Two broad overviews, one on Fitzgerald's career and another on the final developments in the author's style, round out the collection. The international scope of the contributors to this volume reflects Fitzgerald's worldwide reputation and appeal. With extensive treatments of This Side of Paradise, The Beautiful and Damned, The Last Tycoon, and the Pat Hobby stories, this collection makes an unusual and significant contribution to the field of Fitzgerald studies. William Maxwell:

Early Novels and Stories (LOA #179) William Maxwell, Christopher Carduff, 2008-01-10. With his second book They Came Like Swallows (1937), William Maxwell found his signature subject matter: the fragility of human happiness, as well as his voice, a quiet, cadenced Midwestern voice that John Updike has called one of the wisest and kindest in American fiction. Set against the background of the Spanish flu epidemic of 1918, this short novel presents the loving character of Elizabeth Morison, a devoted wife and mother, through the eyes of those whom she is fated to leave decades before her time. Edmund Wilson described The Folded Leaf (1945) as a quite unconventional study of adolescent relationships between two boys with a girl in the offing in Chicago and in a Middle Western college, very much lived and very much seen. He praised this drama of the immature for the compassion Maxwell brings to his male protagonists whose intensely felt, unarticulated bond is beyond their inchoate ability to understand. Time Will Darken It (1948) is a drama of the mature, a good man's struggle to keep duty before desire and his family's needs before his own. It paints a portrait of Draperville, Illinois, in 1912, a proud and isolated community governed by gossip where an ambitious young woman must not overreach the limits society has placed on her sex, and an older married gentleman must not encourage her should she dare. Together with these major works, this Library of America edition of Maxwell's early fiction collects his lighthearted first novel Bright Center of Heaven (1934), out of print for nearly 70 years, and nine masterly short stories. It concludes with The Writer as Illusionist (1955), Maxwell's fullest statement on the art of fiction as he practiced it. Philip Roth: Novels 1973-1977 (LOA #165) Philip Roth, 2006-10-19. In The Great American Novel 1973, Roth lifts the lid on the suppressed history of the homeless Ruppert Mundys of baseball's despised and vanquished third major league, turning the national pastime into unfettered picaresque farce. The cast of improbable characters includes Gil Gamesh, the pitcher who actually tried to kill the umpire John Baal, the ex-con first baseman The Babe Ruth of the Big House who never hit a home run sober, and the House Un-American Activities Committee. My Life as a Man 1974 is the savage, sometimes lurid account of the all-out battle waged between the young writer Peter Tarnopol and the wife who is his nemesis, his demon, and his muse. This is the treacherous world of Strindberg, nearly a century later, the story of a fierce marital tragedy of obsession and blindness and desperate need. The volume closes with The Professor of Desire 1977, which charts the second sexual metamorphosis of David Kepesh, protagonist of The Breast. Roth follows Kepesh, an adventurous man of intelligence and feeling, into a vast wilderness of erotic possibility.
