Evaluation Of Appraisal Techniques In Speech Language Pathology:

Evaluation of Appraisal Techniques in Speech and Language Pathology Frederic L. Darley, 1979 Evaluation of appraisal techniques in speech and language pathology, 1979 Effective Speech-language Pathology John R. Muma, 2014-03-05 This book is the first to summarize the voluminous literature on the development of cognitive codification language and expressive affective CCCE skills from a clinical standpoint Emphasizing the need to ground services in research and theory the author constructs three basic clinical models a conceptual model for understanding a descriptive model for formal assessment and a facilitative model for intervention These models have major implications for the work of all those who deal with CCCE problems in a professional capacity Behavioral Assessment and Rehabilitation of the Traumatically Brain-Damaged Barry A. Edelstein, Eugene T. Couture, 2013-11-22 This book developed out of the editors longstanding interest in the retraining of traumatically brain damaged adults and the management of their behavior by family members A search for relevant experimental evidence to support the clinical use of behavioral principles for retrain ing which began in 1977 turned up little empirical support Moreover the literature on retraining was dispersed among a variety of journals published in various countries Nowhere was there a compendium of literature that addressed issues of assessment and retraining There was no place to turn if one wanted to move from a standard neuropsychological evaluation to the retraining of skill deficits revealed in the evaluation We have attempted to edit a book that represents what we had hoped to find in the literature and could be used by professionals in clinical psychology clinical neuropsychology rehabilitation medicine physical therapy speech therapy and other disciplines that address rehabilitation of brain damaged adults a book that addresses assessment and rehabilitation issues and is sufficiently detailed to offer the reader a starting point in developing behavioral assessment and rehabilitation programs The book contains conceptual foundations reviews of research descriptions of successful rehabilitation programs and relatively detailed approaches to the retraining of specific skills A shift from an assessment based practice to one encompassing both prescriptive assessment and treatment has become a recognized transition in the neuropsychological literature and was best articulated in an article by Gerald Goldstein in March of 1979 Speech and Language Norman J. Lass, 2014-06-28 Speech and Language Advances in Basic Research and Practice Volume 11 contains articles that discuss a wide range of topics on speech and language processes and pathologies This volume is comprised of six contributions on a wide variety of topics on speech and language The book begins with an examination of approaches to aphasia diagnostics from both a medical and nonmedical perspective Subsequent chapters cover topics on acoustic phonetic descriptions of speech production in speakers with cleft palate and other velopharyngeal disorders the role of infant vocalizations as they relate to subsequent speech and language development pitch phenomena and applications in electrolarynx speech and practical applications of neuroanatomy The final chapter presents the employment of studies of temporal coordination to understand the development of motor control in speech and to provide a basis for testing theories on the development of speech as a motor skill Linguists speech pathologists and researchers on language development will find the book very insightful and informative Assessment of Aphasia Otfried Spreen,Anthony H. Risser,2003 For the past twenty years Spreen and Risser have episodically reviewed the state of aphasia assessment in contemporary clinical practice This book represents their most thorough effort Taking a flexible assessment approach the authors present dozens of tests for traditional use in the diagnosis of aphasia and in functional communication childhood language development bilingual testing pragmatic aspects of language in everyday life and communication problems in individuals with head injury or with lesions of the right hemisphere The book is a thorough and practical resource for speech and language pathologists neuropsychologists and their students and trainees Neuropsychological Assessment Muriel Deutsch Lezak,1995-03-02 The 12 chapters in the second section contain nearly all of the tests and assessment techniques covered in the previous editions plus many additional ones including newly developed neuropsychological tests tests from other branches of psychology research techniques that have only recently been introduced into clinical neuropsychology tests originating in Europe and elsewhere and a few measures as yet untried by neuropsychology that appear to be potentially useful for neuropsychological purposes Thus the third edition of Neuropsychological Assessment maintains its multipurpose functions as an authoritative textbook reference work and practitioner s manual The Assessment of Bilingual Aphasia Michel Paradis,Gary Libben,2014-03-05 The Bilingual Aphasia Test is a comprehensive language test designed to assess the differential loss or sparing of various language functions in previously bilingual individuals The individual is tested separately in each language he or she previously used and then in the two languages simultaneously The testing is multimodal sampling hearing speaking reading and writing and multidimensional testing various linguistic levels phonological morphological syntactic lexical and semantic tasks comprehension repetition judgment lexical access and propositionizing and units words sentences and paragraphs The BAT is structured as follows To test a bilingual aphasic you will need the following testing elements the stimulus books for each of the languages in which the individual was formerly fluent the single language tests for each of these languages as well as the bilingual test that links them For example if you are testing an English French bilingual aphasic you will need an English stimulus book a French stimulus book an English single language test a French single language test and an English French bilingual test The BAT can also be used to test monolingual aphasics To test for monolingual aphasia you will need the stimulus book and the single language test in the language in which the individual was formerly fluent Professor Paradis book The Assessment of Bilingual Aphasia provides the background material and serves as the manual for the test The BAT is available in dozens of languages and language pairs There are now 106 bilingual pairs available Additional single language and bilingual tests are being prepared continuously If the language or language pair you need is not listed please call LEA to find out if and when it will be available Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1980 Includes subject section name section and 1968 1970 technical reports The Future of University Affiliated

Stonnington, 2011-02-25 Many contemporary neuropsychology texts focus on neuropathology the description of specific tests and the differential diagnosis of central nervous system disorders However increasingly sophisticated neuroradiological techniques managed care factors and the growth of rehabilitation necessitates that rehabilitation professionals provide more functionally versus diagnostically useful evaluations to improve the neuropsychological functioning and community integration of persons with brain injuries or diseases This book aims to fill this gap and to provide an overview of standard neuropsychological treatment strategies for specific cognitive impairments that are identified on testing The new edition enhances this goal with three chapters outlining important recommendations services and issues for rehabilitation professionals Written by a team of experienced scientists and professionals the volume provides a universal taxonomy of neuropsychological abilities emphasizing relatively simple terms with a list of basic rehabilitation strategies to improve impairments identified in general cognitive domains Specific chapters are included on the neuropsychological remediation of memory attention language visual spatial skills and executive function impairments Each chapter proposes a taxonomy of relatively unitary cognitive constructs e g divided attention sustained attention focused attention lists tests which may be used to assess each cognitive construct and provides specific rehabilitation strategies to improve or accommodate the identified neuropsychological impairments The final chapters cover basic resources and issues of which the rehabilitation professional needs to be aware vocational rehabilitation disability determination and guardianship issues This new edition provides a wealth of useful information for family members rehabilitation professionals and others who work with persons with brain injury in improving the community functioning for those with brain dysfunction An accompanying website facilitates access to the resources and strategies from the book allowing the practitioner to cut and paste these recommendations into their clinical reports

Neuropsychological Evaluation of the Spanish Speaker

Alfredo Ardila, Monica Rosselli, Antonio E. Puente, 2013-06-29 This book is the culmination of a research program conducted in Colombia during the past several years The fundamental aim of the program was to develop neuropsychological tests for Spanish speakers especially elderly individuals and those with limited educational attainment The lack of norms for these populations represents a significant practical problem not only in developing countries but also in more developed countries For example norms are usually obtained with middle class Anglo Saxon English speaking populations often university students and such norms do not usually include individuals older than 65 years Furthermore very few neuropsychological tests have been developed for Spanish speakers frequently tests are translated into Spanish often poor translations at that but the norms used are still those obtained from English speaking populations This volume summarizes the normative results of this research program We anticipate that these tests and norms will be particularly useful in the neuropsychological evaluation of Spanish speakers especially those with limited educational attainment and the elderly The United States represents the fifth largest Spanish speaking country in the world after Mexico Spain Argentina and Colombia with over 20 million speakers It is anticipated that by the year 2025 there will be as many Hispanics in the United States as members of all other ethnic minority groups combined Further about 10% of the U S population are considered functionally illiterate with Hispanics representing an unusually large segment

Minority and Cross-cultural Aspects of Neuropsychological Assessment

F.R. Ferraro, 2002-01-01 Minority and Cross Cultural Neuropsychological Assessment pulls together neuropsychological assessment issues across a wide range of minority groups and populations currently underserved Included are chapters related to African Americans Asian Pacific Islanders Hispanic Latinos Native Americans and Rural Populations Some minority groups have not been as widely studied or examined as other groups from a neuropsychological assessment perspective This book will fill this obvious void Other chapters are devoted to traditions and trends in clinical neuropsychology and there is a section that examines the future of minority and cross cultural issues in neuropsychological assessment The current literature regarding minority and cross cultural issues in neuropsychological assessment is quite scattered and it is the goal of this book to provide a more thorough review and refinement of the issues presented

Golden, Gerald Goldstein, Theresa M. Incagnoli, 2013-11-11 Clinical neuropsychology has become a field of major prominence during the past several years as well as a field of great complexity As a result of the extensive amount of activity that neuropsychology has experienced recently two major developments have emerged First several approaches have evolved regarding comprehensive neuro psychological assessment There are presently several standard test batteries in common use as well as an approach to assessment that does not make use of standard batteries but rather fits the evaluation accomplished to the particular diagnostic problems presented by the individual patient Second a great deal of specialization has emerged with assessment procedures developed for evaluation of specific types of neuropsychological deficit The purpose of this volume is to review these developments particularly with reference to their implications for application in clinical settings The history of this book's development is of particular interest Some years ago the Veterans Administration became concerned with developing an optimal method of neuropsychological assessment for its many health care related facilities Initially the problem was conceptualized in terms of whether the VA should encourage wider use of the long established Halstead Reitan Neuropsychological Test Battery HRB or promote more extensive use of the recently developed Luria Nebraska Neuropsychological Test Battery LNNB A conference was funded to bring together authorities in clinical neuropsychology to discuss this matter and present a series of papers to invited psychologists from various VA facilities
