From Snowshoes To Politics:

From Snowshoes to Politics Cyril Shelford, 1997 The West Beyond the West Jean Barman, 2017-06-22 British Columbia is regularly described in superlatives both positive and negative most spectacular scenery strangest politics greatest environmental sensitivity richest Aboriginal cultures most aggressive resource exploitation closest ties to Asia Jean Barman's The West beyond the West presents the history of the province in all its diversity and apparent contradictions This critically acclaimed work is the premiere book on British Columbian history with a narrative beginning at the point of contact between Native peoples and Europeans and continuing into the twenty first century Barman tells the story by focusing not only on the history made by leaders in government but also on the roles of women immigrants and Aboriginal peoples in the development of the province She incorporates new perspectives and expands discussions on important topics such as the province's relationship to Canada as a nation its involvement in the two world wars the perspectives of non mainstream British Columbians and its participation in recreation and sports including Olympics First published in 1991 and revised in 1996 this third edition of The West beyond the West has been supplemented by statistical tables incorporating the 2001 census two more extensive illustration sections portraying British Columbia's history in images and other new material bringing the book up to date Barman's deft scholarship is readily apparent and the book demands to be on the shelf of anyone with an interest in British Columbian or Canadian history The Sommers Scandal Betty O'Keefe, Ian Macdonald, 1999 In 1953 Forests Minister Robert E Sommers was one of the most powerful men in BC able to influence the province's major industry forestry with a stroke of his pen Five years later he plummeted from the heights when he was sent to jail for conspiracy and accepting bribes The Sommers scandal was the first and biggest stain on the record of Premier W A C Bennett's Successors Betty O Keefe and Ian Macdonald have recreated those stormy days of the mid 1950s when Sommers Bennett Attorney General Robert Sommers Phil Gaglardi and Gordon Gibson rocked the rafters of the Legislature with bellowed accusations and denials Weaving interviews with major players and the media reports of the day they show the relentless process by which Sommers was finally brought to trial and reveal the confusing array of verdicts for Sommers and his co accused The Sommers story is also the story of BC's forest industry The forest management system was under attack and investigation as the Sommers scandal unfolded and the decisions made in the 1950s set the course for the death of logging towns the corporate concentration and the crisis of overcutting some 30 years later Being Together in Place Soren C. Larsen, Jay T. Johnson, 2017-11-01 Being Together in Place explores the landscapes that convene Native and non Native people into sustained and difficult negotiations over their radically different interests and concerns Grounded in three sites the Cheslatta Carrier traditional territory in British Columbia the Wakarusa Wetlands in northeastern Kansas and the Waitangi Treaty Grounds in Aotearoa New Zealand this book highlights the challenging tentative and provisional work of coexistence around such contested spaces as wetlands treaty grounds fishing spots recreation areas cemeteries heritage trails and traditional village sites At these sites activists learn how to articulate and defend their intrinsic and life supportive ways of being particularly to those who are intent on damaging or destroying these places Using ethnographic research and a geographic perspective Soren C Larsen and Jay T Johnson show how the communities in these regions challenge the power relations that structure the ongoing post colonial encounter in liberal democratic settler states Emerging from their conversations with activists was a distinctive sense that the places for which they cared had agency a call that pulled them into dialogue relationships and action with human and nonhuman others This being together in place they find speaks in a powerful way to the vitalities of coexistence where humans and nonhumans are working to decolonize their relationships where reciprocal guardianship is being stitched back together in new and unanticipated ways and where a new kind of place thinking is emerging on the borders of colonial power

Beaten Down David Peterson del Mar, 2011-10-01 Selected by Choice as an Outstanding Academic Title for 2003 The word violence conjures up images of terrorism bombings and lynchings Beaten Down is concerned with more prosaic acts of physical force a husband slapping his wife a parent taking a birch branch to a child a pair of drunken friends squaring off to establish who was the better man David Peterson del Mar accounts for the social relations of power that lie behind this intimate form of violence this white noise that has always been with us humming quietly between more explosive acts of violence Broad in its chronological and cultural sweep Beaten Down examines interpersonal violence in Washington Oregon and British Columbia beginning with Native American cultures before colonization and continuing into the mid twentieth century It contrasts the disparate ways of practicing and punishing interpersonal violence on each side of the U S Canadian border Del Mar concludes that we cannot comprehend the causes and moral consequences of a violent act without considering larger social relations of power whether between colonizers and original inhabitants between spouses between parents and children or between and among different ethnic groups The author has drawn on a vast array of vivid sources including newspaper accounts autobiographies novels oral histories historical and ethnographic publications and hundreds of detailed court cases to account for not only the relative frequency of different forms of violence but also the shifting definitions and perceptions of what constitutes violence This is a thoughtful and probing account of how and why people have hit each other and the manner in which opinion makers and ordinary citizens have censured defended or celebrated such acts Del Mar s conclusions have important implications for an understanding of violence and perceptions of violence in contemporary society

British Columbia by the Road Ben Bradley, 2017-06-07 In British Columbia by the Road Ben Bradley takes readers on an unprecedented journey through the history of roads highways and motoring in British Columbia s Interior a remote landscape composed of plateaus and interlocking valleys soaring mountains and treacherous passes Challenging the idea that the automobile offered travellers the freedom of the road and a view of unadulterated nature Bradley shows that an array of interested parties boosters businessmen conservationists and public servants manipulated what drivers and passengers could and should view from the road When it came to roads and highways planners and builders had two concerns grading or paving a way through the wilderness and opening pathways to new parks and historic sites They understood that the development of a modern road network would lead to new ways of perceiving BC and its environment Although cars and roads promised freedom they offered drivers a curated view of the landscape that shaped the province's image in the eyes of residents and visitors alike

History Matters Michael Riis-Christianson, 2022-08-19 Located in the geographic centre of British Columbia the Lakes District is a unique region with a fascinating backstory History Matters the first book published by the Lakes District Museum Society in a half century gives readers a glimpse into the lives of some of the heroes villains misfits and everyday people who have in the past called this region home In 2018 the Lakes District Museum Society began posting short stories and photographs about Burns Lake and surrounding communities on its social media page This book is a compilation those posts along with new material and never before seen photographs gleaned from the society's archives Want to know how an employee of the Yukon Telegraph spent his time What was a tie hacker's life like How did an unknown skier from Burns Lake make it to the 1932 Olympic Winter Games and a man many feel was the real life James Bond come to live in Colleymount History Matters answers these and other important questions In addition to touching and sometimes humorous tales of life in the Lakes District readers of this book will encounter thrilling stories of murder adventure international intrigue and even the supernatural This collection is a valuable contribution to the community's history and one that will fascinate anyone interested in the area its past or the European colonization of Western Canada Canadiana, 1989 America in Search of Itself Theodore Harold White, 1982 Describes the forces that have changed American politics in these 25 years and discusses the campaign and election of 1980 Snowshoe Country Thomas M. Wickman, 2018-09-20 Snowshoe Country is an environmental and cultural history of winter in the colonial Northeast closely examining indigenous and settler knowledge of snow ice and life in the cold Indigenous communities in this region were more knowledgeable about the cold than European newcomers from temperate climates and English settlers were especially slow to adapt To keep surviving the winter year after year and decade after decade English colonists relied on Native assistance borrowed indigenous winter knowledge and followed seasonal diplomatic protocols to ensure stable relations with tribal leaders Thomas M Wickman explores how fluctuations in winter weather and the halting exchange of winter knowledge both inhibited and facilitated English colonialism from the 1620s to the early 1700s As their winter survival strategies improved due to skills and technologies appropriated from Natives colonial leaders were able to impose a new political ecology in the greater Northeast projecting year round authority over indigenous lands 'Just Like Us?': The Politics of Ministerial Promotion in UK Government Bill Jones, 2024-07-19 Informed by interviews with key political figures and commentators this entertaining and enlightening book exposes the influences processes and motivations behind ministerial promotion in British government It identifies and analyses the political sinews that have influenced the selection and upward progression of our rulers since the middle of the last century Given that politics is fuelled by ambition it provides commentary on how this often criticised emotional drive can work positively in practice motivating politicians to strive constantly for advancement in their quest for power and achievement Drawing upon many biographies it explains how politics is essentially about the strengths and frailties of the people who occupy positions of power It illustrates that climbing up that greasy pole is dependent upon a number of key character traits of politicians their strength of desire their abilities skills as communicators managers and administrators the ways in which fate throws up opportunities and the raw courage of politicians in confronting these challenges Ultimately the book illuminates the abiding obsessions of that tiny but potent minority in democratic societies who dare to dream they can rule over us This book will be of key interest to scholars students and anyone interested in British political history biography and the politics of executive government University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963 Through 1967: Subjects University of California (System). Institute of Library Research, University of California, Berkeley, 1972 Head On! R. G. Harvey, 2004 In a province where mountain ranges are at odds with road and rail builders and its capital city and a large portion of its population are on an island it s no surprise that provision of an effective transportation system has been a challenging undertaking or that mistakes have been made In many cases BC s political leaders not only didn t solve problems they added to them And many of the mistakes made resulted from premiers exploiting their time in office to further their own political preferences theories and agendas This insider s examination looks at premiers errors and exploitations along with their triumphs and achievements from the first days of the provincial government Whether it be trouble with bridges premiers Prior and Pattullo railways McBride and Bennett or ferries Clark R G Harvey calls it like he sees it Open Your Heart with Winter Fitness Lisa Marie Mercer, 2007 6 Pack The atmosphere is made up of layers of air that surround Earth Temperature air pressure wind and humidity are properties of air Evaporation condensation and precipitation are stages of the water cycle which move water through the atmosphere and back again Climates are long term weather patterns and can change over time Canadian Book Review Annual ,1988

The Snow Adam Roberts, 2018-12-11 The new Adam Roberts novel is a story of global apocalypse old hatreds and new beginnings It is his best novel to date And this is how the world will end The snow started falling on the sixth of September soft noiseless flakes filling the sky like a swarm of white moths or like static interference on your TV screen whichever metaphor nature or technology you find the more evocative Snow everywhere all through the air with that distinctive sense of hurrying that a vigorous snowfall brings with it Everything in a rush busy busy snowflakes And simultaneously paradoxically everything is hushed calm as quiet as cancer as white as death And at the beginning people were happy But the snow doesn t stop It falls and falls and falls Until it lies three miles thick across the whole of the earth Six billion people have died Perhaps 150 000 survive But those 150 000 need help they need support they need organising governing And so the lies begin Lies about how the snow started Lies about who is to blame Lies about who is left Lies about what really lies beneath
