Knowledge and Acknowledgement in the Politics of Memory of the Armenian Genocide Vahagn Avedian,2018-10-08 Is the Armenian Genocide a strictly historical matter If that is the case why is it still a topical issue capable of causing diplomatic rows and heated debates The short answer would be that the century old Armenian Genocide is much more than a historical question It emerged as a political dilemma on the international arena at the San Stefano peace conference in 1878 and has remained as such into our days The disparity between knowledge and acknowledgement mainly ascribable to Turkey s official denial of the genocide has only heightened the politicization of the Armenian question Thus the memories of the WWI era refuse to be relegated to the pages of history but are rather perceived as a vivid presence This is the result of the perpetual process of politics of memory The politics of memory is an intricate and interdisciplinary negotiation engaging many different actors in the society who have access to a wide range of resources and measures in order to achieve their goals By following the Armenian question during the past century up to its Centennial Commemoration in 2015 this study aims to explain why and how the politics of memory of the Armenian Genocide has kept it as a topical issue in our days

German Cinema - Terror and Trauma Thomas Elsaesser,2013-10-30 In German Cinema Terror and Trauma Since 1945 Thomas Elsaesser reevaluates the meaning of the Holocaust for postwar German films and culture while offering a reconsideration of trauma theory today Elsaesser argues that Germany s attempts at mastering the past can be seen as both a failure and an achievement making it appropriate to speak of an ongoing guilt management that includes not only Germany but Europe as a whole In a series of case studies which consider the work of Konrad Wolf Alexander Kluge Rainer Werner Fassbinder Herbert Achterbusch and Harun Farocki as well as films made in the new century Elsaesser tracks the different ways the Holocaust is present in German cinema from the 1950s onwards even when it is absent or referenced in oblique and hyperbolic ways Its most emphatically absent presence might turn out to be the compulsive afterlife of the Red Army Faction whose acts of terror in the 1970s were a response to as well as a reminder of Nazism s hold on the national imaginary Since the end of the Cold War and 9 11 the terms of the debate around terror and trauma have shifted also in Germany where generational memory now distributes the roles of historical agency and accountability differently Against the background of universalized victimhood a cinema of commemoration has if anything confirmed the violence that the past continues to exert on the present in the form of missed encounters retroactive incidents unintended slippages and uncanny parallels which Elsaesser reviving the full meaning of Freud s Fehlleistung calls the parapractic performativity of cultural memory

The German Problem Transformed Thomas Banchoff,2010-05-06 Does the new more powerful Germany pose a threat to its neighbors Does the new German Problem resemble the old The German Problem Transformed addresses these questions fifty years after the founding of the Federal Republic and ten years after the fall of the Berlin Wall Many observers have underscored the reemergence of Germany as Europe s central power After four decades of division they contend Germany is once again fully sovereign without the strictures of bipolarity its leaders are free to define and pursue national interests in East and West From this perspective the reunified Germany faces challenges not unlike those of its unified predecessor a century earlier The German Problem Transformed rejects this formulation Thomas Banchoff acknowledges post reunification challenges but argues that postwar changes not prewar analogies best illuminate them The book explains the transformation of German foreign policy through a structured analysis of four critical postwar junctures the cold war of the 1950s the d tente of the 1960s and 1970s the new cold war of the early 1980s and the post cold war 1990s Each chapter examines the interaction of four factors international structure and institutions foreign policy ideas and domestic politics in driving the direction of German foreign policy at a key turning point This book will be of interest to scholars and students of German history German politics and European international relations as well as policymakers and the interested public Thomas Banchoff is Assistant Professor of Government Georgetown University

Multicultural America Carlos E. Cortés,2013-08-15 This comprehensive title is among the first to extensively use newly released 2010 U S Census data to examine multiculturalism today and tomorrow in America This distinction is important considering the following NPR report by Eyder Peralta Based on the first national numbers released by the Census Bureau the AP reports that minorities account for 90 percent of the total U S growth since 2000 due to immigration and higher birth rates for Latinos According to John Logan a Brown University sociologist who has analyzed most of the census figures The futures of most metropolitan areas in the country are contingent on how attractive they are to Hispanic and Asian populations Both non Hispanic whites and blacks are getting older as a group These groups are tending to fade out he added Another demographer William H Frey with the Brookings Institution told The Washington Post that this has been a pivotal decade We re pivoting from a white black dominated American population to one that is Divided Lives Cynthia A. Crane, 2003-03-05 This book brings together the horrifying real life stories of women who woke up one day and were not who they thought they were The government changed and they suddenly no longer had the right kind of blood the right name the right family background the right physical features to be considered a member of society city or state These stories are from German women who were a part of a Jewish Christian mixed marriage and were subsequently persecuted under the Nuremberg laws Hitler called them mischling half breeds however they have often been passed over in studies of the Holocaust perhaps because they are often not considered real Jews But these women are still struggling with the nightmares of the Third Reich and the Holocaust the loss of family in concentration camps and with their own identity divided between their Jewish and Christian roots Often their Jewish background was revealed to them only after Hitler's laws were passed These are the narratives of eight women who remained in Germany struggling to reclaim their German heritage and their cultural and religious identity The narratives are compelling and sensitively written addressing questions of cultural and ethnic identity

Genocidal Crimes Alex Alvarez, 2009-12-04 Genocidal Crimes draws upon the extensive criminological literature on criminality and violence to provide a comprehensive and contemporary analysis of genocide Written in an accessible style this book differs from much of the writing on genocide in that it explicitly relies on criminological theory and research to help provide new insight into the nature and functioning of genocide Building Modern Turkey Zeynep Kezer,2015-12-29

Building Modern Turkey offers a critical account of how the built environment mediated Turkey's transition from a pluralistic multiethnic and multireligious empire into a modern homogenized nation state following the collapse of the Ottoman Empire at the end of World War I Zeynep Kezer argues that the deliberate dismantling of ethnic and religious enclaves and the spatial practices that ensued were as integral to conjuring up a sense of national unity and facilitating the operations of a modern nation state as were the creation of a new capital Ankara and other sites and services that embodied a new modern way of life The book breaks new ground by examining both the creative and destructive forces at play in the making of modern Turkey and by addressing the overwhelming frictions during this profound transformation and their long term consequences By considering spatial transformations at different scales from the experience of the individual self in space to that of international geopolitical disputes Kezer also illuminates the concrete and performative dimensions of fortifying a political ideology one that instills in the population a sense of membership in and allegiance to the nation above all competing loyalties and ensures its longevity Foreign Policy in a Constructed World Vendulka Kubalkova,2016-09-16

This volume demonstrates the application of the constructivist approach to the analysis of foreign policy i.e. states actions in a world of states Part I introduces constructivism for foreign policy studies Part II presents five model case studies the Cold War Francoism the two Chinas inter American relations and Islam in U.S. foreign policy Part III reviews their results Exclusion and Embrace, Revised and Updated Miroslav Volf,2019-08-20 Life in the twenty first century presents a disturbing reality Otherness the simple fact of being different in some way has come to be defined as in and of itself evil Miroslav Volf contends that if the healing word of the gospel is to be heard today Christian theology must find ways of speaking that address the hatred of the other Is there any hope of embracing our enemies Of opening the door to reconciliation Reaching back to the New Testament metaphor of salvation as reconciliation Volf proposes the idea of embrace as a theological response to the problem of exclusion Increasingly we see that exclusion has become the primary sin skewing our perceptions of reality and causing us to react out of fear and anger to all those who are not within our ever narrowing circle In light of this Christians must learn that salvation comes not only as we are reconciled to God and not only as we learn to live with one another but as we take the dangerous and costly step of opening ourselves to the other of enfolding him or her in the same embrace with which we have been enfolded by God Volf won the 2002 Louisville Grawemeyer Award in Religion for the first edition of his book Exclusion Embrace A Theological Exploration of Identity Otherness and Reconciliation Abingdon 1996 In that first edition professor Volf a Croatian by birth analyzed the civil war and ethnic cleansing in the former Yugoslavia and he readily found other examples of cultural ethnic and racial conflict to illustrate his points Since September 11 2001 and the subsequent epidemic of terror and massive refugee suffering throughout the world Volf revised Exclusion and Embrace to account for the evolving dynamics of inter ethnic and international strife
