Evaluating The Impact Of Nutrition And Health Programs:

Evaluating the Impact of Nutrition and Health Programs Robert E. Klein, 2012-12-06 As is noted in the opening chapter of this volume nutrition and public health programs have been important throughout Latin America and the Caribbean for many years This is due to the special concerns of those responsible for setting national policies the program experience and leadership in public health developed by the national governments and the stimulus and cooperation of the Pan American Health Organization PAHO including its twelve associated centers which focus on research training and program development The need for a coordinated hemisphere wide attack on malnutrition and other health problems was expressed clearly in the Ten Year Health Plan for the Americas 1 This plan established specific targets for reducing the prevalence of the major nutritional diseases and other health problems for the decade 1971 1980 It was noted at that time that very few countries had formulated adequate comprehensive national food and nutrition policies and plans nor had they developed strategies for combating the nutritional deficiencies known to affect large numbers of people throughout the Region Following a review of the available data on a country by country basis in 1975 the PAHO Directing Council endorsed recommendations for formulating the necessary national policies and strategies for the intersectorial execution of food nutrition and health programs 2 This report also summarized the available national data related to nutritional status existing programs such as food fortification and the human resources available for services as well as for research and education

Baker, 2000 Despite the billions of dollars spent on development assistance each year there is still very little known about the actual impact of projects on the poor There is broad evidence on the benefits of economic growth investments in human capital and the provision of safety nets for the poor But for a specific program or project in a given country is the intervention producing the intended benefits and what was the overall impact on the population Could the program or project be better designed to achieve the intended outcomes Are resources being spent efficiently These are the types of questions that can only be answered through an impact evaluation an approach which measures the outcomes of a program intervention in isolation of other possible factors This handbook seeks to provide project managers and policy analysts with the tools needed for evaluating project impact It is aimed at readers with a general knowledge of statistics For some of the more in depth statistical methods discussed the reader is referred to the technical literature on the topic Chapter 1 presents an overview of concepts and methods Chapter 2 discusses key steps and related issues to consider in implementation Chapter 3 illustrates various analytical techniques through a case study Chapter 4 includes a discussion of lessons learned from a rich set of good practice evaluations of poverty projects which have been reviewed for this handbook Federal Program Evaluations ,1983 Contains an inventory of evaluation reports produced by and for selected Federal agencies including GAO evaluation reports that relate to the programs of those agencies Federal Evaluations , Contains an inventory of evaluation reports produced by and for selected Federal agencies including GAO evaluation reports that relate to the programs of those agencies 2016 Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance United States. details on the program and interventions It then relates first order second order and third order outcomes of interest in a conceptual framework which guides our analysis and structures the report The report next describes the evaluation design sampling and data collection process It then presents statistics on beneficiaries experience with the CTs and AM Last it uses the baseline and midline data exploiting the randomized design to estimate the impacts of the program on its beneficiary population at midline distinguishing between household level outcomes and child level outcomes Given that the baseline report showed that the randomization process was successful at creating similar groups for comparison for the impact evaluation with similar preprogram characteristics the impacts at midline can be interpreted as truly caused by the program rather than simply correlated with its receipt
