Design Unbound: Designing for Emergence in a White Water World, Volume 2

Ann M. Pendleton-Jullian, John Seely Brown, 2018-12-04 Tools for navigating today's hyper connected rapidly changing and radically contingent white water world Design Unbound presents a new tool set for having agency in the twenty first century in what the authors characterize as a white water world rapidly changing hyperconnected and radically contingent These are the tools of a new kind of practice that is the offspring of complexity science which gives us a new lens through which to view the world as entangled and emerging and architecture which is about designing contexts In such a practice design unbound from its material thingness is set free to design contexts as complex systems In a world where causality is systemic entangled in flux and often elusive we cannot design for absolute outcomes Instead we need to design for emergence Design Unbound not only makes this case through theory but also presents a set of tools to do so With case studies that range from a new kind of university to organizational and even societal transformation Design Unbound draws from a vast array of domains architecture science and technology philosophy cinema music literature and poetry even the military It is presented in five books bound as two volumes Different books within the larger system of books will resonate with different reading audiences from architects to people reconceiving higher education to the public policy or defense and intelligence communities The authors provide different entry points allowing readers to navigate their own pathways through the system of books

A World of Water P. Boomgaard, 2007-01-01 Water in its many guises has always played a powerful role in shaping Southeast Asian histories cultures societies and economies This volume the rewritten results of an international workshop with participants from eight countries contains thirteen essays representing a broad range of approaches to the study of Southeast Asia with water as the central theme As it was exposed to the sea the region was more accessible to outside political economic and cultural influences than many landlocked areas Easy access through sea routes also stimulated trade from an early age However the same easy access made Southeast Asia vulnerable to political control by strong outsiders The sea is moreover a source of food but also of many hazards At the same time Southeast Asian societies and cultures are confronted with and permeated by water from heaven in the form of rain flash floods irrigation water water in rivers brooks and swaps water driven power plants and pumped or piped water in addition to water as a carrier of sewage and pollution

Finally the volume deals with the role of water in classification systems beliefs myths illness and healing World Water Actions Francois Guerquin, 2010-09-23 This text is divided into three parts Part I focuses on the need for management to assess the challenges of water scarcity and plan changes based on proper valuation and financial instruments international co operation and efficient use Part II analyses the problems of water scarcity and the available solutions in each main sector water supply and sanitation energy health agriculture ecosystems and biodiversity Part III assesses the state of the debate following the third World Water Forum and sets out the priorities for action including increased investment institutional reform and capacity building in the water sector Downloadable resources with extensive case studies and statistical data accompanies this text Ways of Worldmaking Nelson Goodman, 1978-01-01 Provides a workable notion of the kinds of skills and capacities that are central for those who work in the arts Food Cultures of the World Encyclopedia Ken Albala, 2011-05-25 This comprehensive reference work introduces food culture from more than 150 countries and cultures around the world including some from remote and unexpected peoples and places From babka to baklava to the groundnut stew of Ghana food culture can tell us where we've been and maybe even where we're going Filled with succinct yet highly informative entries the four volume Food Cultures of the World Encyclopedia covers all of the planet's nation states as well as various tribes and marginalized peoples Thus in addition to coverage on countries as disparate as France Ethiopia and Tibet there are also entries on Roma Gypsies the Maori of New Zealand and the Saami of northern Europe There is even a section on food in outer space detailing how and what astronauts eat and how they prepare for space travel as far as diet and nutrition are concerned Each entry offers information about foodstuffs meals cooking methods recipes eating out holidays and celebrations and health and diet Vignettes help readers better understand other cultures while the inclusion of selected recipes lets them recreate dishes from other lands World Making Samuel Phelps Leland, 1901 World-Making Stories M. Milne,2015-09-22 A new intellectual history of U S foreign policy from the late nineteenth century to the present

Worldmaking is a compelling new take on the history of American diplomacy Rather than retelling the story of realism versus idealism David Milne suggests that U S foreign policy has also been crucially divided between those who view statecraft as an art and those who believe it can aspire to the certainty of science Worldmaking follows a cast of characters who built on one another s ideas to create the policies we have today Woodrow Wilson s Universalism and moralism led Sigmund Freud to diagnose him with a messiah complex Walter Lippmann was a syndicated columnist who commanded the attention of leaders as diverse as Theodore Roosevelt Lyndon Johnson and Charles de Gaulle Paul Wolfowitz was the intellectual architect of the 2003 invasion of Iraq and an admirer of Wilson s attempt to make the world safe for democracy Each was engaged in a process of worldmaking formulating strategies that sought to deploy the nation s vast military and economic power or sought to retrench and focus on domestic issues to shape a world in which the United States would be best positioned to thrive Tracing American statecraft from the age of steam engines to the age of drones Milne reveals patterns of worldmaking that have remained impervious to the passage of time The result is a panoramic history of U S foreign policy driven by ideas and by the lives and times of their authors Familiar Talks on Science: World-Building and Life; Earth, Air and Water.
