settings and offers a variety of alternatives for the construction of a new cultural pedagogy He argues that we need to redefine concepts like art literature and education to integrate them more fully into our lives On one hand Trend uses a critical approach to examine how cultural work and pedagogy intersect within a range of discourses such as Marxist feminist deconstructionist and postcolonial Yet on the other he focuses on the use of specific examples of cultural practice within and outside the classroom to emphasize the importance of action as well as philosophy to bring about social change Trend provides a theoretical overview of the ideological battles over texts and their discursive contexts and then analyzes how cultural education has evolved in such settings as the school the university and the community He concludes with a discussion of pedagogy and democracy which suggests a range of possible resolutions The Cultural Work of Photography in Canada Andrea Kunard,Carol Payne,2011 Reflecting the rich interdisciplinarity of contemporary photography studies The Cultural Work of Photography in Canada is essential reading for anyone interested in Canadian visual culture Pub desc

Tactical Media Rita Raley, 2009 Tactical media describes interventionist media art practices that engage and critique the dominant political and economic order Rather than taking to the streets and staging spectacular protests the practitioners of tactical media engage in an aesthetic politics of disruption intervention and education In Tactical Media Rita Raley provides a critical exploration of the new media art activism that has emerged out of and in direct response to postindustrialism and neoliberal globalization

Coal Cultures Derrick Price, 2020-08-19 Coal is the commodity that powered the technologies that made the modern world It also brought about unique communities marked by a high degree of social solidarity and self help Mining was central to working class life drawing rural populations into industrial labour but it often took place in picturesque landscapes so that its black spoil heaps became a central symbol of the degradation of pastoral life by the demands of an extractive industry Throughout Europe and the USA photographers have pictured the characteristic landscapes of the industry and continue to do so as strip mining devastates huge areas of land Not only landscape photography but also documentary portraiture photojournalism and art photography have been used in order to portray mines and miners This book presents three interlinked strands of investigation The first is the way in which the production of coal created paradigmatic communities grounded in particular landscapes The second concerns the role of photography in exploring delineating and critiquing mining communities This in turn involves an examination of the aesthetic and social characteristics of a number of genres of photography Lastly it considers the growth and decline of these sites the geographic shift of the industry to other places and the re presentation of traditional localities through the lens of the heritage industry and industrial tourism

13 Essays on Photography Raymonde April, Canadian Museum of Contemporary Photography, 1990 Depository Library Program

Disturbed Ecologies Darcy White, Julia Peck, Chris Goldie, 2023-03-03 The imaginaries of northern landscape have not remained static in the era of ecological crisis but play a pivotal function within the geopolitics of visual representation Such imaginaries can sanction those dominant discourses that frame environmental catastrophe as the consequence of undifferentiated human activity but it is argued they also have the capacity to represent a complexity and heterogeneity frequently absent from this broad discursive field The contributors to this volume engage with the practice curation and utilization of photography and other lens based media to examine the critical role of visual culture in shaping and interrogating conceptions of environmental catastrophe
