Evaluating Social Funds Laura Rawlings, Lynne Darling Sherburne-Benz, Julie VanDomelen, 2004 Annotation Introduced in Bolivia a little over a decade ago social funds have become a key community led poverty reduction tool The social fund model has proved to be a dynamic replicable approach easily adapted and scaled up in diverse countries around the world This study is the first systematic cross country impact evaluation of social funds using survey data and accepted evaluation methodologies Evaluating Social Funds Laura Rawlings, Lynne Darling Sherburne-Benz, Julie VanDomelen, 2004

Annotation Introduced in Bolivia a little over a decade ago social funds have become a key community led poverty reduction tool The social fund model has proved to be a dynamic replicable approach easily adapted and scaled up in diverse countries around the world This study is the first systematic cross country impact evaluation of social funds using survey data and accepted evaluation methodologies The Search for Empowerment Anthony Bebbington, 2006 Exploration of the nature of bureaucracy and bureaucratic change Comprehensive examination of debates about social capital within the World Bank Contributors include both long time Bank insiders as well as external analysts and observers of the Bank s development policies The contributors to this collection examine the vast bureaucracy of the World Bank and explore the possibilities of internally generated change The book focuses on the debates within the Bank about the efficacy of social capital concepts for the encouragement of more participatory and empowering forms of development These debates reach to the heart of the bank and its mission Indeed the debate over social capital is less an argument about definitions and more a struggle between competing paradigms of development The Search for Empowerment is simultaneously a fascinating account of the concept of social capital a powerful ethnography of a huge development organization and a profoundly insightful exploration into the nature of bureaucracy and organizational change Other contributors Julie Van Domelen Michael Edwards Jonathan Fox John Gershman Jeffrey Hammer David Lewis Deepa Narayan Martien Van Nieuwkoop Lant Pritchett M Shameen Siddiqi and Jorge Uquillas Local Economic and Employment Development (LEED) Making Local Strategies Work Building the Evidence Base OECD, 2008-06-09 This book aims to support the design and delivery of more effective local and regional economic development strategies A crucial part of this process is the collection and use of evidence on local needs and options and on what works and what does Development Assistance for Peacebuilding Rachel M. Gisselquist, 2017-07-28

Development assistance to fragile states and conflict affected areas can be a core component of peacebuilding providing support for the restoration of government functions delivery of basic services the rule of law and economic revitalization What has worked why it has worked and what is scalable and transferable are key questions for both development practice and research into how peace is built and the interactive role of domestic and international processes therein Despite a wealth of research into these questions significant gaps remain This volume speaks to these gaps through new analysis of a selected set of well regarded aid interventions Drawing on diverse scholarly and policy expertise eight case study chapters span multiple domains and regions to analyse Afghanistan's National Solidarity Programme the Yemen Social Fund for Development public financial management reform in Sierra Leone Finn Church Aid's assistance in Somalia Liberia's gender sensitive police reform the judicial facilitators programme in Nicaragua UNICEF's education projects in Somalia and World Bank health projects in Timor Leste Analysis illustrates the significance of three broad factors in understanding why some aid interventions work better than others the area of intervention and related degree of engagement with state institutions local contextual factors such as windows of opportunity and the degree of local support and programme design and management This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal International Peacekeeping The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9781351624572> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license Publications Catalog World Bank,2005

Macroeconomic Challenges of Scaling Up Aid to Africa Yongzheng Yang,Mr.Robert Powell,Mr.Sanjeev Gupta,2006-03-20 Over the next decade African countries are expected to be the largest beneficiaries of increased donor aid which is intended to improve their prospects for achieving the Millennium Development Goals This handbook will help these countries assess the macroeconomic implications of increased aid and respond to the associated policy challenges The handbook is directed at policymakers practicing economists in African countries and the staffs of international financial institutions and donor agencies who participate in preparing medium term strategies for African countries including in the context of poverty reduction strategy papers It provides five main guidelines for developing scaling up scenarios to help countries identify important policy issues involved in using higher aid flows effectively to absorb as much aid as possible to boost growth in the short to medium term to promote good governance and reduce corruption to prepare an exit strategy should aid levels decrease and to regularly reassess the policy mix Development Aid George Mavrotas,Mark McGillivray,2009-01-15 This book addresses several gaps in knowledge of aid allocation and effectiveness and provides new analytical insights Topics covered include the interface between aid allocation and perceptions of aid effectiveness the year on year volatility of aid and evaluation of the country level impacts of aid The Effectiveness of World Bank Support for Community-based and -driven Development ,2005-01-01 Participatory approaches that involve local communities in their own development have gained substantial support among international donors over the past quarter century and have become increasingly important in the work of the World Bank Community participation is an approach to development that can be used with any Bank lending instrument and across sectors Projects can involve communities in different ways by sharing information consulting collaborating or empowering them The process of involving communities in project activities is also expected to contribute in most cases to communi Governance for a Progressing Africa ,2004 Development Outreach ,2004 Citizens, Politicians, and Providers Ariel Fiszbein,2005-01-01 This document aims to provide guidance to policymakers and development practitioners on how to shape public action to get better quality services for all in Latin America Latin American countries have seen significant progress in the last 20 years in the coverage of social and infrastructure services However coverage gaps and poor quality of services remain a serious problem for many citizens particularly the poor While technical difficulties may still be a constraint for some sophisticated services they are clearly not a difficulty for the most essential ones Understanding questions of access and quality of services is about the behaviors of people from teachers to administrators politicians and rich and poor citizens The main concern is whether those responsible for designing and delivering services are accountable to the citizens who are demanding the services and also paying the taxes and fees that finance these services Downtown Linkages ,1985 Pacific Economic Bulletin ,2004

Evaluating Development Effectiveness George Keith Pitman, Osvaldo Nájstor Feinstein, Gregory K. Ingram, Practitioners give insights on building and satisfying demand for evaluation in developing countries and on the use of evaluation findings to improve decision making on development policies and programs This volume offers useful insights into methods for evaluating the effectiveness of development and assessing the performance of development aid and aid agencies BOOK JACKET How Ordinary People Make Aid Work Stefan Kruse, 2025-10-07 How community organizations and civic engagement drive the success of global health aid What makes health related development assistance truly effective In How Ordinary People Make Aid Work Stefan Kruse argues that the answer lies in the power of ordinary citizens By examining the role of community organizations and social movements Kruse challenges conventional approaches to aid showing that true accountability requires more than institutional reforms or participatory spaces that offer citizens a seat at the table Through rigorous analysis and compelling case studies the book reveals how traditional forms of exercising voice especially in politically challenging contexts drive the success of donor funded health projects Kruse demonstrates that reducing infant mortality since the 1990s owes more to an engaged citizenry than to formal accountability mechanisms Surprisingly state capacity and democratic institutions show little effect on the success of health aid once citizen involvement is accounted for By bridging macroeconomic studies of aid effectiveness with research on political behavior these findings underscore the indispensable role of civic engagement in building resilient health systems How Ordinary People Make Aid Work critiques the limitations of traditional top down development models and advocates for empowering communities to lead their own progress It highlights how social ties and collective action equip citizens to oversee health projects and create sustainable solutions to public health challenges Offering fresh insights for policymakers development practitioners and scholars this book redefines what it takes to make aid truly impactful International Journal of Afro-Asian Studies ,2011-02-11 studies presented is to explore ways of scaling up successful initiatives in order to address the global imbalances in poverty and development identified in the UN Millennium Development Goals Cincinnati Magazine ,2003-04 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region
