Farewell To Responsibility:

Freedom & Responsibility Justus Ballard, 2017-09-01 Progress in American society comes through careful analysis of the past choosing the best path forward by interrogating what has come before Freedom Responsibility collects philosophical political and personal readings from the past and present that showcase the progress of American society through the themes of taking responsibility for the things that have afforded us the freedoms we enjoy in the USA Freedom Responsibility is designed for a wide range of courses and readers The many shorter accessible works can serve students of rhetoric history and composition By providing a broad spectrum of complexity in these anthologized readings students also have access to higher order works that address the inherent complexity of American society Authors include Susan B Anthony Marcus Aurelius Frederick Douglass W E B DuBois Ralph Waldo Emerson Benjamin Franklin Zora Neale Hurston Thomas Jefferson Helen Keller John F Kennedy Winona LaDuke Abraham Lincoln Niccol Machiavelli Angela Morales Barack Obama Richard Rodriguez Franklin Delano Roosevelt Margaret Sanger Elizabeth Cady Stanton Henry David Thoreau Sojourner Truth Mark Twain Jose Antonio Vargas Woodrow Wilson and Mary Wollstonecraft Farewell to the God of Plague Miriam

Gross, 2016-01-19 Farewell to the God of Plague reassesses the celebrated Maoist health care model through the lens of Mao's famous campaign against snail fever Using newly available archives Miriam Gross documents how economic political and cultural realities led to grassroots resistance Nonetheless the campaign triumphed but not because of its touted mass prevention campaign Instead success came from its unacknowledged treatment arm carried out jointly by banished urban doctors and rural educated youth More broadly the author reconsiders the relationship between science and political control during the ostensibly antiscientific Maoist era discovering the important role of grassroots science in regime legitimation and Party control in rural areas The Farewell Discourse and Final Prayer of Jesus D. A. Carson, 2018-01-02 In this study

D A Carson illuminates Jesus's message to his disciples after the Last Supper in which Jesus proclaims the coming of the Holy Spirit and prays for himself his followers and the world D A Carson clearly explains what Jesus taught his disciples the night before his crucifixion This exposition of John 14-17 helps students of the Bible appreciate Jesus's teaching on the coming and the work of the Holy Spirit his high priestly prayer and his commandment to love one another AECC-2 ENGLISH:

Allan Aubrey Boesak, 2015-05-01 While we acknowledge that all expressions of liberation theology are not identical we must protest very strongly against the false divisions that some make between black theology in South Africa and black theology in the United States between black theology and African theology and between black theology and Latin American liberation theology But moving away from the illusioned universality of western theology to the contextuality of liberation theology is a risky business one that cannot be done innocently In the search for theological and human authenticity in its own situation black theology does not stand alone It is but one expression of this search going on within many different contexts Until now the Christian church had chosen to move through history with a bland kind of innocence hiding the painful truths of oppression behind a facade of myths and real or imagined anxieties This is no longer possible The oppressed who believe in God the Father of Jesus Christ no longer want to believe in the myths created to subjugate them It is no longer possible to innocently accept history as it happens silently hoping that God would take the responsibility for human failure The theology of liberation spells out this realization For the Christian church it constitutes in no uncertain terms farewell to innocence

Collective Dominance and Collusion Marilena Filippelli, 2013-01-01 By examining the issue of collusion in EU and US competition law this book suggests possible strategies for improving the antitrust enforcement against parallelism by exploiting the most advanced achievements of economic analysis The book contains a suggested approach to collusion in ex ante and ex post perspectives By moving from the analysis of the state of art in terms of law case law and scholarship Marilena Filippelli analyses inconsistencies and failures in the current antitrust enforcement toward collusion and develops a workable parameter for the issue of collective dominance The most innovative part of this work goes beyond the analysis itself of collective dominance and involves the interference of arts 101 and 102 The conclusion is a re definition of the relationship between those rules from dichotomy to redundancy Finally the book highlights the antitrust significance of semi collusion as a strategy made of collusion and competition The author considers economic models equaling as for the effects collusion and semi collusion and the case law supporting the qualification of semi collusion as a species of collusion The analysis involves both US and EU systems under the highly topical economic oriented approach It also contains an original view of European antitrust prohibitions Because of its contents and its approach this book will be attractive to every academic interested in antitrust law Moreover the well documented research on parallelism involving law case law and scholarship makes this book interesting also for competition authorities and antitrust lawyers

Secretary of the Invisible Mike Marais, 2009 How do individuals who are part of a community respond to the stranger as a stranger i e without simply positioning this outsider in opposition to the community in which they are located How may individuals receive something unknown and therefore surprising into their world without compromising it by identifying it in the terms of that world In this study Mike Marais traces the various ways in which Coetzee s fiction from Dusklands through to Slow Man repeatedly poses such questions of hospitality It is shown that the form of ethical action staged in Coetzee s writing is grounded not in the individual s willed and rational achievement but in his or her invasion and possession by the strangeness of the stranger This ethic of hospitality Marais argues has a strong aesthetic dimension for Coetzee the writer is inspired to write by being acted upon by a force from beyond the phenomenal world The writer is a secretary of the invisible She or he is responsible to and for the invisible Marais maintains that this understanding of writing as an involuntary response to that which exceeds history is evident from the first in Coetzee s fiction In readings of the novels of the apartheid era he traces this writer s rueful ironic awareness of the limited even incidental form of political engagement that may emanate from such an aesthetic He then goes on to argue that if it is the writer s obligation to render visible the invisible writing must be a task that can never be completed What is more such writing is thus bound to be iterative in form With this in mind he traces the structural similarities between Coetzee s writing of the apartheid period and his post apartheid and Australian writing arguing that the later texts are self reflexively aware of their endlessly repetitive nature These contentions are developed incrementally through close readings of the individual novels that focus on recurring metaphors of hospitality visitor the stranger the house the castaway the invisible the dream and the child

The Judicial Construction of Hong Kong's Basic Law Lo Pui Yin, 2014-02-13 China has granted Hong Kong a high degree of autonomy through the Basic Law under the principle of one country two systems Hong Kong's legal system under the Basic Law is based on the common law and is administered by independent courts. By interpreting the Basic Law, Hong Kong's courts have reviewed legislation and executive decisions and have achieved a second founding of the Basic Law as an enforceable constitution. This book is the first comprehensive account of how the Hong Kong courts gained this vital power of judicial review. Through an analysis of important court cases since 1997, the book also examines how the Hong Kong courts maintain their relationships with the executive and legislature and with China's Central Authorities, which have been sceptical of these achievements. Hong Kong's unique status as a common law jurisdiction within socialist China poses risks of integration; this book concludes that the best choice lies in maintaining and developing a cosmopolitan judicial outlook. This book will become the definitive account of the judicial role in Hong Kong after 1997. Writing with great flair, Dr Lo provides a richly contextual story of judges making great use of a novel legal arrangement to tread new ground. This thorough work of scholarship is a must read for students of Hong Kong law as well as those interested in China and comparative judicial politics more broadly.

Tom Ginsburg, Leo Spitz, Professor of International Law, University of Chicago Law School. Lo Pui Yin has written a comprehensive and sophisticated introduction to the major cases and jurisprudence of the Hong Kong courts. Engaging important current controversies, he offers a powerful defence of the present system of constitutional review resting on Hong Kong's common law tradition.

Mark Tushnet, William Nelson Cromwell Professor of Law, Harvard Law School. This is a thoughtful and scholarly account of an important topic: the construction of the Basic Law by the HKSAR courts. This is a question of vital importance to Hong Kong, but it should also be of interest and importance to Mainland legal scholarship. Moreover, the comparative constitutional lawyers across the world will be intrigued by this rigorous and perceptive account of the bridge between the common law of Hong Kong and the legal system of the PRC.

Christopher Forsyth, Professor of Public Law and Private International Law, University of Cambridge. Lo Pui Yin has produced a monumental book of great learning, profound research and insightful reflections on the efforts of Hong Kong's judiciary in maintaining the rule of law within the framework of the Basic Law, developing its jurisdiction and jurisprudence with great skill, learning and now a bit of tact. Lo's mastery of the case law is unrivalled and his legal and political analysis masterly.

Yash Ghai, Emeritus Professor, University of Hong Kong and author of Hong Kong's New Constitutional Order.
