Webber, 2004 Ray Harryhausen's animated creatures sparkled with predatory alertness and subtle quirks of behavior that stamped each with a distinct and memorable personality His use of stop motion animation a method of animating movable models and puppets brought dinosaurs and monsters to life on the silver screen Many animators and special effects wizards like Phil Tippett of Jurassic Park and Jim Aupperle of Planet of the Dinosaurs who are still working on prehistoric based films openly credit Ray Harryhausen as having influenced their careers His films are famous for being among the very best of the genre The first chapter of this book chronicles Harryhausen's formative years and work on numerous 16mm experiments beginning with his viewing of King Kong in 1933 The next four chapters cover his four feature length dinosaur films The Beast from 20,000 Fathoms The Animal World One Million Years B.C. and The Valley of Gwangi These chapters provide extensive information about all aspects of the staging of their stop motion content and many additional facets of the overall production process The paleontological accuracy of his saurians from a modern perspective is also examined A chapter on his work and experiences in the 1970s and beyond discusses potential dinosaur projects as well as The Golden Voyage of Sinbad which is not a saurian film but does include the bat winged homunculus An appendix covers a number of dinosaur related films that Harryhausen had a hand in The Ancient World in the Cinema Jon Solomon, Robert D. Muslim Heroes on Screen Daniel O'Brien, 2021-11-16 If films drawing on Middle East tropes often highlight white Westerners figures such as Sinbad and the Thief of Bagdad embody a counter tradition of protagonists derived from Islamic folklore and history who are portrayed as Other to Western audiences In Muslim Heroes on Screen Daniel O'Brien explores the depiction of these characters in Euro American cinema from the silent era to the present day Far from being mere racial masquerade these screen portrayals are more complex and nuanced than is generally allowed not least in terms of the shifting concepts and assumptions that inform their Muslim identity Using films ranging from Douglas Fairbanks The Thief of Bagdad The 7th Voyage of Sinbad El Cid Kingdom of Heaven and The Message to The Wind and the Lion O'Brien considers how the representational strategies of Western filmmakers may transcend such Muslim stereotypes as fanatic antagonists or passive victims These figures possess a cultural significance which cannot be fully appreciated by Euro American audiences without reference to their distinction as Muslim heroes and the implications and resonances of an Islamicized protagonist

Magic, Monsters, and Make-Believe Heroes Douglas E. Cowan, 2019-02-26 Magic Monsters and Make Believe Heroes looks at fantasy film television and participative culture as evidence of our ongoing need for a mythic vision for stories larger than ourselves into which we write ourselves and through which we can become the heroes of our own story Why do we tell and retell the same stories over and over when we know they can't possibly be true Contrary to popular belief it's not because pop culture has run out of good ideas Rather it is precisely because these stories are so fantastic some resonating so deeply that we elevate them to the status of religion Illuminating everything from Buffy the Vampire Slayer to Dungeons and Dragons and from Drunken Master to Mad Max Douglas E. Cowan offers a modern manifesto for why and how mythology remains a vital force today
