The Caring Congregation Karen Lampe,2011-09-01 Caring for the congregation is more than any one person can do even the pastor All persons eventually experience grief and loss crisis and suffering and many come to church for the first time as a result of needing help Using this four session study modeled after The United Methodist Church of the Resurrection in Leawood Kansas churches can form an effective team by addressing four key areas of congregational care prayer ministry support ministry hospital visitation and grief and death ministry Karen Lampe says congregational care should be modeled after the ministry of Jesus who offered compassion understanding healing and wholeness as a way of offering God s redemptive gift of grace Congregational care is one reason according to pastors Adam Hamilton and Karen Lampe that their church is successful in attracting and keeping new members In each richly illustrated session readers will find inspiration Bible connection skill building practical tips and resources including information about anointing helpful scriptures application forms suggested requirements and application for team member a volunteer leader covenant safety and self care contract and a counseling guide The Self-Shaming God Who Reconciles Warner M. Bailey, 2013-06-10 Trust is at the heart of healthy relationships When trust is broken the victim is made to feel as nothing The Bible calls this experience of betrayal to be shamed When the victim names God as the betrayer those who exercise pastoral care in the church are faced with a spiritual crisis Pastors and those who exercise pastoral care are led through biblical study and theological reflection to insights that strengthen their role in the recovery of both the victims and the perpetrators of betrayal Central to this recovery is the solidarity of the self shaming God with both victim and perpetrator At the cross shame reaches its most intense expression as Jesus voices his abandonment by God Centering this pivotal experience in a doctrine of the Trinity makes clear how shame defines the very core of the redemptive work of God as Father Son and Spirit Through the resurrection of Jesus God triumphs over shame and this vindication of God's integrity is the basis for the evangelistic preaching of the early church The Self Shaming God Who Reconciles underscores how Scripture functions as a theological document when interpreted COMPASS THERAPY: Christian Psychology in Action Dr. Dan Montgomery, 2008-10-14 Compass Therapy not canonically only bridges the gap between psychology and Christianity but makes sense of personality disorders as never before delivering the Human Nature Compass and the Self Compass growth tools for immediate application by therapists pastoral counselors and clinical chaplains Dr Ray Anderson Fuller Seminary's Senior Professor of Theology and Ministry writes I am not aware of any other book that succeeds as well as this one in providing both professional therapists as well as Christian counselors with a theoretical and practical model that combines psychology and theology in an integrated way It has a profound simplicity that covers a wide range of personality disorders Readers will say Now I see why typical patterns of dysfunctional and disruptive behavior have a common root but also a specific cause Put it on top of your reading list

Making Peace with Faith Michelle Garred, Mohammed Abu-Nimer, 2018-01-15 Although religion is almost never a root cause it often gets pulled into conflict as a powerful element especially where conflicting parties have different religious identities Every faith tradition offers resources for peace and secular policy makers are more and more acknowledging the influence of faith based actors even though there remains a tendency to associate religion more with conflict than peace In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of The contributors are all practitioners whose faith or religious experience motivates their work for peace and justice in such a way that it influences their actions Their roles are diverse as some work for faith based institutions while others engage in secular contexts The multiple perspectives featured represent multiple faiths Muslim Christian Hindu Buddhist Jewish diverse scopes of practice different geographic regions Each chapter follows a similar template to address specific challenges such as dealing with extremist views addressing negative stereotypes about one s faith endorsing violence developing relations with other faith based or secular groups confronting gender based violence and working with people who hold different beliefs In this text practitioners from different faiths relate and explore the many challenges they face in their peacebuilding work which their secular partners may be unaware of They provide a comprehensive view of the practice of peacebuilding in its many challenging aspects for both professionals and those studying religion and peacebuilding alike
