Geography Of Peace:

The Geography of the Peace Nicholas John Spykman, 1944 The Geography of the Peace Nicholas John Spykman, 1969-01 The Geography of the Peace Nicholas John Spykman, Helen R. Nicholl, Yale University. Institute of International Studies, 1944 The Geography of Peace and War David Pepper, Alan Jenkins, 1985 The Geography of War and Peace Colin Flint, 2005 Our world of increasing and varied conflicts is confusing and threatening to citizens of all countries as they try to understand its causes and consequences This book takes advantage of a diversity of geographic perspectives as it analyzes the political processes of war and their spatial expression Geographies of Peace Fiona McConnell, Nick Megoran, Philippa Williams, 2014-06-20 From handshakes on the White House lawn to Picasso's iconic dove of peace the images and stereotypes of peace are powerful widespread and easily recognizable Yet if we try to offer a concise definition of peace it is altogether a more complicated exercise Not only is peace an emotive and value laden concept it is also abstract ambiguous and seemingly inextricably tied to its antithesis war And it is war and violence that have been so compellingly studied within critical geography in recent years This volume offers an attempt to redress that balance and to think more expansively and critically about what peace means and what geographies of peace may entail The editors begin with an examination of critical approaches to peace in other disciplines and a helpful genealogy of peace studies within geography The book is then divided into three sections The opening section examines how the idea of peace may be variously constructed and interpreted according to different sites and scales The chapters in the second section explore a remarkably wide range of techniques of peacemaking This widens the discussion from the archetypal image of top down diplomatic state led initiatives to imperial boundary making practices grassroots cultural identity assertion boycotts self immolation ex paramilitary community activism and protective accompaniment The final section shifts the scale and focus to everyday personal relations and a range of practices around the concept of coexistence In their concluding chapter the editors spell out some of the key questions that they believe a geography of peace must address What spatial factors have facilitated the success or precipitated the failure of some peace movements or diplomatic negotiations Why are some ideologies productive of violence in some places but co operation in others How have some communities been better able to deal with religious racial cultural and class conflict than others How have creative approaches to sharing sovereignty mitigated or transformed territorial disputes that once seemed intractable Geographies of Peace is the first book wholly devoted to exploring the geography of peace Drawing on both recent advances in social and political theory and detailed empirical research covering four continents it makes a significant intervention into current debates about peace and violence Geographies of Peace and Armed Conflict Audrey Kobayashi, 2013-09-13 This collection addresses the impact of armed conflict and explores pathways to peace across the world Topics range from geopolitics to the effects of armed conflict on the environment resources health children and transnational migration Others explore the social processes involved in post conflict situations and others still the lessons for achieving effective peace The geographical concepts addressed include the notion of conflict space landscapes of terror the relationship between violence and justice the conditions for peace and the dynamics of post conflict Methods include landscape analysis interviews with a range of citizens mapping and geographic information science and policy analysis Several papers address the situation of children in conflict zones the impact of conflict on patterns of migration the role of gender in achieving peace the concept of territory as a basis for conflict and for negotiation of peace as well as the economic impact of conflict The studies cover several world regions including Africa the Middle East South and Southeast Asia and eastern Europe This book was originally published as a special issue of Annals of the Association of American Geographers

The ^AGeography of War and Peace Colin Flint, 2004-10-14 Our world of increasing and varied conflicts is confusing and threatening to citizens of all countries as they try to understand its causes and consequences However how and why war occurs and peace is sustained cannot be understood without realizing that those who make war and peace must negotiate a complex world political map of sovereign spaces borders networks of communication access to nested geographic scales and patterns of resource distribution This book takes advantage of a diversity of geographic perspectives as it analyzes the political processes of war and their spatial expression Contributors to the volume examine particular manifestations of war in light of nationalism religion gender identities state ideology border formation genocide spatial rhetoric terrorism and a variety of resource conflicts The final section on the geography of peace covers peace movements diplomacy the expansion of NATO and the geography of post war reconstruction Case studies of numerous conflicts include Israel and Palestine Afghanistan Northern Ireland Bosnia Herzegovina West Africa and the attacks of September 11 2001

Making Geographies of Peace and Conflict Colin Flint, Kara E. Dempsey, 2023-11-17 This book illustrates the diversity of current geographies ontologies engagements and epistemologies of peace and conflict It emphasizes how agencies of peace and conflict occur in geographic settings and how those settings shape processes of peace and conflict The essence of the book's logic is that war and peace are manifestations of the intertwined construction of geographies and politics Indeed peace is never completely distinct from war Each chapter in the book will demonstrate understandings of how the myriad spaces of war and peace are forged by multiple agencies some possibly contradictory The goals of these agents vary as peace and war are relational place specific processes The reader will understand the mutual construction of spaces and processes of peace and conflict through engagement with the concepts of agency the mutual construction of politics and space geographic scales multiple geographies the twin dynamics of empathy othering and inclusivity partitioning and resistance militarism The book discusses the intertwined nature of peace and conflict including reference to the environment global climate change borders technology and postcolonialism This book is valuable for instructors teaching a variety of senior level human geography courses including graduate level classes It will appeal to those working in political geography historical geography sociology of geographic knowledge feminist geography cultural and economic geography political science and international relations Geographies of Peace and Armed Conflict Audrey Kobayashi, 2013-09-13 This collection addresses the impact of armed conflict and explores pathways to peace across the world Topics range from geopolitics to the effects of armed conflict on the environment resources health children and transnational migration Others explore the social processes involved in post conflict situations and others still the lessons for achieving effective peace The geographical concepts addressed include the notion of conflict space landscapes of terror the relationship between violence and justice the conditions for peace and the dynamics of post conflict Methods include landscape analysis interviews with a range of citizens mapping and geographic information science and policy analysis Several papers address the situation of children in conflict zones the impact of conflict on patterns of migration the role of gender in achieving peace the concept of territory as a basis for conflict and for negotiation of peace as well as the economic impact of conflict The studies cover several world regions including Africa the Middle East South and Southeast Asia and eastern Europe This book was originally published as a special issue of Annals of the Association of American Geographers

Community of Peace Christopher Courtheyn, 2022-03-29 Achieving peace is often thought about in terms of military operations or state negotiations Yet it also happens at the grassroots level where communities envision and create peace on their own The San Jos de Apartad Peace Community of small scale farmers has not waited for a top down peace treaty Instead they have actively resisted forced displacement and co optation by guerrillas army soldiers and paramilitaries for two decades in Colombia s war torn Urab region Based on ethnographic action research over a twelve year period Christopher Courtheyn illuminates the community s understandings of peace and territorial practices against ongoing assassinations and displacement San Jos s peace through autonomy reflects an alternative to traditional modes of politics practiced through electoral representation and armed struggle Courtheyn explores the meaning of peace and territory while also interrogating the role of race in Colombia s war and the relationship between memory and peace Amid the widespread violence of today s global crisis Community of Peace illustrates San Jos s rupture from the logics of colonialism and capitalism through the construction of political solidarity and communal peace PEACE STUDIES, PUBLIC POLICY AND GLOBAL SECURITY
