tells for the very first time the story of the courageous women of the Klondike Gold Rush Written and illustrated by Northern Irish artist Flora Delargy the award winning illustrator of Rescuing Titanic this exquisitely illustrated story of quiet bravery tells in rich detail how Shaaw Tl a Kate Cormack a First Nations woman discovered the gold that led 100 000 gold diggers to descend on the region Set against the powerful backdrop of the Yukon valley with forbidding mountains and rickety railway tracks cutting through the snow this stunning book shows young children how gold was discovered and how it possessed the popular imagination It explores the towns that popped up overnight the treacherous journeys people made to cross the forbidding Yukon landscape the building of epic railways and the resilience and injustices experienced by the First Nations people whose towns became inundated by gold diggers and the legacy of the Gold Rush Flora Delargy's style takes in minute and exhilarating non-fiction details from the beautifully rendered train tickets and maps of the mountains diagrams of railway bridges a step by step look at how to pan for gold to breathtaking illustrations of the Yukon mountains Gold Fever Rich Mole, 2011-02-01 In 1897 tens of thousands of would-be prospectors flooded into the Yukon in search of instant wealth during the Klondike Gold Rush In this historical tale of mayhem and obsession characters like prospectors George Carmack and Skookum Jim Skagway gangster Soapy Smith and Mountie Sam Steele come to life Enduring savage weather unforgiving terrain violence and starvation a lucky few made their fortune and some just as quickly lost it The lure of the North is still irresistible in this exciting account of a fabled era of Canadian history Writing the Northland Barbara Stefanie Giehmman, 2011 Movement and Performance in Berlin School Cinema Olivia Landry, 2019-02-08 Through a study of the contemporary German film movement the Berlin School Olivia Landry examines how narrative film has responded to our highly digitalized and mediatized age not with a focus on stasis and realism but by turning back to movement spectacle and performance She argues that a preoccupation with presence liveness and affect all of which are viewed as critical components of live performance can be found in many of the films of the Berlin School Challenging the perception that the Berlin School is a sheer adherent of slow cinema Landry closely analyzes the use of movement dynamism presence and speed in a broad selection of films to show how filmmakers such as Christian Petzold Angela Schanelec Thomas Arslan and Christoph Hochh usler invoke the pulse of the kinesthetic and the tangibly affective Her analysis draws on an array of film theories from early materialism to body theories phenomenology and contemporary affect theories Arguing that these theories readily and energetically forge a path from film to performance Landry traces a trajectory between the two through which live experience presence spectacle intersubjectivity and the body in motion emerge and powerfully intersect Ultimately Movement and Performance in Berlin School Cinema expands the methodological and disciplinary boundaries of film studies by offering new ways of articulating and understanding movement in cinema Stampede Brian Castner, 2021-04-13 A gripping and wholly original account of the epic human tragedy that was the great Klondike Gold Rush of 1897-98 One hundred thousand men and women rushed heedlessly north to make their fortunes very few did but many thousands of them died in the attempt In 1897 the United States was mired in the worst economic depression that the country had yet endured So when all the newspapers announced gold was to be found in wildly enriching quantities at the Klondike River region of the Yukon a mob of economically desperate Americans swarmed north Within weeks tens of thousands of them were embarking from western ports to throw themselves at some of the harshest terrain on the planet in winter yet woefully unprepared with no experience at all in mining or mountaineering It was a mass delusion that quickly proved deadly avalanches shipwrecks starvation murder Upon this stage author Brian Castner tells a relentlessly driving story of the gold rush through the individual experiences of the iconic characters who endured it A young Jack London who would make his fortune but not in gold Colonel Samuel Steele who tried to save the stampededers from themselves The notorious gangster Soapy Smith goodtime girls and desperate miners Skookum Jim and the hotel entrepreneur Belinda Mulrooney The unvarnished tale of this mass migration is always striking revealing the amazing truth of what people will do for a chance to be rich
