From Symbolism to Structuralism, Lévi-Strauss in a Literary Tradition James A. Boon, 1972 From Symbolism to Structuralism James A. Boon, 1973 From symbolism to structuralism James A. Boon, 1972 From Symbolism to Structuralism, Levi-Strauss in Literary Tradition [By] James A. Boon James A. Boon, 1972 Claude Lévi-Strauss and the Making of Structural Anthropology Marcel Hénaff, 1998 As anthropology continues to transform itself this book affords a broad and balanced account of the remarkable accomplishments of one of the great intellectual innovators of the 20th century It presents an authoritative and accessible analysis of Claude Levi Strauss s research in anthropological theory and practice as well as his contributions to debates surrounding linguistics epistemology ethics and aesthetics Readings for A History of Anthropological Theory Paul A. Erickson, Liam Donat Murphy, 2010-01-01 This comprehensive anthology presents 40 readings that are critical to an understanding of anthropological theory and the development of anthropology as an academic discipline The readings have broad anthropological appeal emphasizing social and cultural anthropology The third edition has been completely revised throughout and organized to work more closely alongside the companion overview text A History of Anthropological Theory It includes six new readings as well as two original essays written by contemporary anthropologists on Why Theory Matters These new essays help ground the more abstract readings in the collection The glossary has been significantly expanded and the discussion questions have been revised The result is a volume that offers not only a strong foundation in the history of the discipline but also a good overview of developments in twentieth and twenty first century anthropological theory including feminist anthropology postmodernity medical anthropology globalization postcolonialism and public anthropology Claude Levi-Strauss Edmund Leach, 1989-10-15 In this lucide guide to the often abstruse works of Claude L vi Strauss Edmund Leach synthesizes the thought of one of the twentieth century s greatest anthropologists and provides a thoughtful introduction to the theory and practice of structuralism Leach organizes his work not by chronology but by theme exploring three important topics in L vi Strauss s work human beings and their symbols the structure of myth and kinship theory Written concisely and with great care and penetration this brief book is both a fine introduction for the uninitiated reader of L vi Strauss and a critical analysis that will prove valuable to those more familiar with the anthropologist s work Modernist Anthropology Marc Manganaro, 2014-07-14 Recent insights into the nature of representation and power relations have signaled an important shift in perspective on anthropology from a fieldwork based science of culture to an interpretive activity bound to the discursive and ideological process called text making This collection of essays reflects the ongoing cross fertilization between literary criticism and anthropology Focusing on texts written or influenced by anthropologists between 1900 and 1945 the work relates current perspectives on anthropology s discursive nature to the literary period known as Modernism The essays each demonstrating anthropology s profound influence on this important cultural movement are organized according to discourse type from the comparativist text of

Frazer to the ethnographies of Boas Benedict Mead and Hurston and on to the surrealist experiments of the College de Sociologie Meanwhile the book's orientation shifts from essays that approach anthropology from the vantage points of literariness and textual power to those that contemplate what bearing the junction of cultural theory and anthropology can have upon present and future social institutions In addition to the editor contributors include Vincent Crapanzano Deborah Gordon Richard Handler Arnold Krupat Francesco Loriggio Michele Richman Marty Roth Marilyn Strathern Robert Sullivan John B Vickery and Steven Webster Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Other Tribes, Other Scribes James A. Boon, 1982 In this book James A Boon investigates the history dialectics and practice of the symbolic analysis of cultural diversity His aim is to formulate a general comparative approach to the study of symbolic processes integrating the major different theories about symbolic forms that have been developed by other writers

Claude Levi-Strauss David Pace, 2015-07-03 L vi Strauss is one of the intellectual giants of the twentieth century yet he is a very private and isolated figure who has been reticent about himself This book first published in 1983 provides a fascinating insight into his character through a careful reading of the more speculative passages of his books and interviews His personal existential and psychological orientation is explored through a structural analysis of Tristes Tropiques his most personal book and his writings on art nature and civilization and through a consideration of his debt to Rousseau Dr Pace examines in depth L vi Strauss's critique of cultural evolutionism and his attack on the notion of world history He assesses the political implications of L vi Strauss's own interpretation of human progress through an examination of his debates with Sartre and other Marxists in the 1950s and 1960s and his subsequent movement to the right The author's concern throughout is to place the world view of this great French anthropologist in the context of twentieth century intellectuals struggle to come to grips with cultural relativism and the problem of the primitive The Anthropological Romance of Bali

1597-1972 James A. Boon, 1977-11-30 Professor Boon places our current understanding of Bali within the context of historical views of Balinese life and religion beginning with the initial Dutch contacts after 1597 Based on field work in Indonesia as well as historical research this book is the first thorough study of Balinese social and cultural dynamics The Legitimacy of Poetic Reason

O. Bradley Bassler, 2022-09-26 Many philosophical accounts of reason are geared toward providing rational justifications ex post facto rather than accounting for the role reason plays in actu in the process of creative work Moreover when in actu accounts of reason are given they are usually too narrow to describe the sort of high level creative work that is involved in the composition of poetry or the creation of a scientific theory This book suggests that the rudiments of a broader account are found in various German Idealist figures most notably the philosopher novelist critic Friedrich Schlegel and the philosophical poet and novelist Friedrich Hölderlin However German Idealism generally is subject to Hans Blumenberg's secularization critique which provides a strong prima facie argument that the accounts of poetic reason suggested by Schlegel and Hölderlin are indefensible This book argues that confronting Blumenberg's secularization critique and his associated legitimation of modernity with a romantic conception of poetic reason requires revisions on both sides and that the work of Lacan is especially well suited to provide the conditions upon which a legitimation of poetic reason can be provided

A History of Anthropological Theory, Fifth Edition Paul A. Erickson, Liam D. Murphy, 2017-01-01 An accessible and engaging overview of anthropological theory that provides a comprehensive history from antiquity through to the twenty first century The fifth edition has been revised throughout with substantial updates to the Feminism and Anthropology section including more on Gender and Sexuality and with a new section on Anthropologies of the Digital Age Once again A History of Anthropological Theory will be published simultaneously with the accompanying reader mirroring these changes in the selection of readings so they can easily be used together in the classroom Additional biographical information about some of theorists has been added to help students

Creating Communities Nourit Melcer-Padon, 2018-05-15 How does historical reality interrelate with fiction And how much are readers themselves involved in the workings of fictional literature With innovative interpretations of various well known texts Nourit Melcer Padon introduces the use of literary masks and illustrates literature's engagement of its readers ethical judgement She promotes a new perception of literary theory and of connections between thinkers such as Walter Iser, Castoriadis, Sartre, Jung and Neumann The book offers a unique view on the role of the community in post existentialist modern cultural reality by emphasizing the importance of ritual practices in literature as a cultural manifestation

A History of Anthropological Theory Paul A. Erickson, Liam Donat Murphy, 2013-01-01 In the latest edition of their popular overview text Erickson and Murphy continue to provide a comprehensive affordable and accessible introduction to anthropological theory from antiquity to the present A new section on twenty first century anthropological theory has been added with more coverage given to postcolonialism non Western anthropology and public anthropology The book has also been redesigned to be more visually and pedagogically engaging Used on its own or paired with the companion volume Readings for a History of Anthropological Theory Fourth Edition this reader offers a flexible and highly useful resource for the undergraduate anthropology classroom For additional resources visit the Teaching Theory page at www.utpteachingculture.com

The Spell of Language Thomas G. Pavel, 2001-12 The spell of language for Pavel consists of three things the promise that linguistics seemed to represent for the humanities and social sciences the distortions misunderstandings and willful neglect incumbent upon the linguistic turn and above all the break with traditional humanism

Beyond Aesthetics Christopher Pinney, Nicholas Thomas, 2020-05-25 The anthropology of art is currently at a crossroads Although well versed in the meaning of art in small scale tribal societies anthropologists are still wrestling with the question of how to interpret art in a complex post colonial environment Alfred Gell recently confronted this problem in his posthumous book Art and Agency The central thesis of his study was that art objects could be seen not as bearers of meaning or aesthetic value but as forms mediating social action At a stroke Gell provocatively dismissed many longstanding but tired questions of definition and issues of aesthetic value His book proposed a novel perspective on the roles of art in political practice and made fresh links between analyses of style tradition and society Offering a new overview of the anthropology of art this book begins where Gell left off Presenting wide ranging critiques of the limits of aesthetic interpretation the workings of objects in practice the relations between meaning and efficacy and the politics of postcolonial art its distinguished contributors both elaborate on and dissent from the controversies of Gell's important text Subjects covered include music and the internet as well as ethnographic traditions and contemporary indigenous art Geographically its case studies range from India to Oceania to North America and Europe

Culture/Contexture E. Valentine Daniel, Jeffrey M. Peck, 2023-11-15 The rapprochement of anthropology and literary studies begun nearly fifteen years ago by such pioneering scholars as Clifford Geertz Edward Said and James Clifford has led not only to the creation of the new scholarly domain of cultural studies but to the deepening and widening of both original fields Literary critics have learned to anthropologize their studies to ask questions about the construction of meanings under historical conditions and reflect on cultural situatedness Anthropologists have discovered narratives other than the master narratives of disciplinary social science that need to be drawn on to compose ethnographies Culture Contexture brings together for the first time literature and anthropology scholars to reflect on the antidisciplinary urge that has made the creative borrowing between their two fields both possible and necessary Critically expanding on such pathbreaking works as James Clifford and George Marcus's Writing Culture and Marcus and Michael M J Fischer's Anthropology as Cultural Critique contributors explore the fascination that draws the disciplines together and the fears that keep them apart Their topics demonstrate the rich intersection of anthropology and literary studies ranging from reading and race to writing and representation incest and violence and travel and time This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1996
