Genocide Perspectives II Ebays On Holocaust And Genocide:

Genocide Perspectives II Colin Tatz, Peter Arnold, 2003 Collection of essays about holocaust and genocide Looks at cultural and linguistic genocide as well as physical genocide examines the perpetrators and the failure to prevent genocide Explores these themes in the cases of Armenians Jews Tutsis the East Timorese and the Australian Aborigines Includes endnotes and selected bibliography Colin and Sandra Tatz are directors of the Australian Institute for Holocaust and Genocide Studies

At War with Metaphor Erin Steuter, Deborah Wills, 2009-07-15 When photographs documenting the torture and humiliation of prisoners at Abu Ghraib came to the attention of a horrified public national and international voices were raised in shock asking how this happened At War with Metaphor offers an answer arguing that the abuses of Abu Ghraib were part of a systemic continuum of dehumanization This continuum has its roots in our public discussions of the war on terror and the metaphors through which they are repeatedly framed Arguing earnestly and incisively that these metaphors if left unexamined bind us into a cycle of violence that will only be intensified by a responsive violence of metaphor Steuter and Wills examine compelling examples of the images of animal insect and disease that inform shape and limit our understanding of the war on terror Tying these images to historical and contemporary uses of propaganda through a readable accessible analysis of media filters At War with Metaphor vividly explores how news media including political cartoons and talk radio are enmeshed in these damaging dehumanizing metaphors Analyzing media through the lenses of race and Orientalism it invites us to hold our media and ourselves accountable for the choices we make in talking war and making enemies

New Scientist ,2005 The Michigan Journal ,2008 Genocide Perspectives IV Colin Tatz, 2012-01-01 Genocide isn't past tense and the Nazi and Bosnian eras are not yet closed The demonising of people as unworthy and expendable is ever present and the consequences are all too evident in the daily news These fourteen essays by Australian scholars confront the issues the need for a measuring scale that encompasses differences and similarities between seemingly divergent cases of the crime the complicity of bureaucracies the healing professions and the churches in this crime of crimes the quest for historical justice for genocide victims generally following the Nuremberg Trials the fate of children in the Nazi and postwar eras the worthiness of Armenians Jews and Romani people in twentieth century Europe and the imperative to tackle early warning signs of an incipient genocide Colin Tatz is a founding director of the Australian Institute for Holocaust and Genocide Studies visiting fellow in Politics and International Relations at the Australian National University and honorary visiting fellow at the Australian Institute of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Studies He teaches and publishes in comparative race politics youth suicide migration studies and sports history

Genocide Perspectives: Essays on Holocaust and genocide ,1997 America, History and Life ,2002 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada British Humanities Index ,2006 Genocide Perspectives VI Nikki Marczak, Kirril Shields ,2020-12-21 Genocide Perspectives VI grapples with two core themes the personal toll of genocide and processes that facilitate the crime From political choices governments and leaders make through to denialism and impunity the crime of genocide recurs again and again across the globe At what cost to individuals and communities What might the legacy of this criminality be This collection of essays examines the personal sacrifice genocide takes from those who live through the trauma and the generations that follow Contributors speak to the way visual art and literature attempt to represent genocide hoping to make sense of problematic histories while also offering a means of reflection after years of slow violence or silenced memories Some authors generously allow us into their own histories or contemplate how they may have experienced genocide had they been born in another time or place What facets contribute to the processes that lead to or enable the crime of genocide This collection explores those processes through a variety of case studies and lenses How do nurses whose role is inherently linked to care and compassion become mass killers How do restrictions on religious freedom play a role in advancing genocidal policies and why do perpetrators of genocide often target religious leaders Why is it so important for Australia and other nations with histories of colonial genocide to acknowledge their past Among the essays published in this volume we have the privilege and the sorrow of publishing the very last essay Professor Colin Tatz wrote before his passing in 2019 His contribution reveals yet again the enormous influence of both his research and his original ideas on genocide He reflects on continuing legacies for Indigenous Australian communities with whom he worked for many decades and adds nuance to contemporary understanding of the Armenian Genocide and the Holocaust two other cases to which he was deeply committed Genocide Perspective: Essays on Holocaust and genocide ,1997

Holocaust and Genocide Denial Paul Behrens,Olaf Jensen,Nicholas Terry,2017-05-18 This book provides a detailed analysis of one of the most prominent and widespread international phenomena to which criminal justice systems has been applied the expression of revisionist views relating to mass atrocities and the outright denial of their existence Denial poses challenges to more than one academic discipline to historians the gradual disappearance of the generation of eyewitnesses raises the question of how to keep alive the memory of the events and the fact that negationism is often offered in the guise of historical revisionist scholarship also means that there is need for the identification of parameters which can be applied to the office of the genuine historian Legal academics and practitioners as well as political scientists are faced with the difficulty of evaluating methods to deal with denial and must in this regard identify the limits of freedom of speech but also the need to preserve the rights of victims Beyond that the question arises whether the law can ever be an effective option for dealing with revisionist statements and the revisionist movement In this regard Holocaust and Genocide Denial A Contextual Perspective breaks new ground exploring the background of revisionism the specific methods devised by individual States to counter this phenomenon and the rationale for their strategies Bringing together authors whose expertise relates to the history of the Holocaust genocide studies international criminal law and social anthropology the book offers insights into the history of revisionism and its varying contexts but also provides a thought provoking engagement with the challenging questions attached to its treatment in law and politics
