experience based economy It offers a valuable contribution to this new approach and the planning and management challenges it faces This book emphasises three key avenues to understanding the experience economy First the book reconsiders innovation processes and the relationship between the consumption and production of experience value Second it considers emerging forms of governance related to experience based development in businesses and cities Third it examines the role of place as a value resource and outcome of experiential innovation and planning This book will be of interested to researchers concerned with urban and regional development Tourism Development and Local Participation in Latin America Heidi Dahles, Lou Keune, 2002 Creating Experience Value in Tourism, 2nd Edition Nina K Prebensen, Joseph S Chen, Muzaffer Uysal, 2018-06-18 Research delivers a multitude of approaches to value creation represented here as a set of definitions perspectives and interpretations of how tourists as customers create value alone and with others Now updated throughout Creating Experience Value in Tourism 2nd Edition provides a clarification of these approaches as well as a practical translation as to how they can work within industry Concluding with a summary of the areas for future research this is a key resource for researchers particularly those interested in experience value and co creation as well as a useful read for students of tourism and related industries Dictionary of Event Studies, Event Management and Event Tourism Emma Abson, Vladimir Antchak, Joe Goldblatt, William O'Toole, Stephen Page, Raphaela Stadler, Vassilios Ziakas, 2021-03-31 A complete and thorough ontology of the study of planned events and the professional practice of event management and event tourism Contains user friendly explanations and language to explain and contextualise jargon and technical terms within this wide and varied field Arctic Tourism Experiences Young-Sook Lee, David Weaver, Nina K Prebensen, 2017-03-10 An exploration of Arctic tourism focusing on tourist experiences and industry provision of those experiences this is the first compilation to concentrate on the fundamental essence of the Arctic as being a geographical periphery but also an experiential core that offers peak tourism experiences Part 1 investigates the depth and dimensions of tourist experiences in the Arctic Chapters examine the essence of diverse peak experiences and delve into the factors that give rise to these experiences Part 2 considers the links between these core experiences and the tourism industry that seeks to sustain itself by facilitating such satisfying outcomes Valuation of Ecosystem Services from Nordic Watersheds David N. Barton, Nordic Council of Ministers, 2012-02-29 The emergence of the ecosystem services concept suggests that economic valuation studies are already fulfilling a role in raising awareness by demonstrating the loss of nature's goods and services using monetary indicators In order to have future relevance in capturing value and giving support to policy makers valuation methods must specifically address resource accounting priority setting and instrument design This report provides an overview of economic valuation methods of ecosystem services from watersheds in the Nordic countries The study was commissioned by the Nordic Council of Ministers and conducted by The Norwegian Institute for Nature Research The Norwegian Institute of Water Research and Sweco Norge during the period May November 2011 The study indicates that economic valuation methods can be applied to watershed management in multiple ways However policy makers should be wary of one size fits all valuation estimates that appear ready to use across different watershed types and stakeholder interests Event Management, 2007 Event Studies Donald Getz, Stephen J. Page, 2019-10-30 Event Studies is the only book devoted to developing knowledge and theory about planned events It focuses on event planning and management outcomes the experience of events and the meanings attached to them the dynamic processes shaping events and why people attend them This title draws from a large number of foundation disciplines and closely related professional fields to foster interdisciplinary theory focused on planned events This revised edition has been updated to reflect and examine a number of substantial and important new ideas New to the fourth edition new sections on the evolution of design theory management planning and marketing theory applied to events sensory stimulation leadership and the nature of crises and security issues new content on critical event studies and what this means for research and practice the life cycle model for event programming and an action plan for how events can be a positive force in sustainable cities new and additional case studies from a wide range of international events and reviews of the evolving theory of contemporary research in events studies are included throughout This will be an invaluable resource for all undergraduate students of events studies throughout their degree programmes

Tourist Experiences Chris Ryan,Xiaoyu (Nancy) Zhang,2024-03-12 This book explores the application of psychological theories to tourist behaviour and experiences It traces the evolution of those theories and how they have changed in response to broader social and economic changes Among those changes have been the development of tourism which reflects those social changes and contributes to them In doing so tourism theories also contribute to and gain insights from emergent psychological theories including those derived from the neurosciences The book provides both undergraduate and postgraduate students with an understanding of core psychological perspectives derived from both humanistic and empirical psychology and their application to tourist behaviours and experiences
