

The image features two dark-skinned hands reaching towards each other, one from the bottom left and one from the top right, set against a dramatic, cloudy sky at sunset or sunrise. The sky is filled with warm, golden-yellow and orange hues. The hands are positioned as if they are about to grasp each other, symbolizing hope, support, or triumph. The overall mood is inspirational and uplifting.

From Tragedy To Triumph:

From Tragedy to Triumph Kaye Fussell Long, 2011-04 Kaye Long's life turned upside down one sunny day in 2002 when her mother just fifty four suffered a massive stroke Within two and a half weeks both her mother and grandmother were dead and Kaye was suddenly the family matriarch Her mother an award winning reading teacher and director of music at their church for thirty years was gone and everyone looked to her oldest daughter for comfort strength and inspiration Kaye was strong and responsible on the outside arranging the funeral details and assuring loved ones that her mother and grandmother were in a better place but on the inside she was falling apart Focused on helping others she repressed her own grief and anxiety Rather than drawing them closer to each other the loss strained the family Why had God laid such a burden on them A lifelong Christian and musician Kaye was even tempted to stop going to her church in hopes of avoiding the pain How could Kaye carry on the legacy of this beloved and successful woman What about her own gifts Where did they fit Supported by scripture and help from authors such as James Dobson and Rick Warren Kaye was able to journey step by step through the tragedy and discern God's plan for her Those who wonder where God is in the wake of loss will find solace and hope in her story From Tragedy to Triumph Carol Johnson, Julia Crowder, 1994 From Tragedy to Triumph : Shanti D. Pless, 2010 From Tragedy to Triumph! Joanne Theresa Martin, 2013-12 I am asking myself how did I handle what God ultimately revealed to me Did I become an enabler and allow my husband to continue Was I a good steward of the truth that God allowed me to discover Did I stand up for what was right Did I protect what God had given to me Did I crumble under what the devil meant for evil What would you have done in such tests We are all accountable to God and no matter how painful it may be we must remain faithful to Him Remain faithful even if it means uncovering your sin so that God can cover you and protect you and free you from it so that you would be able to live and not die In my book I hope to express my deepest feelings and my deepest hurts and my deepest love for Jesus and His redemption His hope for redemption not only for the sinner but for the one sinned against I hope that this book would affect people in a way that they would allow Jesus to cover their sin and be their salvation My cry is no matter how wicked or hopeless you may feel that you may see hope for your future My hope is that there would no longer be desperation in your life but redemption and the hope to live and not die God showed me how to handle a dreadful situation that turned even more dreadful and tragic In this is my triumph I found that no matter what I must hold on to the hope and the calling God had given me and that I must be prepared to give a testimony for the strength that lies within me 1 Peter 3 15 From Tragedy to Triumph Nakia S. Williams, REPLICA BOOKS, 2008-10-08 Nakia S Williams has gone through so much in her early adulthood All the tragedy she has gone through later brought triumph She has earned a license in Medical Transcription and has received a degree in Accounting She has become much closer to God has done speeches at various churches and has appeared nationally on television on The Maury Povich Show This positive lady has begun her career in Data Processing Accounting She likes to live happy and successful so she remembers to keep God first in her life This book is more of like an autobiography on Nakia It states how everything was going swell for Nakia in her early adulthood until one day she had a head on collision on her way home from college She was rescued in a nick of time by an assistant of God seconds before her car blew up in flames She suffered numerous injuries her lips chin were burnt off completely her jaws were broken teeth were knocked out brain bled lungs collapsed left tibia bone was broken and right calcaneus was fractured She continues to stay strong behind this and she refuses to give up Nakia feels as if all the trauma she has gone through is just a challenging test that she plans to pass She hopes that her testimony inspires many individuals who feel as if they are insecure unpretty or just need some type of encouragement She would like you to know that you are only here to please God so never let what another thinks of you get you down or keep you from living contently God s grace has made this woman be the living testimony she is today So she is sharing her true story to the world just as God told her to
