German Thought and International Relations R. Shilliam, 2009-03-26 A fundamental question for IR is whether the value system of liberalism can be universalized or if in fact the illiberal reality of international politics systematically rules out such a universalisation The book addresses this issue by focusing on the rise and fall of a specific liberal project supported by influential German intellectuals

British Books in Print, 1979 The College Blue Book Huber William Hurt, Harriett-Jeanne Hurt, 1965 The Publishers' Trade List Annual, 1976 Citizens Without Sovereignty Daniel Gordon, 1994 In a wide ranging interpretation of French thought in the years 1670 1789 Daniel Gordon takes us through the literature of manners and moral philosophy theology and political theory universal history and economics to show how French thinkers sustained a sense of liberty and dignity within an authoritarian regime A penetrating critique of those who exaggerate either the radicalism of the Enlightenment or the hegemony of the absolutist state his book documents the invention of an ethos that was neither democratic nor absolutist an ethos that idealized communication and private life The key to this ethos was sociability and Gordon offers the first detailed study of the language and ideas that gave this concept its meaning in the Old Regime Citizens without Sovereignty provides a wealth of information about the origins and usage of key words such as société and sociabilité in French thought From semantic fields of meaning Gordon goes on to consider institutional fields of action Focusing on the ubiquitous idea of society as a depoliticized sphere of equality virtue and aesthetic cultivation he marks out the philosophical space that lies between the idea of democracy and the idea of the royal police state Within this space Gordon reveals the channels of creative action that are open to citizens without sovereignty citizens who have no right to self government His work is thus a contribution to general historical sociology as well as French intellectual history
