Assessing the Impacts of Changes in the Information Technology R&D Ecosystem National Research Council,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,Computer Science and Telecommunications Board,Committee on Assessing the Impacts of Changes in the Information Technology Research and Development Ecosystem,2009-03-16 The U S information technology IT research and development R D ecosystem was the envy of the world in 1995 However this position of leadership is not a birthright and it is now under pressure In recent years the rapid globalization of markets labor pools and capital flows have encouraged many strong national competitors During the same period national policies have not sufficiently buttressed the ecosystem or have generated side effects that have reduced its effectiveness. As a result the U S position in IT leadership today has materially eroded compared with that of prior decades and the nation risks ceding IT leadership to other nations within a generation. Assessing the Impacts of Changes in the Information Technology R D Ecosystem calls for a recommitment to providing the resources needed to fuel U S IT innovation to removing important roadblocks that reduce the ecosystem's effectiveness in generating innovation and the fruits of innovation and to becoming a lead innovator and user of IT. The book examines these issues and makes recommendations to strengthen the U S IT R D ecosystem.

Domestic Technology Transfer United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science and Technology. Subcommittee on Science, Research, and Technology, 1978. Managerial Issues in Productivity Analysis Ali Dogramaci, Nabil R. Adam, 1985-09-30. Ali Dogramaci and N R Adam. Productivity of a firm is influenced both by economic forces which act at the macro level and impose themselves on the individual firm as well as internal factors that result from decisions and processes which take place within the boundaries of the firm. Efforts towards increasing the productivity level of firms need to be based on a sound understanding of how the above processes take place. Our objective in this volume is to present some of the recent research work in this field. The volume consists of three parts. In part I two macro issues are addressed: taxation and inflation and their relation to productivity is analyzed. The second part of the volume focuses on methods for productivity analysis within the firm. Finally the third part of the book deals with two additional productivity analysis techniques and their applications to public utilities. The objective of the volume is not to present a unified point of view but rather to cover a sample of different methodologies and perspectives through original scholarly papers.

Contaminated Soil '95 W.J. van den Brink, R. Bosman, F. Arendt, 2012-12-06. Towards sustainable land use. Dr P Folstar. Member of the TNO Board of Management. Dr M Popp. Chairman of the Board of Directors of Research Centre Karlsruhe FZK. Ten years ago in 1985 TNO initiated the First Conference on Contaminated Soil in Utrecht. At that time a rather complete inventory of suspected contaminated sites existed in The Netherlands. Time had come to consider further actions for investigations, evaluation and remediation. This concern has been spreading ever since to other European countries and throughout the world. In particular German scientists and authorities soon recognized the significance of this problem and consequently joined TNO in organizing and funding a forum for discussions in a series of conferences. Following three venues in German cities the 5th conference in Maastricht, a Dutch as well as a European city, marks the increasing interest in the international scientific and political community. Application of the concept of sustainable development to soil as an essential element of human existence requires an answer to the question how to meet the needs of today's generation without impairing the possibilities of mankind in the future. As we do not know the needs of the future especially regarding the functional requirements of soil use we can hardly do better than starting from the present priorities. This can not mean to guarantee the quality of soil functions everywhere at any time.
