Pradyumna Karan, 2010-09-12 The ancient civilization of Japan with its Shinto shrines and Buddhist temples is also closely associated with all that is new and modern Looking outward Japan sees what it has become since Hiroshima the world's second largest economy a source of fury and wonder a power without arms Looking inward Japan sees old ways shaken and new ones developing at a hectic pace Japan in the Twenty first Century offers compelling insights into the current realities of the country and investigates the crucial political economic demographic and environmental challenges that face the nation A combination of text maps and photographs provides an essential understanding of Japan's geography cultural heritage demography economic and political development and of many other important issues Pradyumna P Karan explores the obstacles and opportunities that will shape Japan and affect the world community in the coming years He highlights strategies and policies that will facilitate economic and political change and stimulate the development of effective institutions for long term sustainable prosperity and economic vitality Unique field reports drawn from direct observations of events and places in Japan illuminate Japanese traditions and sensibilities The first full length English language textbook on Japan's geography culture politics and economy to appear in nearly four decades Japan in the Twenty first Century will be a vital resource for researchers academics general readers and students of Japan Pradyumna P Karan professor of geography and Japan studies at the University of Kentucky is the author or editor of numerous books on Asian geography and culture including The Japanese City and Japan in the Bluegrass Political geography in the 21st century, 2001 Nonhuman

Agencies in the Twenty-First-Century Anglophone Novel Yvonne Liebermann, Judith Rahn, Bettina Burger, 2021-09-25 This book offers an overview on the growing field of nonhuman studies in relation to Anglophone novels It illuminates the variety of nonhuman actors that take centre stage in the twenty first century novel and the formal changes that the Anthropocene the digital turn the animal rights movement and research into plant consciousness have brought to the novel as a form The book is divided into four sections each focusing on a different aspect of twenty first century literature that engages with the nonhuman The collection investigates how the environmental changes and the increasing use of AI technologies have fostered the flourishing of genres like the New Weird Climate Fiction and speculative fiction how it makes us embrace new perceptions of life in relation to genetic engineering and how it forces us to engage with newly emerging political contexts GEOGRAPH EDUC INTO THE TWENTY-FIRST CENT RAWLING Rawling,1996-07-01 The

Cambridge Companion to Twenty-First Century American Fiction Joshua Miller,2021-09-23 This volume explores the most exciting trends in 21st century US fiction s genres themes and concepts The Near Future in Twenty-First-Century Fiction David Sergeant,2022-12-22 A growing awareness of climate change and looming planetary crisis has put unprecedented pressure on the near future leading to an increasing amount of fiction being set there But what do these disparate works have in common other than their temporal setting And what can the imagination of the near future tell us about where we live now The Near Future in 21st Century Fiction ranges across novels and films to reveal how our contemporary near future splits between two divergent paths One seeks to retreat from climate change and the disruption it threatens to affluent lifestyles the other tries to imagine new forms of community and radical change but struggles to locate a genre adequate to the task It in this struggle however that we begin to glimpse the outlines of an emergent near future form a revolution fit for the Anthropocene Twenty-First Century Seapower Peter Dutton,Robert Ross,Øystein

Tunsjø,2013-05-02 This book offers an assessment of the naval policies of emerging naval powers and the implications for maritime security relations and the global maritime order Since the end of the Cold War China Japan India and Russia have begun to challenge the status quo with the acquisition of advanced naval capabilities The emergence of rising naval powers is a cause for concern as the potential for great power instability is exacerbated by the multiple maritime territorial disputes among new and established naval powers This work explores the underlying sources of maritime ambition through an analysis of various historical cases of naval expansionism It analyses both the sources and dynamics of international naval competition and looks at the ways in which maritime stability and the widespread benefits of international commerce and maritime resource extraction can be sustained through the twenty first century This book will be of much interest to students of naval power Asian security and politics strategic studies security studies and IR in general Workers' Movements and Strikes in the Twenty-First Century Jörg Nowak, Madhumita Dutta, Peter Birke,2018-04-05 While workers movements have been largely phased out and considered out dated in most parts of the world during the 1990s the 21st century has seen a surge in new and unprecedented forms of strikes and workers organisations The collection of essays in this book spanning countries across global South and North provides an account of strikes and working class resistance in the 21st century Through original case studies the book looks at the various shades of workers movements analysing different forms of popular organisation as responses to new social and economic conditions such as restructuring of work and new areas of investment Survival of Pakistan in the Twenty First Century Ziaul Islam,1995 Haunted Spaces in Twenty-First

Century British Nature Writing Anneke Lubkowitz, 2020-06-08 This study investigates the figure of haunting in the New Nature Writing It begins with a historical survey of nature writing and traces how it came to represent an ideal of natural space as empty of human history and social conflict Building on a theoretical framework which combines insights from ecocriticism and spatial theory the author explores the spatial dimensions of haunting and hauntology and shows how 21st century writers draw on a Gothic repertoire of seemingly supernatural occurrences and spectral imagery to portray natural space as disturbed uncanny and socially contested Iain Sinclair and Robert Macfarlane are revealed to apply psychogeography's interest in hidden histories and haunted places to spaces associated with wilderness and the countryside Kathleen Jamie's allusions to the Gothic are put in relation to her feminist re-writing of the outdoors and John Burnside's use of haunting is shown to dismantle fictions of the far north This book provides not only a discussion of a wide range of factual and fictional narratives of the present but also an analysis of the intertextual dialogue with the Romantic tradition which enfolds in these texts

Cosmopolitanism in Twenty-First Century Fiction Kristian Shaw, 2017-03-27 Cosmopolitanism contains some of the most polished and enviably well written chapters of literary criticism that have ever come my way Shaw's readings are critically informed and theoretically sophisticated yet at the same time remarkably lucid and clear This is a work of very fine well balanced and for a first book astonishingly mature scholarship Prof Berthold Schoene Head of Research and Knowledge Exchange Manchester Metropolitan University UK The first study to fully appreciate contemporary literature's engagement with cosmopolitanism A persuasive and articulate engagement with questions of ethics community transnationalism and cultural identity it's an essential read for anyone interested in the contribution of contemporary fiction to our world today Dr Sara Upstone Principal Lecturer in English Literature Kingston University UK This study of cosmopolitanism in contemporary British and American fiction identifies several authors who forge new and intensified dialogues between local experience and global flows The twenty first century has been marked by an unprecedented intensification in globalisation transnational mobility and technological change The theories and values of cosmopolitanism will be argued to provide a direct response to ways of being in relation to others and answer urgent fears surrounding cultural convergence The four chapters examine works by David Mitchell Zadie Smith Teju Cole Dave Eggers and Hari Kunzru The study will demonstrate how these authors imagine new cosmopolitan modes of belonging and point towards the need for an emergent and affirmative cosmopolitics attuned to the diversity and complexity of twenty first century globality The study assumes an interdisciplinary approach and will appeal to literature academics under postgraduate students and researchers interested in the culture and politics of contemporary life

Growing Sideways in Twenty-first Century British Culture Anne Malewski, 2021-12-15 This volume examines changing boundaries between childhood and adulthood in British society and culture at the beginning of the twenty first century where these age boundaries are widely debated policed and contested to investigate alternatives to conventional ideas of growing up Building on observations especially in children s literature criticism that human growth is shaped by a grand narrative that privileges adulthood and on terminologies of non normative growth particularly in queer theory this monograph develops growing sideways as a concept that queers this grand narrative by destabilising childhood and adulthood and the boundaries between them The concept is refined through close readings of twenty first century British children s literature television series film and participatory events troubling age boundaries via specific strategies in three conceptual areas appearance play and space Exploring power structures around age and gender this monograph traces growing sideways as a distinct and important alternative discourse of human growth

(Inter)racial Relationships as Accompaniment in Twenty-First Century African American Novels E. Lâle Demirtürk, 2024-10-15 Inter racial Relationships as Accompaniment in Twenty First Century African American Novels explores the acts of accompaniment to disrupt the embodied discursive practices of whiteness and Black vulnerability as a way to change social relations across racial difference in the novels The novels analyzed in the book explore those Black male characters who work through the norms of whiteness in their relations with Black and white wo men while at the same time enacting the practices of accompaniment to subvert the embodied practices of whiteness At a time when there is the rise of interest in activist work such as the ongoing Black Lives Matter movement against the systems of white supremacy in the post Trump era these novels shape an understanding of Black characters struggle against discursive violence as a radical social praxis to transform the everyday life The book consists of four chapters on Kalisha Buckhanon s Speaking of Summer 2019 Kalisha Buckhanon s Upstate 2005 Ben Burgess Jr s Defining Moments Black and White 2020 and Walter Mosley s Every Man a King A King Oliver Novel 2023 While these novels depict a critique of racialized everyday life they interrogate whiteness as a political act of devaluation of Blackness and Black life by establishing relations through accompaniment The act as such stretches the boundary lines between who is the accompanier and the accompanied in shifting configurations of whiteness and blackness in the positioning of the vulnerable

The Black Metropolis in the Twenty-First Century Robert D. Bullard, 2007-05-10 This book brings together key essays that seek to make visible and expand our understanding of the role of government policies programs and investments in shaping cities and metropolitan regions the costs and consequences of uneven urban and regional growth patterns suburban sprawl and public health transportation and economic development and the enduring connection of place space and race in the era of increased globalization Whether intended or unintended many government policies housing transportation land use environmental economic development education etc have aided and in some cases subsidized suburban sprawl job flight and spatial mismatch concentrated urban poverty and heightened racial and economic disparities Written mostly by African American scholars the book captures the dynamism of these meetings describing the challenges facing cities suburbs and metropolitan regions as they seek to address continuing and emerging patterns of racial polarization in the twenty first century The book clearly shows that the United States entered the new millennium as one of the wealthiest and the most powerful nations on earth Yet amid this prosperity our nation is faced with some of the same challenges that confronted it at the beginning of the twentieth century including rising inequality in income wealth and opportunity economic restructuring immigration pressures and ethnic tension and a widening gap between haves and have nots Clearly race matters Place also matters Where we live impacts the quality of our lives and chances for the good life

Imagining Human Rights in Twenty-First Century Theater F. Becker, P. Hernández, B. Werth, 2012-12-27 There is extraordinary diversity depth and complexity in the encounter between theatre performance and human rights Through an examination of a rich repertoire of plays and performance practices from and about countries across six continents the contributors open the way toward understanding the character and significance of this encounter

Livecasting in Twenty-First-Century British Theatre Heidi Lucja Liedke, 2023-06-15 This significant contribution to the study of the live and recorded broadcasting of stage plays focuses on National Theatre Live a decade after its launch in 2009 Assessing livecasting through the concepts of spectacle materiality and engagement it examines the role played by audiences in livecasting Illustrated by in depth analyses of recent NT Live shows including A Midsummer Night's Dream 2019 Antony and Cleopatra 2018 and Small Island 2019 the book is complemented by insights from practitioners involved in the making of the livecasts Finally livecasting is contextualized within recently emerged forms of Covidian virtual theatre during the pandemic in order to offer some thoughts on the future of the genre of theatrical performance Combining lively analyses of recent theatre performances with auto ethnographic accounts Heidi Lucja Liedke turns to 20th century thinkers such as Walter Benjamin and Bertolt Brecht in order to understand livecasting's place in a continuum of developments taking place on the borders of media film and performance for the past 100 years As well as embedding livecasting in its historical context of 19th century electrophone technology Liedke assesses its position in contemporary discourses on the meaning of theatre for spectators in the pre and post pandemic moment and points towards the form's future
