Stanhope Lovell, 2003 Introduction by Ruddock F Mackay Readers who love a great sea story from the age of fighting sail will enjoy this lively narrative by outspoken British officer William Stanhope Lovell During the course of his career Vice Adm Lovell sailed the world with one of history's great navies and participated in the Blockade of Brest the expedition to Egypt the Battle of Trafalgar the Peninsular Wars with Wellington and the invasion of the Chesapeake during the War of 1812 where he took part in the attack on Washington This stylishly written account combines vivid descriptions of the famous engagements with no holds barred opinions about everything from the most dastardly American stratagem of booby trapping invaders with torpedoes made of barrels of powder made fast to casks of flour to Lovell's belief that with wiser political management the British and Americans would have settled their quarrel without conflict First published in 1839 under the title Personal Narrative of Events From 1799 to 1815 with Anecdotes Lovell's book has had a lasting appeal leading to subsequent editions in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries With a new introduction by a noted English naval historian this treasury of first person observations is a worthy addition to the Classics of Naval Literature series The Man Without a Country and Other

Naval Writings Edward Everett Hale, 2002 This superbly crafted collection of classic literature preserves the celebrated works of the foremost writers of naval history biography and fiction Since 1984 the series edited by Jack Sweetman has brought back into print a total of over sixty titles The original unabridged texts are accompanied by authoritative new introductions and notes Indisputably a mainstay of American literature since it was first published in 1863 The Man Without a Country makes a significant contribution to naval literature as well The famous novella is a timeless parable of patriotism that takes place predominately aboard U S naval vessels and with this new Classics of Naval Literature edition becomes the centerpiece of a collection of worthy but lesser known naval writings by Edward Everett Hale Though long overlooked these stories are of comparable quality to his most famous work invoking strong emotions and striking familiar intellectual chords in the midst of a riveting tale Hale is known for his vivid verbal seascapes and the lifelike portraits of his characters some historical and others fictional and lauded for his understanding of the nautical arts and an appreciation of their significance With a contemporary introduction by Naval Academy English professor Robert D Madison the collection covers a broad spectrum of eighteenth and nineteenth century naval activity Highlighted are such diverse subjects as the search for the ill fated Franklin expedition the exploits of a Civil War privateer the role of the Continental Navy in the American Revolution and the classic battle between the Serapis and the Bon Homme Richard All are a masterful blend of literary expertise and historical authenticity Historians students of literature and those just looking for a good read will find common ground in these pages
