Fabricating Foucault: Rationalising the Management of Individuals, by Roger Deacon. Milwaukee, Marquette University Press, 2003. ISBN: 0874626617.

Reviewed by Maria Tamboukou

Fabricating Foucault, a Foucauldian title par excellence for a fresh eye on Foucault's work, sets out—as its title indicates—to fabricate Foucault's work revolving its themes around issues, problematics and questions emerging from the Enlightenment project. Some of the issues the book addresses pose questions of, 'after Foucault, what?'—particularly for those theorists who want to follow some trails of Foucault's thought. Genealogy, particularly in its conceptualization as 'history of the present' becomes the central focus of the book, which is consequently structured and indeed fabricated as a narrative on Foucault's relation to the Enlightenment tradition. Although I was intrigued by this formulation I could not help thinking of two tensions here: first, the tension with Foucault's insistence on theorists to stop dealing with his work per se and start writing genealogies instead; and second, with his project of getting rid of the author and the oeuvre. Deacon seems to be aware of these restrictions and limitations and the invention of the notion of fabrication allows him to use Foucault in a way that is within a plane of consistency with what, following Deleuze, I would call a Foucauldian image of thought. Moreover, the writing of the book has an autobiography of its own, ultimately attempting to be not just a discussion of Foucault's work, but also 'in itself, a theoretical reflection, a political experiment and a personal meditation' (15).

In this light the book comprises five chapters, each addressing a central theme of the Foucault/Enlightenment agonistic relation. Chapter one reviews Foucault's contribution to the long-held history of truth and reason in the West, particularly addressing the Kantian tradition of self-reflection in problematizing the present and interrogat-

Fabricating Foucault Roger Alan Deacon, 2003 Deacon a scholar whose academic affiliations are not given examines the implications of the work of Michel Foucault questioning whether and how the modern drive to explain the world in such a way as to guide political action and promote progressive change can be defended in the light of Foucault The Making of Neoliberal Turkey Cenk Ozbay, Maral Erol, Z. Umut Turem, Aysecan Terzioglu, 2016-09-17 Exploring the divergent aspects of the rule of neoliberalism in Turkey since 1980s each chapter in this book highlights a specific dimension of this socio economic process and together these essays construct a thorough examination of the whirlwind of changes recently experienced by Turkish society With particular focus on the new ways in which social power operates expert contributors explore new discourses and subjectivities around environmentalism health popular culture economic policies feminism and motherhood urban space and minorities class and masculinities By questioning the primary influence of the state in these micro political matters they engage with concepts of neoliberalism and governmentality to provide a fresh grounded and analytical perspective on the routes through which social power navigates the society This sustained examination of the new axes of power and subjectivity with a particular eye on the formation of new political spaces of governance and resistance deepens the analysis of Turkey's experiment with neoliberal globalization Foucault in Iran, 1978-1979 Johann Beukes, 2020-12-31 In 1978 Michel Foucault went to Iran as a distinguished intellectual but novice political journalist controversially reporting on the unfolding revolution undeniably compromising and wounding his reputation in the European intellectual community Given the revolution's bloody aftermath and its violent theocratic development is Foucault's Iranian expedition simply to be understood as a critical error in judgement with disastrous consequences for his legacy What exactly did Foucault hope to achieve in Iran in 1978 1979 explicitly supporting the cause of the revolting masses and effectively isolating himself from the European intellectual community and the Western liberal tradition The book investigates this open nerve in the Foucault scholarship by interpreting Foucault's primary texts from this period commenting on the various positions in the scholarship over the past three decades and eventually proposes that Foucault's mistake resulting from his self consciousness and uncertainty was indeed a highly philosophical endeavour but was completely misinterpreted by his contemporaries and even his most noteworthy biographers The issue of Foucault's involvement in Iran is still a relatively unexplored theme in Foucault research and one that is actually bypassed by the majority of Foucault scholars since the general view is that it was a breathtaking mistake comparable to Heidegger's flirtation with National Socialism This book will provide value and advance knowledge in this area firstly by presenting the three concepts that are in my opinion key to understand Foucault's involvement in the Iranian revolution Otherness Present history and Political spirituality Secondly by providing a thorough overview of what really happened in Iran after Foucault arrived in Tehran in September 1978 and what really happened was not conforming to the West's idea of progression but an Iranian idea of progression on its own terms

Thirdly by disseminating Foucault's reports back to France in a detailed and forensic fashion Fourthly by providing a solid overview of the interpretations on this issue however reluctant and scarce from the scholarship over the past three decades Fifthly by presenting Foucault's involvement in the Iranian revolution not as a mistake or a critical error in judgement but as a deeply philosophical position that actually corresponds to many of Foucault's theoretical positions on power death madness uncertainty spirituality Orientalism and Otherness preceding the revolution in Iran The detailed historical overview of Foucault's involvement in the Iranian revolution the responsible and non polemical overview of the scholarship's attempts to deal with the issue and the author's original interpretation and presentation of the legitimacy of Foucault's presence in Iran from September 1978 to April 1979 In an age where it has become urgent to reinterpret both Shia and Sunni legacies within the context of radicalised Islam the book argues for a Foucaultian recognition of the Orient Other as nothing more than An Other Self

The Analysis of Virtue in Alasdair MacIntyre and His View of "The Enlightenment Project" Benjamin Okon MSP, 2016-04-15 MacIntyre is greatly discontented with the nature of contemporary morality which according to him has a form i.e. what appears like morality but lacks essential content He argues that the most common feature of contemporary ethical discourse is that much of it is used to express individual preferences which leads to disagreements among philosophers and eventually results in debates that are interminable in character MacIntyre attributes the cause of this situation to the activities of the enlightenment philosophers of the 17th and 18th centuries who in an attempt to find rational justification for morality repudiated those essential elements that define the essence of morality and give it its contents Such elements include historical narrative tradition teleology and divine law In MacIntyre's opinion morality so constructed was destined for failure since it was not founded on the true nature of the human person The obvious consequences of this failure were the birth of diverse post enlightenment ethical theories and a substantial change in the conception of virtue In order to remedy this deplorable condition of contemporary ethics MacIntyre along with other virtue ethicists advocates a certain renaissance of ethical principles that are founded on the true nature of the human person characterized by historical narrative tradition and teleology all grounded on divine legislation Morality thus reconstructed finds its fullest expression in the theory of human character traits i.e. virtues This is what has motivated MacIntyre's construction of virtue theory which has brought him into confrontation with the enlightenment philosophers Our study and analysis of MacIntyre's theory of virtue reveals that his account of virtue is inadequate This inadequacy is what has motivated our own project of reconstructing MacIntyre's theory of virtue in view of offering an account of virtue that is adequate In this way our own project complements that of MacIntyre

Confronting Globalization P. Hayden, C. el-Ojeili, 2005-06-01 Informed by critical theory the essays in this collection examine the complex dynamics of globalization the challenges that confront democracy justice and rights under globalization and new approaches that seek to contest the excesses of globalization and promote the struggle for global justice They form a challenging and timely volume that will be essential reading for anyone interested in the normative dimensions of globalization Punishment and Inclusion Andrew Dilts, 2014-09-15 At the start of the twenty first century 1 percent of the U S population is behind bars An additional 3 percent is on parole or probation In all but two states incarcerated felons cannot vote and in three states felon disenfranchisement is for life More than 5 million adult Americans cannot vote because of a felony class criminal conviction meaning that more than 2 percent of otherwise eligible voters are stripped of their political rights Nationally fully a third of the disenfranchised are African American effectively disenfranchising 8 percent of all African Americans in the United States In Alabama Kentucky and Florida one in every five adult African Americans cannot vote Punishment and Inclusion gives a theoretical and historical account of this pernicious practice of felon disenfranchisement drawing widely on early modern political philosophy continental and postcolonial political thought critical race theory feminist philosophy disability theory critical legal studies and archival research into state constitutional conventions It demonstrates that the history of felon disenfranchisement rooted in postslavery restrictions on suffrage and the contemporaneous emergence of the modern American penal system reveals the deep connections between two political institutions often thought to be separate showing the work of membership done by the criminal punishment system and the work of punishment done by the electoral franchise Felon disenfranchisement is a symptom of the tension that persists in democratic politics between membership and punishment This book shows how this tension is managed via the persistence of white supremacy in contemporary regimes of punishment and governance

Debating Biopolitics Piasentier, Marco, Raimondi, Sara, 2022-08-05 Emerging out of the theoretical and practical urge to reflect on key contemporary debates arising in biopolitical scholarship this timely book launches an in depth investigation into the concept and history of biopolitics In light of tumultuous political dynamics across the globe and new developments in this continually evolving field the book reconsiders and expands upon Michel Foucault's input to biopolitical studies
